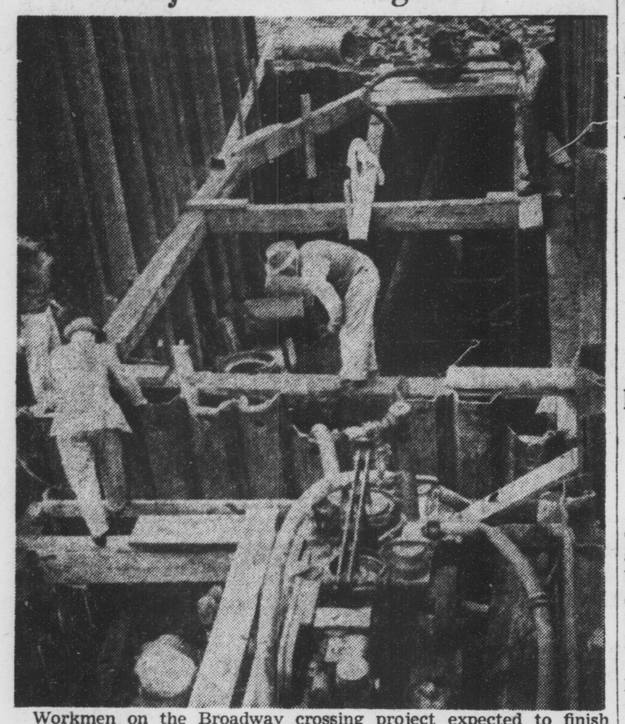
Project Work Progresses



Workmen on the Broadway crossing project expected to finish pouring the four-foot center strip of concrete on the west side of the railroad bridge today. Meanwhile, work is progressing on the final details of connecting sewer lines along low points of the underpass (above). If cold weather prevails, the concrete poured today may be the last of the season, but the contractor expects to fill the gap between the east and west concrete sections with gravel and open up the underpass for winter travel, if it is necessary to quit laying concrete. Chinese Red Onslaught Is Smashed

Allied Jets Find Eight Enemy Planes, None Venture South of Yalu River

Can't Oust Unit

British Troops Retain Hill Position East of Pukhan River

Seoul, Korea, Nov. 19 (AP) — Chinese Reds furiously counter-attacked in Central Korea today but couldn't budge a dug-in Allied division which had smashed them back three miles in a two-day line-straightening offensive.

British forces beat off a 12-hour Communist attack on the western end of the battle line.

In the east, U.N. command troops were knocked off two hills, but recaptured one a few hours later.

Allied jet fighters sweeping over North Korea Monday spotted only eight Communist MIG jets but none of the eight ventured south of the Yalu river, boundary of their Manchurian sanctuary.

A pair of daring American Sabre jet pilots Sunday shot up eight Red MIG-15 jets on the ground at an air base in northwestern Korea — the first time enemy jets have been caught on the ground. Seven other MIGs were reported hit in three air battles.

Hit Three Times

The Allied division which shoved the Communists off a series of ridges southeast of Kumsong on the central front was hit three times Sunday night and Monday morning by counter-attacking Reds.

A Chinese battalion tried for three hours to dent the allied line but the attackers were thrown back and finally quit the battle shortly before dawn, the Eighth Army said. Two other counter-attacks also failed to dislodge the doughboys, the army added.

Allied infantrymen pushed the Reds off still another hill on the nine-mile divisional front east of the Pukhan river.

In the west, the Chinese threw self-propelled guns and foot soldiers into the 12-hour fight to dislodge the King's Shropshire Light Infantry of the British First Commonwealth Division from a strategic hill west of Yonchon Sunday night. At dawn the Britons still were atop the hill and the Reds pulled back.

Hill Is Recaptured

The British recaptured the hill Sunday after being knocked off by a Chinese attack Saturday.

UN command troops were shoved off two hill positions south of Kosong in Eastern Korea Sunday night, but counterattacked Monday morning and recaptured one of the peaks.

Sunday's bold Sabre Jet strike was aimed at the Red Air base at Uiju, just south of the Yalu river border with Manchuria.

The U. S. Fifth Air Force said four MIGs definitely were destroyed and three were damaged.

Maj. William Waltman of Grand Rapids, Mich., Fifth Air Force spokesman, said the MIGs were caught completely by surprise and not a shot was fired at the Sabre jets.

Fire Delays Trains

New York, Nov. 19 (AP)—Fire broke out in a Long Island Railroad mail and baggage car at Pennsylvania station today, delaying a half a dozen LIRR trains. A quantity of mail was damaged by smoke and water. Firemen extinguished the fire after the car had been detached from the train and removed to the LIRR's 10th avenue yards. The car was part of the 5:15 a. m. train for Babylon. Its departure was delayed 41 minutes. Five or six other trains were held up for shorter periods. Police said the car contained 149 sacks of mail and 294 parcels.

Hirohito Signs Peace Treaty and Security

Tokyo, Nov. 19 (AP)—Emperor Hirohito today signed the Japanese Peace Treaty and the U. S.-Japan Security Pact.

His signature, at Nara where he is on tour, completed Japanese action on the documents. The Diet gave its approval yesterday.

The United States Senate was expected to do likewise early next year. The pacts were agreed upon in September at San Francisco.

The Emperor's signature was affixed just 18 days short of the 10th anniversary of Japan's attack on Pearl Harbor.

Dean Rusk, U. S. assistant secretary of state, is on his way to Japan to review with U. S. military authorities plans for military bases to be retained in this country.

Yesterday, Japan's House of Councillors (Senate) voted 174 to 45 in favor of the peace treaty, 147 to 76 for the security pact. The House of Representatives voted overwhelming approval Oct. 26.

Moscow Acts Upon Restiveness Seen In Big Republic

Kosygin's Presence Noted in Uzbekistan for Red Birthday Celebration

(By The Associated Press)

Moscow has sent a member of the Politburo into Uzbekistan, one of the largest of the 16 Soviet republics, possibly as a trouble shooter to take measures against restive peasants.

A. N. Kosygin was missing from the array of Soviet leaders on Lenin's tomb for the Russian revolution anniversary, Nov. 7, but Pravda of Nov. 9 carries a dispatch from Uzbekistan telling of ceremonies there marking the anniversary. The place of honor went to Kosygin.

Uzbekistan is in central Asia, bordered on the north by Kazakhstan, also reported to be the scene of peasant resistance to the Soviet regime; on the east by the Kirghiz and Tadjik republics and on the south by Afghanistan. It includes much of the fabulous Samarkand area, where Tamerlane once had the center of his empire. Its people are Moslems.

Is Important Area

Uzbekistan is an important agricultural area, producing cotton, flax and other products for the Soviet economy. Kosygin, youngest and least known of the Politburo members, is a textile expert and a former commissar of textiles who once whipped a lagging industry into greater production and standardized the textile production of the Soviet Union. A protege of powerful Georgi Malenkov, he became a member of the Politburo in 1948, when he was minister of finance.

The news of Kosygin's whereabouts coincides with an attack in Pravda on "bourgeois nationalism" in Uzbekistan. The Pravda piece ostensibly attacked "errors of a nationalist character" in the work of Uzbek poets and writers, but these attacks in the past in other areas have been indications of a worrisome amount of national feeling in the republic concerned.

Doctor Testifies Kelly Was Sober Day of Mrs. McHugh's Killing

Hazenbush Says Test at Hospital Was Negative — Tells of Nervousness

Edward H. Kelly was "entirely sober" the day he shot Mrs. Eloise McHugh, according to testimony this morning by the doctor who treated Kelly for a self-inflicted wound on that day.

Dr. Arthur W. Hazenbush of this city, called by the defense in the Kelly murder trial, said in County Court this morning that he was on surgical service at Kingston Hospital on May 22, 1950, when Kelly was brought to the emergency room about 9:45 a. m.

Kelly suffered a gunshot wound in the head, Dr. Hazenbush said. Asked by Defense Attorney Howard C. St. John whether any alcohol tests had been made, the doctor replied a sample of blood was taken and resulted in a negative report, meaning there was no presence of alcohol.

'Entirely Sober'

Asked whether that means, in the words of the layman, that the patient was sober, Dr. Hazenbush replied, "entirely sober."

Dr. Hazenbush also testified that he treated Kelly on August 26, 1949, the night he was admitted to Hackett's Sanitarium. That night, the doctor said, Kelly appeared "very tired, nervous, irritable, unkempt and unshaven."

The following day, according to the testimony, Kelly told Dr. Hazenbush "about a love affair." He said he was going with a woman for several years, but several months prior to his admission to the sanitarium they had quarreled. Kelly told the doctor that they had planned to marry, "but

Answer Promised By Reds on Allied Armistice Offer

Plan Would Establish Line 25 Miles North of 38th Parallel in Korea

Munsan, Korea, Nov. 19 (AP)—Red cease-fire delegates today promised to give their overall reply Wednesday to an allied proposal for an armistice in 30 days in Korea.

At the close of an hour and 15-minute session at Panmunjom, they asked and got a recess through Tuesday. They wanted to study a plan keyed to a truce line which courses up to more than 25 miles north of Parallel 38.

The Reds apparently want to refer the matter to Peiping—where Red China's Foreign Minister Chou En-lai today issued a statement backing up a Russian proposal that Parallel 38 be the line of demarcation for divided Korea.

Chinese Red Gen. Hsieh Fang of the Communist delegation said the Reds, after studying the plan, would come back Wednesday with the overall reply. The hour of the next meeting will be 11 a. m. (9 p. m. Tuesday, E.S.T.).

Allied Proposal

The allies have proposed that the present line of battle contact across Korea be accepted as a temporary demarcation line now and that such a line become the permanent cease-fire line if a full armistice is signed within 30 days.

If all armistice problems are net settled in 30 days, the UN plan calls for a new demarcation line to be fixed, based on "such conditions as will be at the time mutually agreed to by the delegations of both sides." Continued fighting might have changed it by then. Point one of the allied proposal states that fighting will go on until an armistice is signed.

It was the fourth and last point in the UN plan which took up most of the time at Monday's session in Panmunjom. The meeting was the 26th of the joint subcommittees since the armistice talks resumed Oct. 25.

Results in Settlement

Once before in the long drawn out talks, a Communist recess resulted in settlement of a deadlock. Last July the Reds asked for and got a three-day recess. Immediately afterward, the two delegations agreed on an armistice agenda.

Maj. Gen. Henry I. Hodes, senior member of the UN subcommittee, explained again to the Reds Monday that a new provisional demarcation line must be determined at the end of a 30-day period if a full armistice has not been reached at that time.

He said point four meant that new and unforseeable conditions may have arisen in the meantime which would govern the negotiations. The 30-day period under the plan would begin at the time the full delegations ratified the proposal.

Judge Denounces Sports Practices In U. S. Colleges

Gamblers' Influence Seen Near Explosion Point by Streit — 14 Sentenced

New York, Nov. 19 (AP) — A judge today scathingly denounced college sports practices, and said the growing influence of gamblers may "explode into an atomic scandal."

General Sessions Judge Saul S. Streit, in a blistering statement before sentencing 14 basketball players for conspiring to fix games, called for reform in college sports.

He accused colleges in general of engaging in big-business and professionalism in their sports programs, with recruiting systems whereby "athletes are bought and paid for."

He said that athletic coaches were part of the under-the-counter practices, and said college presidents and faculties must assume "direct control" of sports to eliminate "all outside influences."

The "shocking situation," he said, exists throughout the country.

'Scholastic Duplicity'

Colleges engage in scholastic duplicity to keep star athletes in school, the judge said, and many accept athletes whose academic standings normally would ban them from admission.

He said overemphasis on sports and the practices used to build winning teams is part of a profitable, big-business enterprise, and warps educational goals.

He blasted athletic recruiting systems, the subsidizing of athletes, and said gambling in collegiate sports was known to coaching staffs.

"The naivete, the equivocation and the denials of the coaches and their assistants concerning their knowledge of gambling, recruiting and subsidizing would be comical were they not so despicable," he said.

Courtroom Is Packed

The judge's heated, 41-page blast was made before a packed courtroom, where the 14 players and game fixmaster Salvatore T. Sollazzo were to be sentenced for bribery and conspiracy.

The judge said the gambling manipulations does not stop at basketball, but that "football first became infected with this contageious disease and then transmitted it to basketball."

"It seems to follow a nationwide pattern," he said.

So far this year, 31 cage players in seven colleges have been involved in the basketball scandal.

"Even a cursory examination of recent surveys, spot checks and reports concerning intercollegiate football reveals a chronic, insidious condition which, if not checked, must explode into an atomic athletic scandal which will dwarf the charges before me into insignificance," the judge said.

Declaring that the colleges should "cleanse their own houses," the judge said:

"The time is not far distant when the Congress and the state legislatures will take notice of their big business and their culpability."

Vishinsky Listens to Plan in Paris

Avoids Mention

No Direct Reference Is Made to Russia in Speech

Paris, Nov. 19 (AP)—U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson introduced the west's disarmament plan today and fervently appealed for its acceptance to "open a broad highway along which we can all march together."

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky listened impassively as Acheson urged all countries not "to turn aside into the noisesome alleys of propaganda."

Acheson was asking the UN, in its 60-nation political committee, to adopt a program which would set up a 12-nation disarmament commission to start the ball rolling in a step-by-step supervised arms reduction as proposed by the U. S., France and Britain.

Acheson chose to present the plan to the committee personally. It was his first appearance in person before a UN committee to introduce and explain a resolution on any subject.

The commission, made up of the members of the UN Security Council plus Canada, would lay the groundwork for a world arms reduction conference to which such non-UN nations as Red China would be invited.

Strict Controls

The resolution which Acheson introduced for the western Big Three calls for strictly controlled, gradual disarmament and a census of all weapons, including atomic.

The permanent members of the Security Council, Britain, Nationalist China, France, Russia and the U. S., would have to agree on such a commission's decisions, since each of the five would have veto power in the council. The commission would draw up for the world conference treaties of "regulation, limitation and balanced reduction of all armed forces and all armaments.

"We can seize this great opportunity for peace," Acheson said in a conciliatory speech which was greeted with great applause from the committee, "or we can fritter it away."

The secretary of state made no direct mention of the Soviet Union, whose acceptance would be necessary to start the plan rolling.

"There is no magic" in the west's proposals, Acheson said, but he insisted the plan could be a turning point in world history. He told the delegates they were dealing with the "most important problem any group of statesmen have ever dealt with—the question of national survival."

Has Bitter Tilt

In the second political committee, meanwhile, Soviet Delegateg Jacob A. Malik tilted bitterly with Selim Sarper of Turkey. Political Committee No. 2 helps the first committee handle the heavy load of political problems before the General Assembly.

Sarper was elected by acclamation chairman of Political Committee No. 2, and Sven Grafstrom of Sweden defeated Ukrainian Delegate L. T. Palamartchouk for vice chairman. The clash between Sarper and Malik on this contest looked like the prelude to a long series of east-west wrangles in the committee.

The first political committee abandoned its plans for an afternoon session so that its members could have time to study Acheson's speech before going on with the debate on the west's arms proposals.

Russia on Friday proposed that a similar 12-nation commission start work at once on the inspection and control of all weapons. It called for the commission to report to the Security Council by Feb. 1, 1952—presumably within the life of the current assembly.

The western plan set no date for the calling of the disarmament conference, leaving that to the preparatory commission. Russia previously had proposed such a conference be held before June 1, 1952.

Hyde Park Pastor Has Happy Task, Spending Million

Hyde Park, N. Y., Nov. 19 (AP) —St. James Protestant Episcopal Church here has a problem—how to spend roughly $1,000,000 while normally operating on a $10,000 annual budget.

The church was willed two of 140 shares of the residuary estate of the late Mrs. H. Sylvia A. H. G. Wilks, daughter of fabulous financier-recluse Hetty Green. Executors have estimated each share will be worth $500,000.

The late President Franklin D. Roosevelt was a senior warden at the church.

Since the Wilks will was filed last February, the parish was kept up in the air because a cousin of Mrs. Wilks contested the will. A settlement last week gave the cousin $140,000 instead of the original $5,000 bequest, but left St. James shares undisturbed.

A "hundred and one" suggestions have been made on spending the money, the Rev. Gordon L. Kidd, rector of the 107-year-old church, and a graduate of St. Stephen's College (now Bard) at nearby Annandale, said yesterday. Proposals included the building of a new rectory and the setting up of a new parish community house.

But Mrs. Kidd said she worries for fear the money "might give members the idea they don't have to work for the church."

200,000 Lose Homes In Italian Delta

Section of Bianco Canal Collapses; Menaces Verona, Mantova

Rovigo, Italy, Nov. 19 (AP)—The home of Romeo and Juliet—Verona—and Mantova today fell under the menace of Italy's rampaging flood with the collapse of a quarter-mile section of the northern bank of Bianco (White) Canal.

The break, which has doubled in size since yesterday, was only one more new calamity in the desolated Po delta, where nearly 200,000 persons have been made homeless.

A fierce storm-driven rain in some parts of the vast area added to sufferings of thousands of isolated hungry, threatened persons. It also added to the floods, which in the past 10 days have brought death to more than 100 north Italians.

Rovigo, the provincial capital, was a deserted city.

A fleet of small boats was rushed to Adria, where 20,000 of the 35,000 population were marooned after ignoring earlier warnings. During the weekend the waters covered the city and today rose in many places to second-story level.

The canal break was 40 miles from Verona, a city of 170,000, made famous by Shakespeare's story. An official told reporters the collapse of the canal bank was a "major threat which directly menaces even Verona and Mantova."

Ruin Is Spread

The flood waters spread muddy ruin over a delta triangle 36 miles deep and 18 miles wide at its Adriatic Sea base.

Submerged in the triangle were Adria, Cavarzere, a city of 25,000 residents; Loreo, with 11,000, and Donada, 8,700, plus scores of villages, hamlets and farms.

After a full day of isolation those still in Adria, got some supplies from an amphibious plane.

From Rose a U. S. SA-16 amphibious plane took off with rations for the stricken area. It was piloted by Maj. Robert M. Ferguson of Sturgeon Bay, Wis.

Officials said more planes would take off for the flood area as soon as the weather cleared.

Would Grant Motion

New York, Nov. 19 (AP)—Federal Judge Harold R. Medina today announced he would grant a government motion to dismiss a civil anti-trust suit against the Investment Bankers Association. The prosecution motion was made at the opening of today's trial of the suit against the association and 17 investment banking firms. The government charges a conspiracy to monopolize the securities business.

May Get Cards Early

Washington, Nov. 19 (AP)—The Post Office Department said today it hopes to have the new two-cent postal card available for sale in all post offices throughout the nation by Dec. 1. Actually, the two-cent post card rate is not effective until Jan. 1, and the old penny post card will continue to be sold up to that date. It will be good for mailing any time prior to midnight of Dec. 31.

Kingston Trust Branch Has $510,000; Big Gain by Bank in Rondout

Subscribers to the Christmas Club plan saved $1,168,000 in five local banks during the year.

This is about $90,000 more than last year's total and many of the checks have been mailed out to benefit those who do their Christmas shopping early, it was learned today.

The mid-town branch of the Kingston Trust Company reported $510,000 and the uptown bank $115,000 deposited in club accounts. Its total in 1950 was approximately $550,000 in the two banks.

Each bank gave approximate, round-number totals and the greatest gain for the year was reported by the Rondout National Bank. Its total was $263,000, which was about $65,000 more than a year ago.

The State of New York National Bank reported a total of $225,000 which was about $4,000 more than last year.

The National Ulster County Bank of Kingston reported $130,000 a gain of about $20,000 over 1950, and the Rondout Savings Bank total was $25,000 as against $21,000 a year ago.

Kitten Gives Alarm And Reduces Loss

The persistent face washing by a six weeks old kitten was credited with reducing the loss incurred by a fire which began sometime before 7 o'clock this morning in the recently purchased home of Risto Randala on the Esopus road, Ulster Park.

Randala, who was alone in the house, said that had it not been for the kitten's efforts to awaken him, the conflagration might have been difficult to control. The entire house was filled with smoke when the owner woke up.

Within 10 minutes from the time the Esopus Volunteer Fire Department was notified by George Villielm, a nearby neighbor, the volunteers were on the scene working diligently and had the fire under control by the time the St. Remy volunteers arrived. St. Remy had been notified by an-

Icy Air, Snow Numb Most Of Nation During Weekend

(By The Associated Press)

Icy air gave most of the nation a numbing chill over the weekend, and some eastern states had heavy snowfalls to go along with the freezing weather.

Snow fell for 24 hours without a letup in some sections of Pennsylvania, dumping 18 inches at Kane, in the northwestern region. Heavy snow also smacked parts of Ohio, West Virginia and Maryland, with 15 inches reported near Cleveland.

Cold, numbing weather extended over a vast area. Florida, in the path of biting northwest winds, reported the coldest weather of the season today. Truck crops as far south as the Everglades were threatened. A low of 24 degrees was forecast for the Gainsville district and the Federal-State Frost Warning Service said conditions for citrus in low ground spots would be "on the ragged edge." The temperature at Miami was expected to go down to 38 to 40 degrees.

Threat of frost forced some California citrus growers to break out smudge pots. Temperatures hovered near the 32 mark yesterday in Southern California.

The icy air responsible for the big chill flowed into the states from Canada. It continued to move eastward from the Mississippi valley today with little likelihood that temperatures would warm up soon.

A southern flow of warm air promised respite for inland Texas points as well as Kansas, Missouri

Thanks Contributors To Benedictine Fund

Sister M. Berenice expresses appreciation for the response to the recent building fund drive of the Benedictine Hospital in the following communication to The Freeman:

Editor, The Freeman:

Nothing would please me more than to thank everyone personally who contributed so generously in our recent Benedictine Hospital Building Fund Program. Since that is impossible, I would like to take this means, space in your valuable newspaper, to express my heartfelt appreciation to those good citizens of Kingston and Ulster county who have shared their worldly goods with us in our time of need. The response of these citizens will make easier the task of the Benedictine Sisters in caring for the sick and suffering.

Again I say thanks to everyone.

Gratefully and sincerely
SISTER M. BERENICE,
Administrator
Benedictine Hospital.

Identity Is Sought

New Boston, N. H., Nov. 19 (AP) —Police today sought to identify a young woman whose body was found yesterday stuffed in the second-floor closet of a burning unused house on the Grenier Air Force Base bombing range. County Solicitor Conrad Danais said "it looks like murder." State police added the abandoned house was evidently set afire to cover up a crime.

Premiums Are Paid

A total of $7,094.50 in premium money was distributed last week to about 420 exhibitors in this year's Ulster County Fair, it was announced by C. C. DuMond, Jr., president of the Ulster County Agricultural Society. The amount compares with $6,842 distributed last year and $6,877 in 1949.

Dinner Is Announced

New York, Nov. 19 (AP)—A $100-a-plate GOP fund-raising dinner, with Gov. Thomas E. Dewey as official host, is planned by the United Republican Finance Committee of Greater New York for Dec. 3 at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel. The committee, which announced the dinner last night, said speakers would be Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll of New Jersey and Gov. John Davis Lodge of Connecticut.

Dewey Strategists May Find Taft Sentiment Is Growing

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 19 (AP)—Grass-root Republican sentiment for Senator Taft may keep Governor Dewey's strategists from wrapping up all 96 New York delegates for delivery to General Eisenhower at the GOP convention in July.

This view is expressed by party sources in both pro-Dewey and anti-Dewey camps. They do not agree, however, on the strength of the Taft sentiment nor its possible effect on the GOP delegation from influential New York state, whose Republican organization Dewey has headed for more than a decade.

The estimates of party bigwigs as to sentiment for Taft in their domains ranges from "none to speak of" to "quite a bit" to "tremendous."

One GOP campaign expert, with a sensitive ear for political whispers, judged that 15 to 20 New York delegates would be for Taft from the start of the Chicago presidential convention.

An admitted pro-Taft Republican said, "if he (Taft) has 10, he will have 30."

Then there are those who are stringing along with Dewey in support of Eisenhower, but name Taft as their "second" choice.

Among these is Congressman W. Sterling Cole of Bath. He said this weekend he was backing Eisenhower, but Taft was his second choice.

Dewey declared for Eisenhower on Oct. 15, 1950. His Aides say the governor now has no second choice. They imply that under no condition would it be Taft.

Dewey, it is said, considers Taft an isolationist and believes the

British Troops Retain Hill Position East of Pukhan River

Seoul, Korea, Nov. 19 (AP) — Chinese Reds furiously counter-attacked in Central Korea today but couldn't budge a dug-in Allied division which had smashed them back three miles in a two-day line-straightening offensive.

British forces beat off a 12-hour Communist attack on the western end of the battle line.

In the east, U.N. command troops were knocked off two hills, but recaptured one a few hours later.

Allied jet fighters sweeping over North Korea Monday spotted only eight Communist MIG jets but none of the eight ventured south of the Yalu river, boundary of their Manchurian sanctuary.

A pair of daring American Sabre jet pilots Sunday shot up eight Red MIG-15 jets on the ground at an air base in northwestern Korea — the first time enemy jets have been caught on the ground. Seven other MIGs were reported hit in three air battles.

Hit Three Times

The Allied division which shoved the Communists off a series of ridges southeast of Kumsong on the central front was hit three times Sunday night and Monday morning by counter-attacking Reds.

A Chinese battalion tried for three hours to dent the allied line but the attackers were thrown back and finally quit the battle shortly before dawn, the Eighth Army said. Two other counter-attacks also failed to dislodge the doughboys, the army added.

Allied infantrymen pushed the Reds off still another hill on the nine-mile divisional front east of the Pukhan river.

In the west, the Chinese threw self-propelled guns and foot soldiers into the 12-hour fight to dislodge the King's Shropshire Light Infantry of the British First Commonwealth Division from a strategic hill west of Yonchon Sunday night. At dawn the Britons still were atop the hill and the Reds pulled back.

Hill Is Recaptured

The British recaptured the hill Sunday after being knocked off by a Chinese attack Saturday.

UN command troops were shoved off two hill positions south of Kosong in Eastern Korea Sunday night, but counterattacked Monday morning and recaptured one of the peaks.

Sunday's bold Sabre Jet strike was aimed at the Red Air base at Uiju, just south of the Yalu river border with Manchuria.

The U. S. Fifth Air Force said four MIGs definitely were destroyed and three were damaged.

Maj. William Waltman of Grand Rapids, Mich., Fifth Air Force spokesman, said the MIGs were caught completely by surprise and not a shot was fired at the Sabre jets.

Fire Delays Trains

New York, Nov. 19 (AP)—Fire broke out in a Long Island Railroad mail and baggage car at Pennsylvania station today, delaying a half a dozen LIRR trains. A quantity of mail was damaged by smoke and water. Firemen extinguished the fire after the car had been detached from the train and removed to the LIRR's 10th avenue yards. The car was part of the 5:15 a. m. train for Babylon. Its departure was delayed 41 minutes. Five or six other trains were held up for shorter periods. Police said the car contained 149 sacks of mail and 294 parcels.

Icy Air, Snow Numb Most Of Nation During Weekend

(By The Associated Press)

Icy air gave most of the nation a numbing chill over the weekend, and some eastern states had heavy snowfalls to go along with the freezing weather.

Snow fell for 24 hours without a letup in some sections of Pennsylvania, dumping 18 inches at Kane, in the northwestern region. Heavy snow also smacked parts of Ohio, West Virginia and Maryland, with 15 inches reported near Cleveland.

Cold, numbing weather extended over a vast area. Florida, in the path of biting northwest winds, reported the coldest weather of the season today. Truck crops as far south as the Everglades were threatened. A low of 24 degrees was forecast for the Gainsville district and the Federal-State Frost Warning Service said conditions for citrus in low ground spots would be "on the ragged edge." The temperature at Miami was expected to go down to 38 to 40 degrees.

Threat of frost forced some California citrus growers to break out smudge pots. Temperatures hovered near the 32 mark yesterday in Southern California.

The icy air responsible for the big chill flowed into the states from Canada. It continued to move eastward from the Mississippi valley today with little likelihood that temperatures would warm up soon.

A southern flow of warm air promised respite for inland Texas points as well as Kansas, Missouri

Hirohito Signs Peace Treaty and Security

Tokyo, Nov. 19 (AP)—Emperor Hirohito today signed the Japanese Peace Treaty and the U. S.-Japan Security Pact.

His signature, at Nara where he is on tour, completed Japanese action on the documents. The Diet gave its approval yesterday.

The United States Senate was expected to do likewise early next year. The pacts were agreed upon in September at San Francisco.

The Emperor's signature was affixed just 18 days short of the 10th anniversary of Japan's attack on Pearl Harbor.

Dean Rusk, U. S. assistant secretary of state, is on his way to Japan to review with U. S. military authorities plans for military bases to be retained in this country.

Yesterday, Japan's House of Councillors (Senate) voted 174 to 45 in favor of the peace treaty, 147 to 76 for the security pact. The House of Representatives voted overwhelming approval Oct. 26.

Moscow Acts Upon Restiveness Seen In Big Republic

(By The Associated Press)

Moscow has sent a member of the Politburo into Uzbekistan, one of the largest of the 16 Soviet republics, possibly as a trouble shooter to take measures against restive peasants.

A. N. Kosygin was missing from the array of Soviet leaders on Lenin's tomb for the Russian revolution anniversary, Nov. 7, but Pravda of Nov. 9 carries a dispatch from Uzbekistan telling of ceremonies there marking the anniversary. The place of honor went to Kosygin.

Uzbekistan is in central Asia, bordered on the north by Kazakhstan, also reported to be the scene of peasant resistance to the Soviet regime; on the east by the Kirghiz and Tadjik republics and on the south by Afghanistan. It includes much of the fabulous Samarkand area, where Tamerlane once had the center of his empire. Its people are Moslems.

Is Important Area

Uzbekistan is an important agricultural area, producing cotton, flax and other products for the Soviet economy. Kosygin, youngest and least known of the Politburo members, is a textile expert and a former commissar of textiles who once whipped a lagging industry into greater production and standardized the textile production of the Soviet Union. A protege of powerful Georgi Malenkov, he became a member of the Politburo in 1948, when he was minister of finance.

The news of Kosygin's whereabouts coincides with an attack in Pravda on "bourgeois nationalism" in Uzbekistan. The Pravda piece ostensibly attacked "errors of a nationalist character" in the work of Uzbek poets and writers, but these attacks in the past in other areas have been indications of a worrisome amount of national feeling in the republic concerned.

Thanks Contributors To Benedictine Fund

Sister M. Berenice expresses appreciation for the response to the recent building fund drive of the Benedictine Hospital in the following communication to The Freeman:

Editor, The Freeman:

Nothing would please me more than to thank everyone personally who contributed so generously in our recent Benedictine Hospital Building Fund Program. Since that is impossible, I would like to take this means, space in your valuable newspaper, to express my heartfelt appreciation to those good citizens of Kingston and Ulster county who have shared their worldly goods with us in our time of need. The response of these citizens will make easier the task of the Benedictine Sisters in caring for the sick and suffering.

Again I say thanks to everyone.

Gratefully and sincerely
SISTER M. BERENICE,

Doctor Testifies Kelly Was Sober Day of Mrs. McHugh's Killing

Hazenbush Says Test at Hospital Was Negative — Tells of Nervousness

Edward H. Kelly was "entirely sober" the day he shot Mrs. Eloise McHugh, according to testimony this morning by the doctor who treated Kelly for a self-inflicted wound on that day.

Dr. Arthur W. Hazenbush of this city, called by the defense in the Kelly murder trial, said in County Court this morning that he was on surgical service at Kingston Hospital on May 22, 1950, when Kelly was brought to the emergency room about 9:45 a. m.

Kelly suffered a gunshot wound in the head, Dr. Hazenbush said. Asked by Defense Attorney Howard C. St. John whether any alcohol tests had been made, the doctor replied a sample of blood was taken and resulted in a negative report, meaning there was no presence of alcohol.

'Entirely Sober'

Asked whether that means, in the words of the layman, that the patient was sober, Dr. Hazenbush replied, "entirely sober."

Dr. Hazenbush also testified that he treated Kelly on August 26, 1949, the night he was admitted to Hackett's Sanitarium. That night, the doctor said, Kelly appeared "very tired, nervous, irritable, unkempt and unshaven."

The following day, according to the testimony, Kelly told Dr. Hazenbush "about a love affair." He said he was going with a woman for several years, but several months prior to his admission to the sanitarium they had quarreled. Kelly told the doctor that they had planned to marry, "but

Plan Would Establish Line 25 Miles North of 38th Parallel in Korea

Munsan, Korea, Nov. 19 (AP)—Red cease-fire delegates today promised to give their overall reply Wednesday to an allied proposal for an armistice in 30 days in Korea.

At the close of an hour and 15-minute session at Panmunjom, they asked and got a recess through Tuesday. They wanted to study a plan keyed to a truce line which courses up to more than 25 miles north of Parallel 38.

The Reds apparently want to refer the matter to Peiping—where Red China's Foreign Minister Chou En-lai today issued a statement backing up a Russian proposal that Parallel 38 be the line of demarcation for divided Korea.

Chinese Red Gen. Hsieh Fang of the Communist delegation said the Reds, after studying the plan, would come back Wednesday with the overall reply. The hour of the next meeting will be 11 a. m. (9 p. m. Tuesday, E.S.T.).

Allied Proposal

The allies have proposed that the present line of battle contact across Korea be accepted as a temporary demarcation line now and that such a line become the permanent cease-fire line if a full armistice is signed within 30 days.

If all armistice problems are net settled in 30 days, the UN plan calls for a new demarcation line to be fixed, based on "such conditions as will be at the time mutually agreed to by the delegations of both sides." Continued fighting might have changed it by then. Point one of the allied proposal states that fighting will go on until an armistice is signed.

It was the fourth and last point in the UN plan which took up most of the time at Monday's session in Panmunjom. The meeting was the 26th of the joint subcommittees since the armistice talks resumed Oct. 25.

Results in Settlement

Once before in the long drawn out talks, a Communist recess resulted in settlement of a deadlock. Last July the Reds asked for and got a three-day recess. Immediately afterward, the two delegations agreed on an armistice agenda.

Maj. Gen. Henry I. Hodes, senior member of the UN subcommittee, explained again to the Reds Monday that a new provisional demarcation line must be determined at the end of a 30-day period if a full armistice has not been reached at that time.

He said point four meant that new and unforseeable conditions may have arisen in the meantime which would govern the negotiations. The 30-day period under the plan would begin at the time the full delegations ratified the proposal.

Dinner Is Announced

New York, Nov. 19 (AP)—A $100-a-plate GOP fund-raising dinner, with Gov. Thomas E. Dewey as official host, is planned by the United Republican Finance Committee of Greater New York for Dec. 3 at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel. The committee, which announced the dinner last night, said speakers would be Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll of New Jersey and Gov. John Davis Lodge of Connecticut.

Identity Is Sought

New Boston, N. H., Nov. 19 (AP)—Police today sought to identify a young woman whose body was found yesterday stuffed in the second-floor closet of a burning unused house on the Grenier Air Force Base bombing range. County Solicitor Conrad Danais said "it looks like murder." State police added the abandoned house was evidently set afire to cover up a crime.

Premiums Are Paid

A total of $7,094.50 in premium money was distributed last week to about 420 exhibitors in this year's Ulster County Fair, it was announced by C. C. DuMond, Jr., president of the Ulster County Agricultural Society. The amount compares with $6,842 distributed last year and $6,877 in 1949.

Judge Denounces Sports Practices In U. S. Colleges

Gamblers' Influence Seen Near Explosion Point by Streit — 14 Sentenced

New York, Nov. 19 (AP) — A judge today scathingly denounced college sports practices, and said the growing influence of gamblers may "explode into an atomic scandal."

General Sessions Judge Saul S. Streit, in a blistering statement before sentencing 14 basketball players for conspiring to fix games, called for reform in college sports.

He accused colleges in general of engaging in big-business and professionalism in their sports programs, with recruiting systems whereby "athletes are bought and paid for."

He said that athletic coaches were part of the under-the-counter practices, and said college presidents and faculties must assume "direct control" of sports to eliminate "all outside influences."

The "shocking situation," he said, exists throughout the country.

'Scholastic Duplicity'

Colleges engage in scholastic duplicity to keep star athletes in school, the judge said, and many accept athletes whose academic standings normally would ban them from admission.

He said overemphasis on sports and the practices used to build winning teams is part of a profitable, big-business enterprise, and warps educational goals.

He blasted athletic recruiting systems, the subsidizing of athletes, and said gambling in collegiate sports was known to coaching staffs.

"The naivete, the equivocation and the denials of the coaches and their assistants concerning their knowledge of gambling, recruiting and subsidizing would be comical were they not so despicable," he said.

Courtroom Is Packed

The judge's heated, 41-page blast was made before a packed courtroom, where the 14 players and game fixmaster Salvatore T. Sollazzo were to be sentenced for bribery and conspiracy.

The judge said the gambling manipulations does not stop at basketball, but that "football first became infected with this contageious disease and then transmitted it to basketball."

"It seems to follow a nation-wide pattern," he said.

So far this year, 31 cage players in seven colleges have been involved in the basketball scandal.

"Even a cursory examination of recent surveys, spot checks and reports concerning intercollegiate football reveals a chronic, insidious condition which, if not checked, must explode into an atomic athletic scandal which will dwarf the charges before me into insignificance," the judge said.

Declaring that the colleges should "cleanse their own houses," the judge said:

"The time is not far distant when the Congress and the state legislatures will take notice of their big business and their culpability."

Vishinsky Listens to PlaninParis

Avoids Mention

No Direct Reference Is Made to Russia in Speech

Paris, Nov. 19 (AP)—U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson introduced the west's disarmament plan today and fervently appealed for its acceptance to "open a broad highway along which we can all march together."

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky listened impassively as Acheson urged all countries not "to turn aside into the noisesome alleys of propaganda."

Acheson was asking the UN, in its 60-nation political committee, to adopt a program which would set up a 12-nation disarmament commission to start the ball rolling in a step-by-step supervised arms reduction as proposed by the U. S., France and Britain.

Acheson chose to present the plan to the committee personally. It was his first appearance in person before a UN committee to introduce and explain a resolution on any subject.

The commission, made up of the members of the UN Security Council plus Canada, would lay the groundwork for a world arms reduction conference to which such non-UN nations as Red China would be invited.

Strict Controls

The resolution which Acheson introduced for the western Big Three calls for strictly controlled, gradual disarmament and a census of all weapons, including atomic.

The permanent members of the Security Council, Britain, Nationalist China, France, Russia and the U. S., would have to agree on such a commission's decisions, since each of the five would have veto power in the council. The commission would draw up for the world conference treaties of "regulation, limitation and balanced reduction of all armed forces and all armaments.

"We can seize this great opportunity for peace," Acheson said in a conciliatory speech which was greeted with great applause from the committee, "or we can fritter it away."

The secretary of state made no direct mention of the Soviet Union, whose acceptance would be necessary to start the plan rolling.

"There is no magic" in the west's proposals, Acheson said, but he insisted the plan could be a turning point in world history. He told the delegates they were dealing with the "most important problem any group of statesmen have ever dealt with—the question of national survival."

Has Bitter Tilt

In the second political committee, meanwhile, Soviet Delegateg Jacob A. Malik tilted bitterly with Selim Sarper of Turkey. Political Committee No. 2 helps the first committee handle the heavy load of political problems before the General Assembly.

Sarper was elected by acclamation chairman of Political Committee No. 2, and Sven Grafstrom of Sweden defeated Ukrainian Delegate L. T. Palamartchouk for vice chairman. The clash between Sarper and Malik on this contest looked like the prelude to a long series of east-west wrangles in the committee.

The first political committee abandoned its plans for an afternoon session so that its members could have time to study Acheson's speech before going on with the debate on the west's arms proposals.

Russia on Friday proposed that a similar 12-nation commission start work at once on the inspection and control of all weapons. It called for the commission to report to the Security Council by Feb. 1, 1952—presumably within the life of the current assembly.

The western plan set no date for the calling of the disarmament conference, leaving that to the preparatory commission. Russia previously had proposed such a conference be held before June 1, 1952.

Hyde Park Pastor Has Happy Task, Spending Million

Hyde Park, N. Y., Nov. 19 (AP)—St. James Protestant Episcopal Church here has a problem—how to spend roughly $1,000,000 while normally operating on a $10,000 annual budget.

The church was willed two of 140 shares of the residuary estate of the late Mrs. H. Sylvia A. H. G. Wilks, daughter of fabulous financier-recluse Hetty Green. Executors have estimated each share will be worth $500,000.

The late President Franklin D. Roosevelt was a senior warden at the church.

Since the Wilks will was filed last February, the parish was kept up in the air because a cousin of Mrs. Wilks contested the will. A settlement last week gave the cousin $140,000 instead of the original $5,000 bequest, but left St. James shares undisturbed.

A "hundred and one" suggestions have been made on spending the money, the Rev. Gordon L. Kidd, rector of the 107-year-old church, and a graduate of St. Stephen's College (now Bard) at nearby Annandale, said yesterday. Proposals included the building of a new rectory and the setting up of a new parish community house.

But Mrs. Kidd said she worries for fear the money "might give members the idea they don't have to work for the church."

Dewey Strategists May Find Taft Sentiment Is Growing

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 19 (AP)—Grass-root Republican sentiment for Senator Taft may keep Governor Dewey's strategists from wrapping up all 96 New York delegates for delivery to General Eisenhower at the GOP convention in July.

This view is expressed by party sources in both pro-Dewey and anti-Dewey camps. They do not agree, however, on the strength of the Taft sentiment nor its possible effect on the GOP delegation from influential New York state, whose Republican organization Dewey has headed for more than a decade.

The estimates of party bigwigs as to sentiment for Taft in their domains ranges from "none to speak of" to "quite a bit" to "tremendous."

One GOP campaign expert, with a sensitive ear for political whispers, judged that 15 to 20 New York delegates would be for Taft from the start of the Chicago presidential convention.

An admitted pro-Taft Republican said, "if he (Taft) has 10, he will have 30."

Then there are those who are stringing along with Dewey in support of Eisenhower, but name Taft as their "second" choice.

Among these is Congressman W. Sterling Cole of Bath. He said this weekend he was backing Eisenhower, but Taft was his second choice.

Dewey declared for Eisenhower on Oct. 15, 1950. His Aides say the governor now has no second choice. They imply that under no condition would it be Taft.

Dewey, it is said, considers Taft an isolationist and believes the

PERON SITS IN A SHAKY SEAT

Juan Peron, riding the crest of a 2 to 1 election majority, may be able to contend honestly that Argentina's recent voting was really fair. But that was all part of the plot; the rigging was done in advance.

Every dictator yearns for respectability, and Peron is no exception. He would like the world to believe he is actually the choice of the people. Perhaps he is, but this election did not prove it.

For the dictator who resorts to the forms of democracy to enchance his statute still finds it necessary to eliminate the inherent risks of the democratic method. Peron took care of that aspect of his problem nicely.

First of all, he held tight rule over press and radio, effectively throttling the opposition's voice. Secondly, the Peronistas, his political party, changed the election law to favor themselves.

Beyond this, Peron completely intimidated and restricted the other parties by a variety of devices, not excluding imprisonment. The leader of the Radical Party, no democratic rose himself, twice was jailed for showing "disrespect" to Peron.

The Argentine dictator used the pretext of the recent abortive military revolt to arrest many civilian political enemies and frighten many more.

By all these measures Peron assured himself that the election-day results would be "right" without use of sordid tactics like ballot-box stuffing or fraudulent counting. He won by an agreeable margin—not too flashy, but just the kind of majority a reasonably popular fellow might be expected to pile up.

So, theoretically at least, the Argentinians have Peron for another six years. But it would not be sensible to consider this an assured fact. For in truth Peron is in a very shaky position.

Temporarily, he has passed his test, not with the electorate but with the army, the real power in Argentina. But the top military men could change their minds at any time.

Peron has run Argentine economic affairs with often ignorant abandon. Consequently, the country now is in the grip of serious inflation. Many parts of the economy are out of kilter. Farmers are in rebellion against price controls.

Before the election, army leaders examined this whole situation carefully with Peron. Presumably they were satisfied for the moment with his plans for coping with the trouble. But any marked failure in the months ahead could lead to his quick ouster. Some reports say he is already feathering a nest in exile in anticipation of this prospect.

The Argentine people do not appear to put any great store yet by the freedoms we prize so highly. Hence the army doesn't worry about them, either. But the Argentinians have as much concern for their stomachs and their pocketbooks as people anywhere. And that explains the army's fretting over present trends.

Peron's re-election has fooled no one into believing he is a democratically chosen president. But neither should the fact his election was rigged deceive anyone into thinking him a dictator of great strength and cunning. In the most realistic sense he is the creature of the army, aping the dictator's mannerisms but lacking real power. He could be brought down at a stroke.

The old adage that "haste makes waste" is lost on the habitual hurrier because he figures that he saves so much time that he can afford to waste something else. But when you hurry with an automobile the resulting waste may be in human life, which no one can afford.

The patter of rain is a pleasant sound only to one who knows that his roof is good. To one who has put off a repair job it is like the clamor of an alarm clock after a too-late night.

You can't get a bet anywhere on how effective the new federal tax on gamblers will be.

SUPPRESSION OF FREEDOM

It is difficult to convince Americans that their freedoms are in danger. The other night, I listened to Senator John Bricker of Ohio explaining to an audience of newspapermen the dangers to them and their country of the so-called covenant of human rights which the United Nations, including some shameless Americans, are trying to put over on us. I am sure that these men did not realize the importance or the seriousness of the senator's speech. Unfortunately, we possess so great a wealth of liberty that we often disregard our treasures.

Compare, for example, Amendment No. 1 to the Constitution of the United States with Article 14, Paragraph 3, of the draft covenant of human rights!

The first amendment of the American Constitution reads:

"Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the government for a redress of grievances."

That amendment simply says, with regard to the press, that Congress shall make no laws abridging its freedom. There are no ifs, no whereases, no buts. Article 14, Paragraph 3, of the United Nations covenant is more involved, more wordy, because it seeks to suppress freedom of the press. Read it:

"The right to seek, receive and impart information and ideas carries with it special duties and responsibilities and may therefore be subject to certain penalties, liabilities, and restrictions, but these shall be such only as are provided by law and are necessary for the protection of national security, public order, safety, health or morals, or of the rights, freedoms or reputations of others."

Under this provision, newspapers, magazines, news-gathering agencies, wire-services and that part of radio which supplies news or comment would be limited to exactly what the government of a country wanted its people to be told. The competition for news and the contentiousness over views would disappear and in their place would stand only the propaganda of officialdom—the partisanship and bias of those in power, protecting their vested interest in the status quo. There is no freedom in that.

Of this provision the State Department once said that it was "generally satisfactory from the point of view of the United States"—a statement which is not and cannot be true. Actually the people of the United States have not been consulted concerning it and most of us hardly know what is being done about it. The covenant was conceived in secrecy and proclaimed only to the initiated. It is so long and confused a document that few bother to read it.

Senator Bricker said before the Silurians in New York:

"The most dangerous feature of Article 14 of the draft covenant is the authority to impose panalties and restrictions on the press to ensure 'national security.' Because modern war is total war, almost every activity can be linked with some facet of 'national security.' For that reason the term 'national security' could be used to justify almost any restriction on the press which the President and the Congress might chbose to impose. . . ."

The real danger is that it is not Congress that is legislating for the United States in this respect. It is a foreign, an alien body, the United Nations, most of whose members have never known freedom in their own countries—certainly not freedom of the press. Most of them abhor freedom as dangerous to those who control their people either in the slavery of Sovietism or in the tight grip of feudalism. Such men and women are legislating for us.

And when we accept their legislative decisions in the form of a treaty, our courts hold that a treaty, once signed by the President and ratified by the Senate in accordance with the Constitution, is the law of the land.

Legislation by treaty can reduce to ashes the freedoms which the Constitution guarantees.

Senator Bricker said:

". . . The words 'national security, public order, safety' and 'health or morals' are flexible enough to satisfy any dictator who wants to control the press of his country. Dr. Goebbels's position as editor-in-chief of the German press met the requirement of 'national security.' A dictator is the government. A dictator's safety, security, health, and reputation are all jeopardized by an independent press. Why give these loathsome tyrants legal sanction for operating, regulating or intimidating the press?

Why, indeed?

BLOOD—THE RIVER OF LIFE

"Blood is the magic gift of life. There is no substitute for it. It can come only from human donors. It is our best wonder medicine, as whole blood, as plasma (the liquid part), as any of half a dozen parts or fractions that scientists now can draw from it."

I am quoting from the Public Affairs Pamphlet, "Blood—Your Gift of Life," which includes an illustration showing the various substances contained in this magic gift—red cells, white cells, oxygen, carbon dioxide, minerals, proteins and others. It is written by Alton L. Blakeslee, the noted health writer. There is about a gallon and a half of blood (12 to 13 pints) in the normal sized person. It is mostly water and salt and "billions of tiny ships or cells, red and white." It flows through 60,000 miles of arteries, capillaries and veins to bathe all the tissues of your body, to take them life-giving and life-sustaining oxygen, to carry back carbon dioxide and other wastes. And it is just as important to have these watses removed by the skin, lungs, kidneys and large intestine as it is to receive oxygen. A stove or boiler cannot burn properly if ashes are not removed.

Blood contains everything necessary for life and health. It contains hormones, the powerful chemical regulators of life; it carries vitamins and enzymes (ferments which help substances to "get together" and produce other valuable substances.)

The red cells are the food and oxygen carriers and the white cells fight off harmful organisms. For many years the liquid part of the blood, the plasma, was thought of as just a liquid to carry the cells, but now it is known that it is as necessary to life and health as the cells themselves. Plsama can be dried to a powder and stored in bottles for five years. It needs only to be mixed with sterile water for injection into human veins.

Plasma has come into great use during wartime as it prevents death from shock. Shock has been a major cause of death in war and civilian disasters because of the great loss of fluid from the blood. Plasma is rich in protein, now considered our chief food, which not only maintains body structure but repairs worn parts as well.

Some of the uses of the parts of the blood are (a) to fight shock, (b) to carry antibodies which fight disease, (c) to prevent anemia (thin blood), (d) to clot blood, preventing death from bleeding.

This pamphlet, "Blood, Your Gift of Life," may be obtained by sending 20 cents to Public Affairs Committee, a non-profit educational organization, 22 East 38th St., New York 16, N. Y. This pamphlet was prepared with cooperation of the American Red Cross.

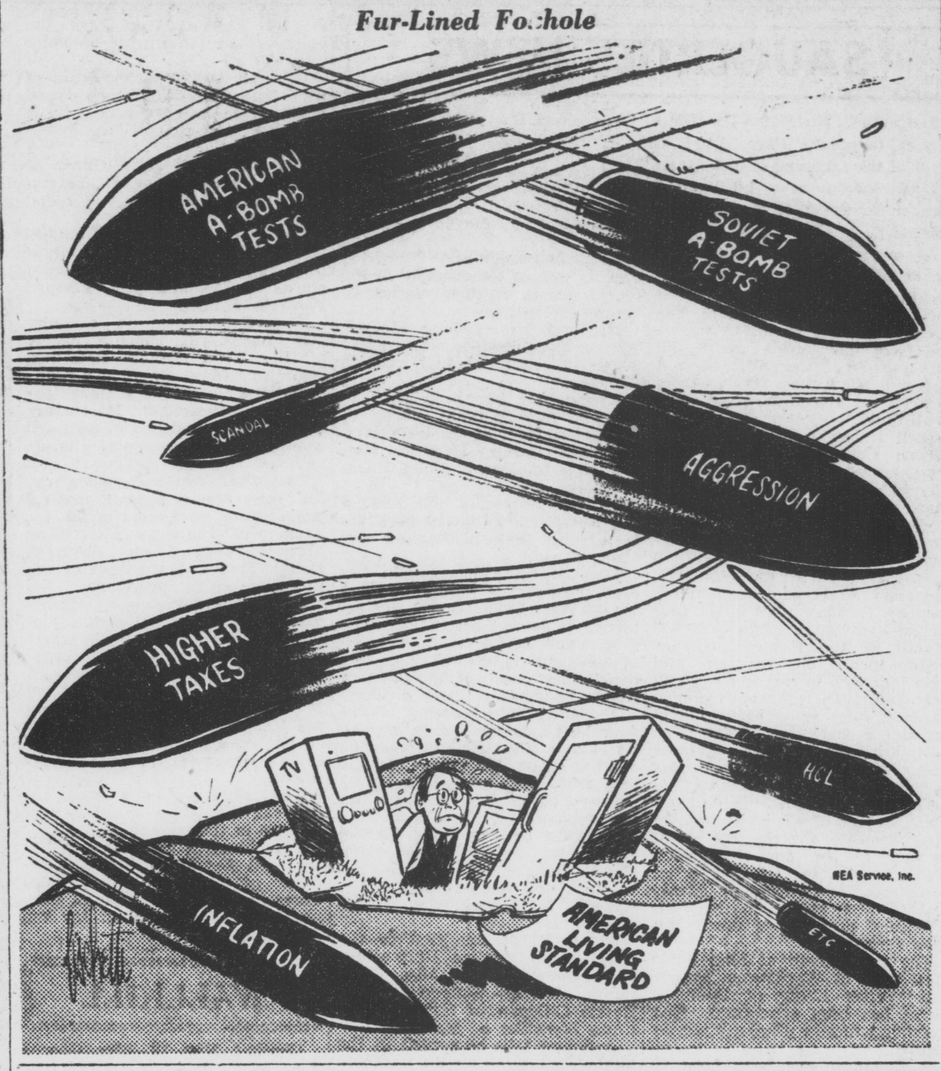
Fur-Lined Foxhole



The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington—The job of finding a spotless company to produce aluminum for lagging defense production is much like that of Diogenes looking for an honest man.

Below are printed the war records of the three chief companies considered by the National Production Authority for aid in setting up a new aluminum plant. Significantly no agency of the government bothered to look up these records, but left it to the press. Today the FBI is required to spend weeks, sometimes months, checking on the loyalty of a prospective government employe; while there is absolutely no system for checking on the records of companies getting lush war contracts.

Furthermore, Secretary of the Navy Dan Kimball has flatly refused to give the record on the Harvey Machine Company to his cabinet colleague, the secretary of the interior, or to a House investigating committee. (Kimball and the Harveys are Californians, with Lawrence Harvey high in Democratic political councils.)

In addition the Defense Mobilization Administration is barred by Congress from building plants of its own if it cannot find a company qualified to build one. This ban, urged by GOP Senators Mundt of South Dakota and Taft of Ohio has seriously impeded defense mobilization.

Meanwhile, the navy records, which this columnist has seen, show that the Harvey Machine Company was investigated by naval intelligence during the war for making off-sized gauges which presumably would help to pass off-sized shells past naval inspectors without the inspectors realizing the shells did not fit specifications.

A naval report, dated Jan. 27, 1944, signed by Capt. L. D. Webb, and recommending against the use of Harvey on another navy contract. Quotes naval intelligence, in part, as follows:

Naval Report

"'A check of gauges at the Long Beach plant of subject, disclosed that one of the gauges being used for navy inspection was defective. Investigation disclosed that approximately 150 defective gauges manufactured by subject were delivered to the Long Beach plant for use in company and navy inspection. The defect in these gauges was such as would enable subject to attain the acceptance of faulty projectiles by the navy. Investigation discloses that Herbert Harvey, plant manager, purposely devised a gear-ratio to be used on the navy-owned thread-grinding machine used to manufacture the gauges.

The defect in the gauges caused by use of the substandard gear-ratio was not discernible without thorough examination. Admiral Joseph R. Defrees...requested that steps be taken to cause the institution of criminal proceedings, if a criminal statute has been violated.'

"Dated 22 May 1943, the cognizant war frauds division prosecutor of the Department of Justice, in writing to say that 'inherent weakness of the case' i.e. inability to prove to a jury the Navy Department was seriously injured by subject's actions) would make it extremely difficult to secure a conviction, added:

"'This does not mean, however, that we have closed our files on this matter, and I have asked one of our attorneys to prepare a memorandum of law applicable to the facts set forth in the investigative reports.'"

Captain Webb, when queried by this column, stated that although he had then recommended against further use of the Harvey Machine Company, he now felt that they had the initiative necessary for the production of aluminum. He also admitted that he had received a phone call direct from Secretary of the Navy Kimball regarding the Harveys.

Investigation by this columnist leads to similar conclusions—namely, that the Harveys have the drive and initiative necessary for production, and that their record, while far from spotless, is far, far better than others under consideration.

Two Wrongs Equal One Right

After the Harvey record was published, NPA proceeded to award the aluminum contract in Montana to both Harvey and Anaconda Copper, apparently on the theory that two wrongs make a right. For Anaconda Wire and Copper had a far worse war record than Harvey.

Furthermore, Olin industries, also under consideration for the worse war record than Harvey, aluminum contract, likewise had a worse record than Harvey.

Anaconda Record — Anaconda Wire and Cable, one of the largest Anaconda subsidiaries, was twice convicted for war frauds and sabotage in selling faulty wire to the army, navy and air force.

Alex Campell, U. S. attorney who prosecuted Anaconda at Ft. Wayne, Ind., states that Anaconda's inspectors had pretended to test wire and passed it on to army and navy inspectors with an O.K. tag on it—though actually it was not inspected.

Part of the wire was used for artillery communications in the field; part was degaussing wire to protect warships from submarine attack. Fortunately, the wire was caught before it got into combat.

At Ft. Wayne, the company and five of its staff did not contest the criminal charges and received $31,000 in fines plus suspended jail sentences. One of those convicted was Thor Johnson, Anaconda Wire and Cable representative for the entire state of Indiana.

The fact that a pattern of fraud and concealment was followed in other Anaconda wire factories, according to the Justice Department officials, showed that the fraud must have been directed from up above. Anaconda Wire and Cable was also convicted at Pawtaucket, R. I., and four individuals given one to two years. Another fraud charge at Hastings-on-Hudson, N. Y., was dropped after Anaconda paid the government a total of $1,620,000 as a settlement for all its fraud damage.

Remarked Senator Bone of Washington: "The men who did this dreadful thing would be lined up before a firing-squad if they were in Germany or Russia."

But in the United States, the Truman administration proposes giving Anaconda a new contract.

Olin Industries Record — Another company under consideration for government aluminum aid is Olin Industries—by no means little business—which operates Winchester Arms; New Haven Bond Electric Corp; Western Power at Peoria, Ill.; Liberty Powder at Mount Braddock, Pa.; Ecusta Paper Co., in North Carolina; Central Railway Signal, Peru, Ind.; Pacific Railway Signal at Los Gatos, Calif.; Equitable Powder, Texas Powder, Columbia Powder, U. S. Powder, Egyptian Powder, and East Alton Public Service.

During the war ten members of one subsidiary, U. S. Cartridge, were indicted in St. Louis, for a conspiracy to pass defective ammunition, making false statements, and violating the Sabotage Act. Tried in April 1944, they were found not guilty. A second indictment dragged on for seven years and in 1950 was dropped by the government. The government is now appealing a civil suit for $214,000,000 against U. S. Cartridge to recover damages which it lost in the lower court.

Another column on companies with bad war records now profiting from big war contracts will follow soon.

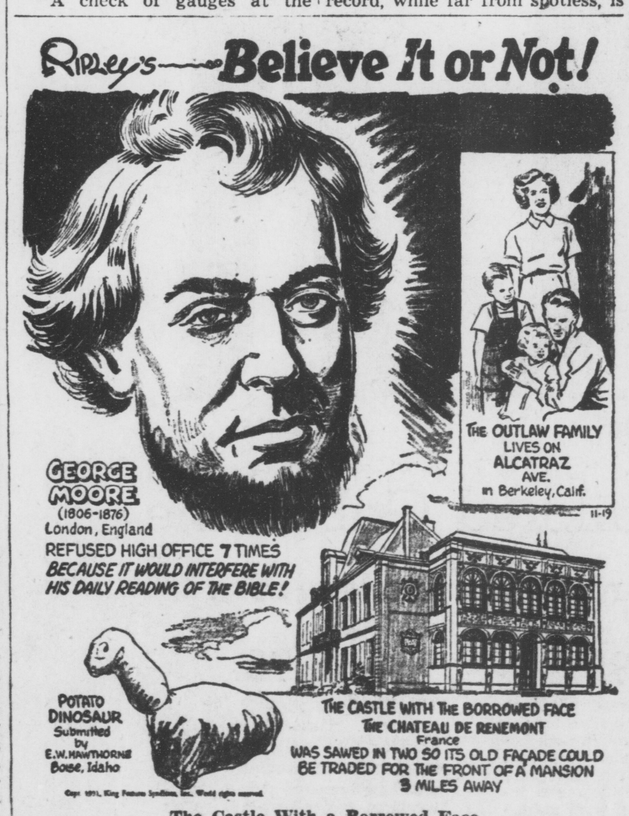
Untold Story

No one has reached the top of Mt. Everest and come back to tell the story. The world's highest mountain is over 29,000 feet. It is along the Nepal-Tibet border in Asia.



The Castle With a Borrowed Face

The castle with a borrowed face. Chateau de Renemont, France, built in the 16th century was sawn apart through its entire width. Its front part was transferred to the Lunati-Viscount Mansion in Nancy, three miles away. In turn, the same half of the Mansion was transferred to the Chateau and re-erected stone by stone. Now both the Castle and the Mansion have each other's facade. Why the architect thought that the front of the Mansion would look better upon the Castle is not known.

Hughes' Statement in 1924 Is Recalled as Having Parallel in Present Scandals

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Nov. 19 — Maybe Democratic campaign speakers do not relish a bit of plagiarizing from Republican campaign speakers of the past, but they will be well advised to read up on a speech delivered in 1924 by Charles Evans Hughes before the Republican State Convention of New York just after the teapot Dome scandals had rocked the country and made things look bad politically for the Republicans. They may be able to use it—provided the parallel is carried out.

The quotation comes to light in a new biography of Hughes written by Merlo J. Pusey, associate editor of the Washington Post, who says that the candor and sense of proportion exhibited by Hughes in that speech "had much to do with turning the public mind away from oil toward the rising tide of national prosperity." Hughes was at the time off the Supreme Court bench, having resigned in 1916 to make an unsuccessful race for the presidency. His speech, delivered on April 15, 1924, read in part as follows:

"Let it be understood that we do not condone wrong; we extenuate no crime . . . we would bring to the bar of justice every dishonest official and every perverter of administration in or out of office . . .

"Neither political party has a monopoly of virtue or of rascality. There are crooks in every community and in every party. Now and then, one gets into office. Let wrongs be exposed and punished, but let not partisan pecksniffs affect a "holier than thou' attitude. The corrupting currency may be found in Democratic satchels. One who is corrupt is as faithless to his party as to his government. Guilt is personal and corruption knows no party.

"Today, counsel of eminent ability and unimpeachable integrity, selected from both the great parties by a Republican president, are taking appropriate legal proceedings by which all the questions which have been raised as to the leasing of the public domain will be threshed out, every public interest will be safeguarded and every guilty person punished. These cases are in the courts where they belong and the courts will decide. It would be foolish, false and unpatriotic to breed distrust either of the integrity of the government or of the soundness of American life. That would be to assail the honor of the hosts of officials devoting their lives with unselfish fidelity to the country's interests."

William Howard Taft, an ex-president at that time, thought the speech was "as exceptional as the one you delivered for me in 1908." President Calvin Coolidge, who had come in from the vice presidency in 1923 on the death of Warren Harding, was re-elected in a landslide in 1924 because, as author Pusey says, the voters "must have concluded that the administration had successfully purged itself of the corruption it had inherited."

But the Democratic speakers of 1952 will not be able to use the above quotation unless President Truman does what Calvin Coolidge did. For the latter appointed two prominent lawyers, one a Democrat and the other a Republican, as special prosecutors reporting to him instead of to the attorney general. The result was that a Republican cabinet officer who had received a $100,000 bribe in a satchel was put in jail, as were others who had held high official positions under a Republican administration.

Mr. Truman thus far has not taken such a dramatic or far-reaching step. The prosecuting machinery of the Truman administration has lumbered along slowly, prodded largely by disclosures made by congressional investigating committees. In 1924 the congressional investigations really first brought out the oil scandals, but Mr. Coolidge was alert enough to act with stern efficiency in prosecuting, letting the chips fall where they might.

If the Truman administration does the same thing, it can live down the scandals now being uncovered. Righteous indignation alone will not do the trick. That Hughes speech lies ready for use by the Democratic speakers—provided their President does exactly what a Republican President did in somewhat the same circumstances in 1924.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

London — The British professional unioneer is a hard-boiled cynic with no compunction against butting into the domestic affairs of any other country, including ours, where he is now making socialistic mischief in secret cooperation with Americans for Democratic Action, the CIO and elements of the A.F. of L. He has no respect for anything good unless it can be put to some special use of the socialist conspiracy whose political manifestation in Great Britain is similar to Hitler's national socialism. Although the British Parliament is the model which is erroneously held up to the world as the finest example of "democratic" popular government, British unioneers, having first invaded, then controlled it, feel that they have, so to speak, had their way of it and now hold it in contempt. Without the slightest hesitency two spokesmen for the British Trades Union Congress informed me that it was the practice of unions to put "Labor" members of Parliament in their fee by outright subsidies intended, obviously, although they did not come down to that, to buy their votes for unionism and socialism in all cases arising.

With his cynicism and sordidness, the British unioneer is, or pretends to be, a goggle-eyed yokel in some respects. I suggest that he only pretends because it seems to me unlikely that politicians so practical and worldly in other matters could be as dumb as British political unioneers have outwardly seemed in their relations with criminals of the American union racket. They can read newspapers and they have listening posts in the United States just as the British foreign office has.

In 1930, the American Federation of Labor sent over a fraternal delegate to represent the great living body of American labor at the annual convention of the British Trades Union Congress at Nottingham. The A.F. of L. selected for this honor one of the most distinguished defenders of the holy cause of those who toil and shower down their dues and fees and kickbacks. This was Tommy Maloy, of Chicago, a Capone man and predecessor of Willie-Mack Bioff and rum-dum George Browne in the high command of the moving picture studio and theatre employes all over the states and Canada. Willie-Mack Bioff was and is called Willie-Mack because in our underworld and some of our tenderloin police stations a bargaining agent for ladies insensible alike to the inhibitions of decency and the lash of shame is known as a mackerel, derived from the French macquereau. Willie-Mack was convicted of this traffic and after a long spell of suspended zeal, the Chicago's state's attorney finally put him in jail to serve six months. During this detention he held office-hours in the Bridewell and kept a tub of iced beer in his office.

I do not know who killed Tommy Maloy at last but I do know that Bioff and Browne took the most immediate and biggest profit from demise. It seems almost inevitable that they sent flowers bearing the conventional motto in golden letters on purple silk, "To a Pal."

With Tommy Maloy a number of ladies and gentlemen, the beauty and the chivalry of unionism in Chicago, came to Nottingham and Tommy was so fraternal that a number of distinguished British unioneers have never forgotten him. One night he took over the large room of an inn and started buying wine. He bought wine until they ran out of wine and had to go out scrounging wine in other resorts. An English statesman of the union movement recalled that one of the ladies slipped one of her shoulder straps down, exposing an expanse of what-do-you-suppose, and tumbled her hair down and squawked a repertoire of popular songs. He states

SUPPRESSION OF FREEDOM

It is difficult to convince Americans that their freedoms are in danger. The other night, I listened to Senator John Bricker of Ohio explaining to an audience of newspapermen the dangers to them and their country of the so-called covenant of human rights which the United Nations, including some shameless Americans, are trying to put over on us. I am sure that these men did not realize the importance or the seriousness of the senator's speech. Unfortunately, we possess so great a wealth of liberty that we often disregard our treasures.

Compare, for example, Amendment No. 1 to the Constitution of the United States with Article 14, Paragraph 3, of the draft covenant of human rights!

The first amendment of the American Constitution reads:

"Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the government for a redress of grievances."

That amendment simply says, with regard to the press, that Congress shall make no laws abridging its freedom. There are no ifs, no whereases, no buts. Article 14, Paragraph 3, of the United Nations covenant is more involved, more wordy, because it seeks to suppress freedom of the press. Read it:

"The right to seek, receive and impart information and ideas carries with it special duties and responsibilities and may therefore be subject to certain penalties, liabilities, and restrictions, but these shall be such only as are provided by law and are necessary for the protection of national security, public order, safety, health or morals, or of the rights, freedoms or reputations of others."

Under this provision, newspapers, magazines, news-gathering agencies, wire-services and that part of radio which supplies news or comment would be limited to exactly what the government of a country wanted its people to be told. The competition for news and the contentiousness over views would disappear and in their place would stand only the propaganda of officialdom—the partisanship and bias of those in power, protecting their vested interest in the status quo. There is no freedom in that.

Of this provision the State Department once said that it was "generally satisfactory from the point of view of the United States"—a statement which is not and cannot be true. Actually the people of the United States have not been consulted concerning it and most of us hardly know what is being done about it. The covenant was conceived in secrecy and proclaimed only to the initiated. It is so long and confused a document that few bother to read it.

Senator Bricker said before the Silurians in New York:

"The most dangerous feature of Article 14 of the draft covenant is the authority to impose panalties and restrictions on the press to ensure 'national security.' Because modern war is total war, almost every activity can be linked with some facet of 'national security.' For that reason the term 'national security' could be used to justify almost any restriction on the press which the President and the Congress might choose to impose. . . ."

The real danger is that it is not Congress that is legislating for the United States in this respect. It is a foreign, an alien body, the United Nations, most of whose members have never known freedom in their own countries—certainly not freedom of the press. Most of them abhor freedom as dangerous to those who control their people either in the slavery of Sovietism or in the tight grip of feudalism. Such men and women are legislating for us.

And when we accept their legislative decisions in the form of a treaty, our courts hold that a treaty, once signed by the President and ratified by the Senate in accordance with the Constitution, is the law of the land.

Legislation by treaty can reduce to ashes the freedoms which the Constitution guarantees.

Senator Bricker said:

". . . The words 'national security, public order, safety' and 'health or morals' are flexible enough to satisfy any dictator who wants to control the press of his country. Dr. Goebbels's position as editor-in-chief of the German press met the requirement of 'national security.' A dictator is the government. A dictator's safety, security, health, and reputation are all jeopardized by an independent press. Why give these loathsome tyrants legal sanction for operating, regulating or intimidating the press?

Why, indeed?

BLOOD—THE RIVER OF LIFE

"Blood is the magic gift of life. There is no substitute for it. It can come only from human donors. It is our best wonder medicine, as whole blood, as plasma (the liquid part), as any of half a dozen parts or fractions that scientists now can draw from it."

I am quoting from the Public Affairs Pamphlet, "Blood—Your Gift of Life," which includes an illustration showing the various substances contained in this magic gift—red cells, white cells, oxygen, carbon dioxide, minerals, proteins and others. It is written by Alton L. Blakeslee, the noted health writer. There is about a gallon and a half of blood (12 to 13 pints) in the normal sized person. It is mostly water and salt and "billions of tiny ships or cells, red and white." It flows through 60,000 miles of arteries, capillaries and veins to bathe all the tissues of your body, to take them life-giving and life-sustaining oxygen, to carry back carbon dioxide and other wastes. And it is just as important to have these watses removed by the skin, lungs, kidneys and large intestine as it is to receive oxygen. A stove or boiler cannot burn properly if ashes are not removed.

Blood contains everything necessary for life and health. It contains hormones, the powerful chemical regulators of life; it carries vitamins and enzymes (ferments which help substances to "get together" and produce other valuable substances.)

The red cells are the food and oxygen carriers and the white cells fight off harmful organisms. For many years the liquid part of the blood, the plasma, was thought of as just a liquid to carry the cells, but now it is known that it is as necessary to life and health as the cells themselves. Plsama can be dried to a powder and stored in bottles for five years. It needs only to be mixed with sterile water for injection into human veins.

Plasma has come into great use during wartime as it prevents death from shock. Shock has been a major cause of death in war and civilian disasters because of the great loss of fluid from the blood. Plasma is rich in protein, now considered our chief food, which not only maintains body structure but repairs worn parts as well.

Some of the uses of the parts of the blood are (a) to fight shock, (b) to carry antibodies which fight disease, (c) to prevent anemia (thin blood), (d) to clot blood, preventing death from bleeding.

This pamphlet, "Blood, Your Gift of Life," may be obtained by sending 20 cents to Public Affairs Committee, a non-profit educational organization, 22 East 38th St., New York 16, N. Y. This pamphlet was prepared with cooperation of the American Red Cross.

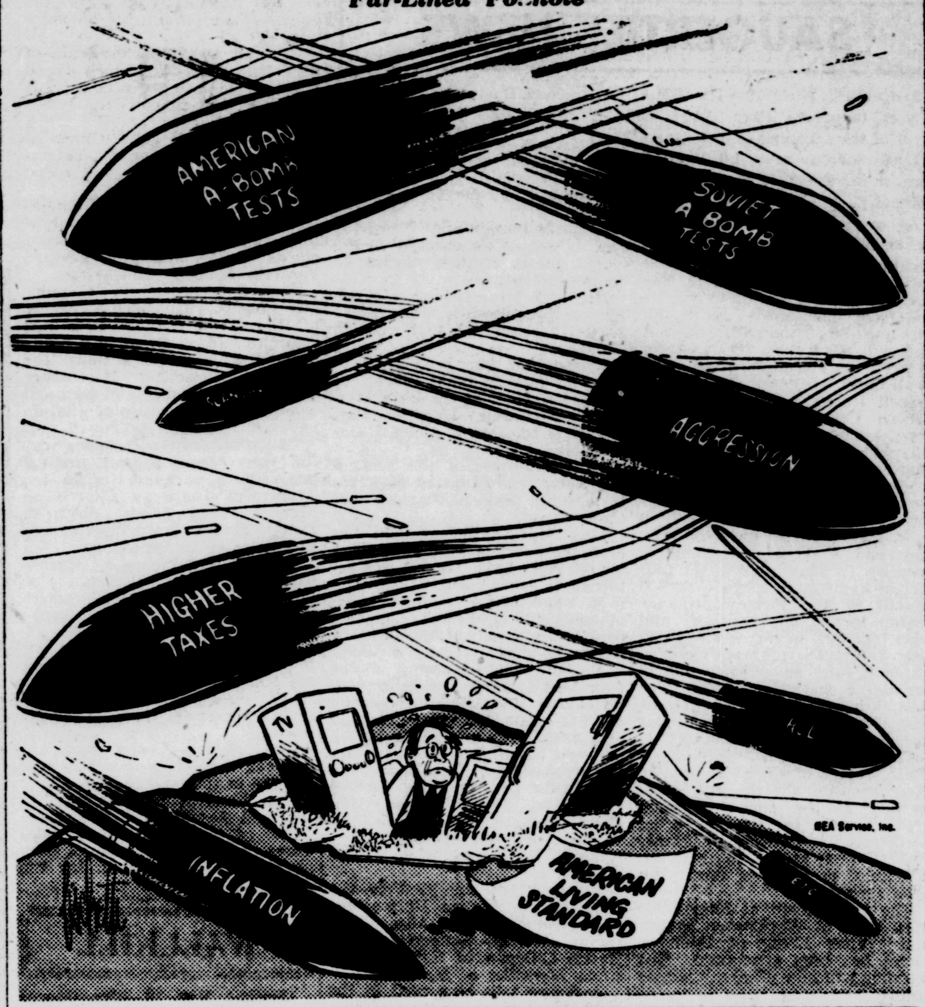
Fur-Lined Foxhole



The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington—The job of finding a spotless company to produce aluminum for lagging defense production is much like that of Diogenes looking for an honest man.

Below are printed the war records of the three chief companies considered by the National Production Authority for aid in setting up a new aluminum plant. Significantly no agency of the government bothered to look up these records, but left it to the press. Today the FBI is required to spend weeks, sometimes months, checking on the loyalty of a prospective government employe; while there is absolutely no system for checking on the records of companies getting lush war contracts.

Furthermore, Secretary of the Navy Dan Kimball has flatly refused to give the record on the Harvey Machine Company to his cabinet colleague, the secretary of the interior, or to a House investigating committee. (Kimball and the Harveys are Californians, with Lawrence Harvey high in Democratic political councils.)

In addition the Defense Mobilization Administration is barred by Congress from building plants of its own if it cannot find a company qualified to build one. This ban, urged by GOP Senators Mundt of South Dakota and Taft of Ohio has seriously impeded defense mobilization.

Meanwhile, the navy records, which this columnist has seen, show that the Harvey Machine Company was investigated by naval intelligence during the war for making off-sized gauges which presumably would help to pass off-sized shells past naval inspectors without the inspectors realizing the shells did not fit specifications.

A naval report, dated Jan. 27, 1944, signed by Capt. L. D. Webb, and recommending against the use of Harvey on another navy contract. Quotes naval intelligence, in part, as follows:

Naval Report

"'A check of gauges at the Long Beach plant of subject, disclosed that one of the gauges being used for navy inspection was defective. Investigation disclosed that approximately 150 defective gauges manufactured by subject were delivered to the Long Beach plant for use in company and navy inspection. The defect in these gauges was such as would enable subject to attain the acceptance of faulty projectiles by the navy. Investigation discloses that Herbert Harvey, plant manager, purposely devised a gear-ratio to be used on the navy-owned thread-grinding machine used to manufacture the gauges.

The defect in the gauges caused by use of the substandard gear-ratio was not discernible without thorough examination. Admiral Joseph R. Defrees...requested that steps be taken to cause the institution of criminal proceedings, if a criminal statute has been violated.'

"Dated 22 May 1943, the cognizant war frauds division prosecutor of the Department of Justice, in writing to say that 'inherent weakness of the case' i.e. inability to prove to a jury the Navy Department was seriously injured by subject's actions) would make it extremely difficult to secure a conviction. added:

"'This does not mean, however, that we have closed our files on this matter, and I have asked one of our attorneys to prepare a memorandum of law applicable to the facts set forth in the investigative reports.'"

Captain Webb, when queried by this column, stated that although he had then recommended against further use of the Harvey Machine Company, he now felt that they had the initiative necessary for the production of aluminum. He also admitted that he had received a phone call direct from Secretary of the Navy Kimball regarding the Harveys.

Investigation by this columnist leads to similar conclusions—namely, that the Harveys have the drive and initiative necessary for production, and that their record, while far from spotless, is far, far better than others under consideration.

Two Wrongs Equal One Right

After the Harvey record was published, NPA proceeded to award the aluminum contract in Montana to both Harvey and Anaconda Copper, apparently on the theory that two wrongs make a right. For Anaconda Wire and Copper had a far worse war record than Harvey.

Furthermore, Olin industries, also under consideration for the worse war record than Harvey. aluminum contract, likewise had a worse record than Harvey.

Anaconda Record — Anaconda Wire and Cable, one of the largest Anaconda subsidiaries, was twice convicted for war frauds and sabotage in selling faulty wire to the army, navy and air force.

Alex Campell, U. S. attorney who prosecuted Anaconda at Ft. Wayne, Ind., states that Anaconda's inspectors had pretended to test wire and passed it on to army and navy inspectors with an O.K. tag on it—though actually it was not inspected.

Part of the wire was used for artillery communications in the field; part was degaussing wire to protect warships from submarine attack. Fortunately, the wire was caught before it got into combat.

At Ft. Wayne, the company and five of its staff did not contest the criminal charges and received $31,000 in fines plus suspended jail sentences. One of those convicted was Thor Johnson, Anaconda Wire and Cable representative for the entire state of Indiana.

The fact that a pattern of fraud and concealment was followed in other Anaconda wire factories, according to the Justice Department officials, showed that the fraud must have been directed from up above. Anaconda Wire and Cable was also convicted at Pawtaucket, R. I., and four individuals given one to two years. Another fraud charge at Hastings-on-Hudson, N. Y., was dropped after Anaconda paid the government a total of $1,620,000 as a settlement for all its fraud damage.

Remarked Senator Bone of Washington: "The men who did this dreadful thing would be lined up before a firing-squad if they were in Germany or Russia."

But in the United States, the Truman administration proposes giving Anaconda a new contract.

Olin Industries Record — Another company under consideration for government aluminum aid is Olin Industries—by no means little business—which operates Winchester Arms; New Haven Bond Electric Corp; Western Power at Peoria, Ill.; Liberty Powder at Mount Braddock, Pa.; Ecusta Paper Co., in North Carolina; Central Railway Signal, Peru, Ind.; Pacific Railway Signal at Los Gatos, Calif.; Equitable Powder, Texas Powder, Columbia Powder, U. S. Powder, Egyptian Powder, and East Alton Public Service.

During the war ten members of one subsidiary, U. S. Cartridge, were indicted in St. Louis, for a conspiracy to pass defective ammunition, making false statements, and violating the Sabotage Act. Tried in April 1944, they were found not guilty. A second indictment dragged on for seven years and in 1950 was dropped by the government. The government is now appealing a civil suit for $214,000,000 against U. S. Cartridge to recover damages which it lost in the lower court.

Another column on companies with bad war records now profiting from big war contracts will follow soon.

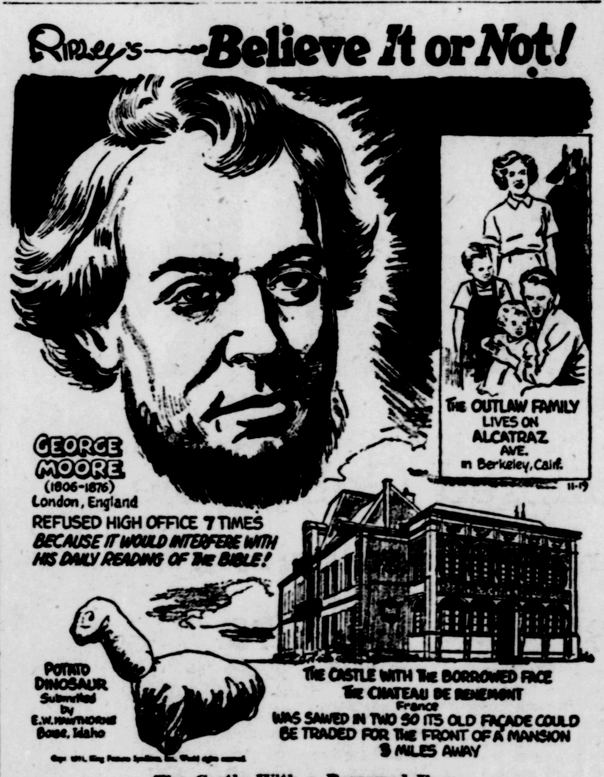
Untold Story

No one has reached the top of Mt. Everest and come back to tell the story. The world's highest mountain is over 29,000 feet. It is along the Nepal-Tibet border in Asia.



The Castle With a Borrowed Face

The castle with a borrowed face. Chateau de Renemont, France, built in the 16th century was sawn apart through its entire width. Its front part was transferred to the Lunati-Viscount Mansion in Nancy, three miles away. In turn, the same half of the Mansion was transferred to the Chateau and re-erected stone by stone. Now both the Castle and the Mansion have each other's facade. Why the architect thought that the front of the Mansion would look better upon the Castle is not known.

Hughes' Statement in 1924 Is Recalled as Having Parallel in Present Scandals

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Nov. 19 — Maybe Democratic campaign speakers do not relish a bit of plagiarizing from Republican campaign speakers of the past, but they will be well advised to read up on a speech delivered in 1924 by Charles Evans Hughes before the Republican State Convention of New York just after the teapot Dome scandals had rocked the country and made things look bad politically for the Republicans. They may be able to use it—provided the parallel is carried out.

The quotation comes to light in a new biography of Hughes written by Merlo J. Pusey, associate editor of the Washington Post, who says that the candor and sense of proportion exhibited by Hughes in that speech "had much to do with turning the public mind away from oil toward the rising tide of national prosperity." Hughes was at the time off the Supreme Court bench, having resigned in 1916 to make an unsuccessful race for the presidency. His speech, delivered on April 15, 1924, read in part as follows:

"Let it be understood that we do not condone wrong; we extenuate no crime . . . we would bring to the bar of justice every dishonest official and every perverter of administration in or out of office . . .

"Neither political party has a monopoly of virtue or of rascality. There are crooks in every community and in every party. Now and then, one gets into office. Let wrongs be exposed and punished, but let not partisan pecksniffs affect a "holier than thou' attitude. The corrupting currency may be found in Democratic satchels. One who is corrupt is as faithless to his party as to his government. Guilt is personal and corruption knows no party.

"Today, counsel of eminent ability and unimpeachable integrity, selected from both the great parties by a Republican president, are taking appropriate legal proceedings by which all the questions which have been raised as to the leasing of the public domain will be threshed out, every public interest will be safeguarded and every guilty person punished. These cases are in the courts where they belong and the courts will decide. It would be foolish, false and unpatriotic to breed distrust either of the integrity of the government or of the soundness of American life. That would be to assail the honor of the hosts of officials devoting their lives with unselfish fidelity to the country's interests."

William Howard Taft, an ex-president at that time, thought the speech was "as exceptional as the one you delivered for me in 1908." President Calvin Coolidge, who had come in from the vice presidency in 1923 on the death of Warren Harding, was re-elected in a landslide in 1924 because, as author Pusey says, the voters "must have concluded that the administration had successfully purged itself of the corruption it had inherited."

But the Democratic speakers of 1952 will not be able to use the above quotation unless President Truman does what Calvin Coolidge did. For the latter appointed two prominent lawyers, one a Democrat and the other a Republican, as special prosecutors reporting to him instead of to the attorney general. The result was that a Republican cabinet officer who had received a $100,000 bribe in a satchel was put in jail, as were others who had held high official positions under a Republican administration.

Mr. Truman thus far has not taken such a dramatic or far-reaching step. The prosecuting machinery of the Truman administration has lumbered along slowly, prodded largely by disclosures made by congressional investigating committees. In 1924 the congressional investigations really first brought out the oil scandals, but Mr. Coolidge was alert enough to act with stern efficiency in prosecuting, letting the chips fall where they might.

If the Truman administration does the same thing, it can live down the scandals now being uncovered. Righteous indignation alone will not do the trick. That Hughes speech lies ready for use by the Democratic speakers—provided their President does exactly what a Republican President did in somewhat the same circumstances in 1924.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

London — The British professional unioneer is a hard-boiled cynic with no compunction against butting into the domestic affairs of any other country, including ours, where he is now making socialistic mischief in secret cooperation with Americans for Democratic Action, the CIO and elements of the A.F. of L. He has no respect for anything good unless it can be put to some special use of the socialist conspiracy whose political manifestation in Great Britain is similar to Hitler's national socialism. Although the British Parliament is the model which is erroneously held up to the world as the finest example of "democratic" popular government, British unioneers, having first invaded, then controlled it, feel that they have, so to speak, had their way of it and now hold it in contempt. Without the slightest hesitency two spokesmen for the British Trades Union Congress informed me that it was the practice of unions to put "Labor" members of Parliament in their fee by outright subsidies intended, obviously, although they did not come down to that, to buy their votes for unionism and socialism in all cases arising.

With his cynicism and sordidness, the British unioneer is, or pretends to be, a goggle-eyed yokel in some respects. I suggest that he only pretends because it seems to me unlikely that politicians so practical and worldly in other matters could be as dumb as British political unioneers have outwardly seemed in their relations with criminals of the American union racket. They can read newspapers and they have listening posts in the United States just as the British foreign office has.

In 1930, the American Federation of Labor sent over a fraternal delegate to represent the great living body of American labor at the annual convention of the British Trades Union Congress at Nottingham. The A.F. of L. selected for this honor one of the most distinguished defenders of the holy cause of those who toil and shower down their dues and fees and kickbacks. This was Tommy Maloy, of Chicago, a Capone man and predecessor of Willie-Mack Bioff and rum-dum George Browne in the high command of the moving picture studio and theatre employes all over the states and Canada. Willie-Mack Bioff was and is called Willie-Mack because in our underworld and some of our tenderloin police stations a bargaining agent for ladies insensible alike to the inhibitions of decency and the lash of shame is known as a mackerel, derived from the French macquereau. Willie-Mack was convicted of this traffic and after a long spell of suspended zeal, the Chicago's state's attorney finally put him in jail to serve six months. During this detention he held office-hours in the Bridewell and kept a tub of iced beer in his office.

I do not know who killed Tommy Maloy at last but I do know that Bioff and Browne took the most immediate and biggest profit from demise. It seems almost inevitable that they sent flowers bearing the conventional motto in golden letters on purple silk, "To a Pal."

With Tommy Maloy a number of ladies and gentlemen, the beauty and the chivalry of unionism in Chicago, came to Nottingham and Tommy was so fraternal that a number of distinguished British unioneers have never forgotten him. One night he took over the large room of an inn and started buying wine. He bought wine until they ran out of wine and had to go out scrounging wine in other resorts. An English statesman of the union movement recalled that one of the ladies slipped one of her shoulder straps down, exposing an expanse of what-do-you-suppose, and tumbled her hair down and squawked a repertoire of popular songs. He states that what with her artistic exertions, the summer heat and the imprisoned laughter of the peasant girls of France, she worked up a running sweat which washed off her make-up and revealed a series of white lines running this way and that way which might have been made with a razor although a can-opener was sometimes used for certain rites in the social set which Maloy and Willie-Mack Bioff and rum-dum Browne frequented. The can opener was inserted in the corner of the patient's mouth and yanked. This left a scar which was known in their wry humor as "the laughing mouth."

Look trouble in the face and laugh at it—unless your trouble is your wife or your boss.

As Pegler Sees It

Sir Walter Citrine, now Lord Citrine, a noted British unioneer, observed Tommy Maloy at his fraternal works in Nottingham and remarked that the American chap must be very important because he had brought along so many "secretaries." He had indeed brought along a bevy of assistants and while it may be true that they were secretaries, that could be a hasty assumption.

Ernest Bevin looked in on the gala and was displeased and was displeased although, of course, it would have been unbecoming of a host to remonstrate with Brother Moloy for giving the union racket a bad name.

Toward closing, Brother Maloy hauled out a massed wad of English money and told the waiter to help himself. The waiter brought him a receipt but Malloy brushed it aside.

"To hell with it," he said. An English colleague advised him in a whisper to be sure to take the receipt because errors could happen and one might find that one was paying more than once for the same bottle of wine.

"To hell with it," Brother Maloy insisted.

Altogether, the English unioneers were given to understand, Brother Malloy unloaded $30,000 on his fraternal mission to Nottingham. Of course, it never occurred to any of the fine statesmen of British unionism to inquire whether Maloy ran a good union of loyal subjejcts or to wonder how the great A. F. of L. could have selected a man of such singular qualities. They never asked how the A. F. of L. came to send P. J. Morrin, an old dynamiter, ex-convict and union racketeer better known as Paddy the Priest, to the Blackpool conference in 1938. Or how Joe Moreschi, of the Hodcarriers, was chosen for the British convention, which Brother Moreschi approached with a large retinue by way of Naples, Rome, Florence, Switzerland, Paris and London. The entourage included Judge Grogna, now of the highest trial court in Boston, then counsel to the union, with all expenses paid by the Faceless Man back home. When I asked Judge Brogna if he thought this roundabout approach to Bristol was the least expensive to the toilers who were footing the bill, he warned me to beware lest I libel him. I certainly was grateful for that free advice from this eminent jurist, because I don't want to get into any trouble.

They still talk about that wine-party in the British union halls.

Brother Maloy finally lost his head and departed this life in one. He was driving along in his car in Chicago when another car pulled even and a weapon known as a blast-furnace was stuck in his face and discharged a shrapnel of old Ford axles, chain links, nuts and bolts.

WISE BUSINESSMEN ADVERTISE IN THE FREEMAN FOR RESULTS

HIGH FALLS

High Falls, Nov. 16—A Thanksgiving service commemorating the 75th anniversary of the founding of The Clove Chapel will be held at the chapel Sunday at 3 p. m. with the Rev. George Wood of the Rochester Reformed Church bringing the message. A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend.

Silas Countryman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Countryman, is in the Benedictine Hospital in Kingston.

Pvt. Harry Turner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Turner, is now in Korea.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice H. Shillman and daughters, Susan and Pamela of Riverdale, were dinner guests Monday night of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Fulford. They were returning home from a vacation spent in Shokan.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Ayres were dinner guests Sunday of their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Briggs of Hurley.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Barrett and children, Stanley Jr. and Julia Ann, of Hampton, Va., are spending the week with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Barrett.

Mrs. Hubert Smith and Mrs. David Dalton attended the meeting at St. John's Episcopal Church in Monticello Wednesday of the Hudson-Rampo District Women's Auxiliary.

Cpl. and Mrs. Fred Moone spent last weekend in Washington, D. C. Cpl Moone is stationed temporarily at Pine Camp. On Nov. 26, he reports to Fort Dix, N. J.

Capt. Clarence Winchell and family of Fort Dix spent the weekend at their home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Dyer, Jr., of Wawarsing celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary Oct. 30. Guests from here included their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Dyer, Sr., and their sister and family, Mrs. Helen Lambertson and children, Billy and Susie.

Announcements of the birth of Marc Philip Weingarten on Nov. 4 have been received by friends here. The child's mother is the former Dorothy Tannenbaum of this place, now Mrs. Jerome Weihgarten of Lucas avenue extension.

Mrs. Kelton Jansen sailed this week for Germany to join her husband, Lr. Kelton Jansen stationed at Geissen. Mrs. Jansen sailed on the S.S. Washington with 1100 other wives and children of army personnel in Europe.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Steen, Mr. and Mrs. Festus Yeaple, Mr. and Mhs. Ernest Jansen, Mrs. Silas Church and Harold Van Kleeck were among those attending the annual banquet of the Grand Jurors' Association in the Hotel Stuyvesant in Kingston Wednesday night.

School will close Wednesday noon for the Thanksgiving vacation and will reopen Monday, Nov. 26.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Merrihew left for Florida Monday. They expect to spend the winter there.

As Pegler Sees It

that what with her artistic exertions, the summer heat and the imprisoned laughter of the peasant girls of France, she worked up a running sweat which washed off her make-up and revealed a series of white lines running this way and that way which might have been made with a razor although a can-opener was sometimes used for certain rites in the social set which Maloy and Willie-Mack Bioff and rum-dum Browne frequented. The can opener was inserted in the corner of the patient's mouth and yanked. This left a scar which was known in their wry humor as "the laughing mouth."

Sir Walter Citrine, now Lord Citrine, a noted British unioneer, observed Tommy Maloy at his fraternal works in Nottingham and remarked that the American chap must be very important because he had brought along so many "secretaries." He had indeed brought along a bevy of assistants and while it may be true that they were secretaries, that could be a hasty assumption.

Ernest Bevin looked in on the gala and was displeased and was displeased although, of course, it would have been unbecoming of a host to remonstrate with Brother Moloy for giving the union racket a bad name.

Toward closing, Brother Maloy hauled out a massed wad of English money and told the waiter to help himself. The waiter brought him a receipt but Malloy brushed it aside.

"To hell with it," he said. An English colleague advised him in a whisper to be sure to take the receipt because errors could happen and one might find that one was paying more than once for the same bottle of wine.

"To hell with it," Brother Maloy insisted.

Altogether, the English unioneers were given to understand, Brother Malloy unloaded $30,000 on his fraternal mission to Nottingham. Of course, it never occurred to any of the fine statesmen of British unionism to inquire whether Maloy ran a good union of loyal subjects or to wonder how the great A. F. of L. could have selected a man of such singular qualities. They never asked how the A. F. of L. came to send P. J. Morrin, an old dynamiter, ex-convict and union racketeer better known as Paddy the Priest, to the Blackpool conference in 1938. Or how Joe Moreschi, of the Hodcarriers, was chosen for the British convention, which Brother Moreschi approached with a large retinue by way of Naples, Rome, Florence, Switzerland, Paris and London. The entourage included Judge Grogna, now of the highest trial court in Boston, then counsel to the union, with all expenses paid by the Faceless Man back home. When I asked Judge Brogna if he thought this roundabout approach to Bristol was the least expensive to the toilers who were footing the bill, he warned me to beware lest I libel him. I certainly was grateful for that free advice from this eminent jurist, because I don't want to get into any trouble.

They still talk about that wine-party in the British union halls.

Brother Maloy finally lost his head and departed this life in one. He was driving along in his car in Chicago when another car pulled even and a weapon known as a blast-furnace was stuck in his face and discharged a shrapnel of old Ford axles, chain links, nuts and bolts.

Man—That man is one of our leading capitalists.

Visitor—Why, I had no idea you had such a man of wealth in your city. What line does he follow?

Man—The capitalization of the letter I.

Miss Newlwed slammed the door right in the face of the salesman who wanted to sell her sealing wax. He might think her green but who ever heard of anybody wanting to wax the ceiling.

If you drive to work or home from work, slow down in dusk or darkness. You cannot drive safely when you cannot see so well, so you must allow that extra few minutes driving time. Slow down at sundown, and live to see the sun again.

Judge—So you claim you robbed the delicatessen store because you were starving? Why didn't you take something to eat instead of stealing all the cash out of the register?

Accused—'Cause I'm a proud man, Jndge, an' I make it a rule to pay for everything I eat.

The bandits of today do not consider they've done a good job unless they rob two or three stores on their way from the bank to the station.

At a street intersection a stout woman asked the traffic officer:

Stout Woman—Could you see me across the street?

Suicide Attempt Fails, Woman Is In Good Condition

Mrs. Evelyn Descaro, 26, of Brooklyn, who state police said shot herself in the chest Saturday night, was reported in "good" condition at the Benedictine Hospital at noon today.

Troopers said Mrs. Descaro used a friend's .32 calibre Smith and Wesson revolver to shoot herself in a room at Schoentag's Hotel near Saugerties.

The woman left a dinner party "in a depressed mood" about 9 p. m. Saturday, troopers learned. After the shooting was discovered, she was treated by Dr. Robert A. McCaig of Saugerties and taken to the hospital.

She had come to Schoentag's on a hunting trip on Thursday, Nov. 15, with Alfonso DeLallo, 36, and Edaline Acampora, 36, both also of Brooklyn, state police said.

Lake Katrine troopers who investigated reported that Mrs. Descaro had been despondent over her two children she had not seen in two years. They were living with her estranged husband in Chicago, state police learned.

The gun, belonging to DeLallo, was properly registered and no charges were filed.

MODENA NEWS

Modena, Nov. 19—The traditional community Thanksgiving services, with the congregations of the Modena and Clintondale Methodist Church and the Clintondale Friends Churches uniting, will be conducted Wednesday, Nov. 21 at 8 p. m., in the Clintondale Friends Church. The Rev. James Brimelow, pastor of the Friends Church, will be in charge of the services, and the Rev. William A. Imler, pastor of the Methodist Churches, will deliver the sermon, the theme of which will be To Be a Pilgrim. Special music will be furnished by the Friends Choir.

Approximately 100 persons attended the community party held recently at the Hasbrouck Memorial Hall in charge of the Rev. William Imler, Mrs. DuBois Grimm, Mrs. Lester Arnold and Gerald DuBois. A good time was reported in the social get-together and refreshments were served by members of the Wesleyan Service Guild of the Modena Methodist Church. This was the preliminary plan to open the hall as a community center for the youth and adult members of the community. The first of these planned recreational programs was held Tuesday night in the hall with Gerald DuBois as general supervisor and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Paltridge of Wallkill as leaders. It is hoped that similar programs may be held each Tuesday at the hall. Anyone wishing to contribute equipment or games for the evening's recreational period are advised to contact the Rev. and Mrs. William Imler at the Methodist parsonage in Modena.

Local members of the New Hurley Missionary Society attended a meeting at the home of Mrs. Joseph Monell in Newburgh Thursday when Mrs. Charles Jenkins presented The Spirit of Brewton on the program of entertainment. Mrs. Albert Cronk was in charge of devotions.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Van Duser of Sylva, Mrs. Albert Molson, Mrs. Roy DuBois and daughter Marylou, attended the dinner given campaign workers of the Benedictine Hospital drive at the Municipal Auditorium in Kingston, recently. To date the canvassers in the Clintondale, Modena and Ardonia area solicited the sum of $236 for the building fund of the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Roosa and daughter, Joan, were among guests entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lott F. Ellis, Walden, at a turkey dinner last Sunday night. The dinner was served in observance of the birthdays of Mrs. Harry Roosa and Robert Ellis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lott Ellis, of Upper New York state.

Robert DuBois of the army has been spending a furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Simon DuBois, before being transferred to Georgia. He was previously stationed in Oklahoma.

Mr. and Mrs. John Davis of Lloyd were visitors of Mrs. A. D. Wager and daughter Sunday.

Mrs. Roy H. DuBois and daughter, Marylou, were visitors in Newburgh Saturday.

Bruce Conklin of New Paltz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Conklin of that village and former residents of this place, has received a promotion to a managerial post at the IBM in Poughkeepsie.

Phoenicia Man Fined For Leaving Scene

Robert Lane, 34, of Phoenicia was fined $10 on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident when he was arraigned Sunday night before Justice of the Peace Morton Bertrand. He was arrested on complaint of Sigmund Slavinski of Bloomfield, who reported the side of his truck damaged by an automobile that continued on at 12:10 a. m. Sunday.

Lane was apprehended by troopers on Route 28 near the Maverick Inn after his car had run out of gasoline, troopers reported. The entire side of his automobile was smashed in, troopers said.

At the time, Lane was arrested on a charge of public intoxication. He was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Roger Loughran of the town of Hurley and was sentenced to pay a fine of $10, execution of which was suspended. Then arraigned before Justice Bertrand on the charge of leaving the scene, he was fined $10 and in addition given a suspended 30-day sentence.

Three Are Injured As Car Hits Pole

Three persons were treated at Vassar Brothers Hospital in Poughkeepsie after the automobile in which they were riding crashed into a utility pole on Route 299 one-half mile west of Highland early today.

State police at Highland reported Miss Marlene Cesano, 18, of 61 Broadway, Kingston, was treated for lacerations to her hand, and Miss Marie Krakowski, 22, of 73 Pearl street, this city, was treated for multiple abrasions.

Richard Paganelli, 32, of Poughkeepsie, received a possible fractured leg and lacerations, troopers said. Paganelli was admitted to the hospital. The two Kingston residents were released after treatment.

Troopers said they were riding in a car driven by Victor Cardarella, 25, of 3 Davis street, Poughkeepsie. He was issued a summons by Trooper N. G. Lecakes charging him with operating a motor vehicle "at a dangerous rate of speed." The summons is returnable before Justice of the Peace William Upright at 6 p. m. today.

Firemen Answer Five Calls During Weekend

Among several slight fires over the weekend was one early Sunday in a mattress at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Firemen were called at 3:43 a. m., to room 208 occupied by Mrs. John Nolan, of Bronxville. The mattress was thrown from a window by firemen.

A call at 12:40 p. m., Saturday was for smoke from a chimney in a house owned by Cora Garvin, 9 Hone street.

Another call at 10:04 p. m., Sunday was for chimney trouble in a house owned by Mrs. Freida Osterhoudt, 79 Van Buren street. Slight damage was reported.

A call at 1:50 p. m. Sunday was for a brush fire at Spring and Hudson streets and one at 8:54 p. m., was for burning leaves at Foxhall and Highland avenues.

Sweet Talk

Chattanooga, Tenn. (AP)—Casey, the cop, will have to turn diplomat to carry out an assignment recently handed the Cattanooga Police Department. Officers are instructed to strike up a conversation with any school age child they see on the streets during class hours. Chief Ed Ricketts says officers must not intimidate the children but "try to talk them, in a nice manner, into going back to their class rooms." If Skinny will talk, the cop is to get his name and school, then telephone his principal. It's a cooperative project thought out by the Junior Chamber of Commerce to combat delinquency.

Potato Output Falls

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 19 (AP)—Potato production in New York state this year slumped 23 per cent below 1950 and 18 per cent under the 10-year average. The State Agriculture Department reported yesterday the 1951 crop totaled 26,385,000 bushels.

Accord House Damaged by Fire

"Green Pastures," the one-story home of Mrs. Elsie Mackey near Accord was badly damaged by fire late Saturday night, Fire Chief Howard Anderson of Accord reported.

No one was at home when the fire broke out about 11:45 p. m. Saturday. The fire was discovered by neighbors, who turned in the alarm.

With ample water available from a nearby creek, firemen were able to save a garage and another biulding, but the fire had already damaged the home by the time it was discovered, firemen said.

Mrs. Mackey is the owner of the Ship's Galley Inn.

MODENA NEWS

Modena, Nov. 19—The traditional community Thanksgiving services, with the congregations of the Modena and Clintondale Methodist Church and the Clintondale Friends Churches uniting, will be conducted Wednesday, Nov. 21 at 8 p. m., in the Clintondale Friends Church. The Rev. James Brimelow, pastor of the Friends Church, will be in charge of the services, and the Rev. William A. Imler, pastor of the Methodist Churches, will deliver the sermon, the theme of which will be To Be a Pilgrim. Special music will be furnished by the Friends Choir.

Approximately 100 persons attended the community party held recently at the Hasbrouck Memorial Hall in charge of the Rev. William Imler, Mrs. DuBois Grimm, Mrs. Lester Arnold and Gerald DuBois. A good time was reported in the social get-together and refreshments were served by members of the Wesleyan Service Guild of the Modena Methodist Church. This was the preliminary plan to open the hall as a community center for the youth and adult members of the community. The first of these planned recreational programs was held Tuesday night in the hall with Gerald DuBois as general supervisor and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Paltridge of Wallkill as leaders. It is hoped that similar programs may be held each Tuesday at the hall. Anyone wishing to contribute equipment or games for the evening's recreational period are advised to contact the Rev. and Mrs. William Imler at the Methodist parsonage in Modena.

Local members of the New Hurley Missionary Society attended a meeting at the home of Mrs. Joseph Monell in Newburgh Thursday when Mrs. Charles Jenkins presented The Spirit of Brewton on the program of entertainment. Mrs. Albert Cronk was in charge of devotions.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Van Duser of Sylva, Mrs. Albert Molson, Mrs. Roy DuBois and daughter Marylou, attended the dinner given campaign workers of the Benedictine Hospital drive at the Municipal Auditorium in Kingston, recently. To date the canvassers in the Clintondale, Modena and Ardonia area solicited the sum of $236 for the building fund of the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Roosa and daughter, Joan, were among guests entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lott F. Ellis, Walden, at a turkey dinner last Sunday night. The dinner was served in observance of the birthdays of Mrs. Harry Roosa and Robert Ellis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lott Ellis, of Upper New York state.

Robert DuBois of the army has been spending a furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Simon DuBois, before being transferred to Georgia. He was previously stationed in Oklahoma.

Mr. and Mrs. John Davis of Lloyd were visitors of Mrs. A. D. Wager and daughter Sunday.

Mrs. Roy H. DuBois and daughter, Marylou, were visitors in Newburgh Saturday.

Bruce Conklin of New Paltz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Conklin of that village and former residents of this place, has received a promotion to a managerial post at the IBM in Poughkeepsie.

Phoenicia Man Fined For Leaving Scene

Robert Lane, 34, of Phoenicia was fined $10 on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident when he was arraigned Sunday night before Justice of the Peace Morton Bertrand. He was arrested on complaint of Sigmund Slavinski of Bloomfield, who reported the side of his truck damaged by an automobile that continued on at 12:10 a. m. Sunday.

Lane was apprehended by troopers on Route 28 near the Maverick Inn after his car had run out of gasoline, troopers reported. The entire side of his automobile was smashed in, troopers said.

At the time, Lane was arrested on a charge of public intoxication. He was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Roger Loughran of the town of Hurley and was sentenced to pay a fine of $10, execution of which was suspended. Then arraigned before Justice Bertrand on the charge of leaving the scene, he was fined $10 and in addition given a suspended 30-day sentence.

Las Vegas, Nev., Nov. 19 (AP)—The first in a new series of atomic detonations went off at the Yucca Flat test site at 9 a. m. (PST) today.

A flash was visible in Las Vegas, 75 miles from the test site.

Three Are Injured As Car Hits Pole

Three persons were treated at Vassar Brothers Hospital in Poughkeepsie after the automobile in which they were riding crashed into a utility pole on Route 299 one-half mile west of Highland early today.

State police at Highland reported Miss Marlene Cesano, 18, of 61 Broadway, Kingston, was treated for lacerations to her hand, and Miss Marie Krakowski, 22, of 73 Pearl street, this city, was treated for multiple abrasions.

Richard Paganelli, 32, of Poughkeepsie, received a possible fractured leg and lacerations, troopers said. Paganelli was admitted to the hospital. The two Kingston residents were released after treatment.

Troopers said they were riding in a car driven by Victor Cardarella, 25, of 3 Davis street, Poughkeepsie. He was issued a summons by Trooper N. G. Lecakes charging him with operating a motor vehicle "at a dangerous rate of speed." The summons is returnable before Justice of the Peace William Upright at 6 p. m. today.

Firemen Answer Five Calls During Weekend

Among several slight fires over the weekend was one early Sunday in a mattress at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Firemen were called at 3:43 a. m., to room 208 occupied by Mrs. John Nolan, of Bronxville. The mattress was thrown from a window by firemen.

A call at 12:40 p. m., Saturday was for smoke from a chimney in a house owned by Cora Garvin, 9 Hone street.

Another call at 10:04 p. m., Sunday was for chimney trouble in a house owned by Mrs. Freida Osterhoudt, 79 Van Buren street. Slight damage was reported.

A call at 1:50 p. m. Sunday was for a brush fire at Spring and Hudson streets and one at 8:54 p. m., was for burning leaves at Foxhall and Highland avenues.

Sweet Talk

Chattanooga, Tenn. (AP)—Casey, the cop, will have to turn diplomat to carry out an assignment recently handed the Cattanooga Police Department. Officers are instructed to strike up a conversation with any school age child they see on the streets during class hours. Chief Ed Ricketts says officers must not intimidate the children but "try to talk them, in a nice manner, into going back to their class rooms." If Skinny will talk, the cop is to get his name and school, then telephone his principal. It's a cooperative project thought out by the Junior Chamber of Commerce to combat delinquency.

Potato Output Falls

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 19 (AP)—Potato production in New York state this year slumped 23 per cent below 1950 and 18 per cent under the 10-year average. The State Agriculture Department reported yesterday the 1951 crop totaled 26,385,000 bushels.

Accord House Damaged by Fire

"Green Pastures," the one-story home of Mrs. Elsie Mackey near Accord was badly damaged by fire late Saturday night, Fire Chief Howard Anderson of Accord reported.

No one was at home when the fire broke out about 11:45 p. m. Saturday. The fire was discovered by neighbors, who turned in the alarm.

With ample water available from a nearby creek, firemen were able to save a garage and another biulding, but the fire had already damaged the home by the time it was discovered, firemen said.

Mrs. Mackey is the owner of the Ship's Galley Inn.

It is a sign of wisdom rather than weakness for executives to seek outside management assistance

Kerhonkson

Kerhonkson, Nov. 19—The Kerhonkson Union School football squad closed the season by defeating the Tri-Valley team from Grahamsville by 18.0. Jim Mesceda scored all three touchdowns.

The Kerhonkson basketball club will open its season Nov. 27 by playing Ellenville. Other games scheduled are at Otisville, Dec. 5; at Grahamsville, Dec. 11; here against Marlborough, Dec. 14; Highland, Dec. 18. The season will be resumed after the holidays.

The Kerhonkson VFW has entered the Hudson Valley Bowling League. Last Sunday the VFW defeated Rapp's at Kingston in all three games.

The Mmes. Alfred Feldshuh and Donald A. Downs and their daughters, Lena, Dana and Carol were in Poughkeepsie Monday.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of VFW will make a return trip to the Veteran's Hospital at Castle Point. Such gifts as monopoly sets, cribbage boards, chess sets, puzzles, pocket book editions, cigarettes and candy are sought. Gifts may be brought to the Victory Store or contact John Kilgannon or Mrs. Irving Gilman.

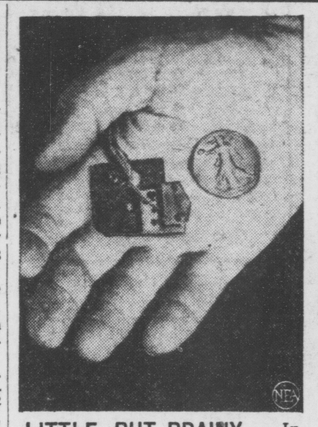
Mrs. Joseph Friedman and Mrs. Anna Poole, leaders of the doll project, held their first meeting at the home of Mrs. Friedman. These dolls will be distributed through a charitable organization at Christmas time.

Mrs. Roland Riegel entertained at bridge Thursday afternoon. Those present besides the hostess were the Mmes. Paul McCabe, Roy Gunther, and Henry Decker.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Bronstein and daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Kline of Poughkeepsie, were entertained Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Decker.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Geary motored to Kingston Friday night when they visited Joseph Doyle at the Golden Hill Sanitarium who was celebrating his birthday.

William Decker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Decker, who is with the Seabees, writes his parents that he is now stationed on the Island of Luzon in the Philippines.



LITTLE, BUT BRAINY — In the hand of engineer John T. Mullin is the "brain or lens" of a new electronic device that permits recording moving pictures on tape in the same way sound is now recorded. Half dollar gives comparison of its size. Developed by Mullin and Wayne R. Johnson at the laboratory of Bing Crosby Enterprises, Los Angeles, Calif., the new picture recorder, when perfected, could eliminate all film from movies and television.

Underwater Television

Washington, Nov. 19 (AP)—The navy has developed an underwater television setup to lesson the hazards and difficulties often encountered by divers working on the bottom of the sea. Wraps were taken off the project Saturday when the navy told of perfection of an underwater T-V camera that has been used at depths as great as 400 feet. Experts had been working on the sea-to-surface setup for three years.

School Head Dies

Weston, Vt., Nov. 19 (AP)—Arthur V. Boothby, 73, superintendent of schools in Mamaroneck, N. Y., for 25 years until his retirement in 1942, died yesterday. Born in Rensselaer, N. Y., he was a graduate of the State Normal College in Albany and Columbia University Teachers College. He was a past master of Noah Lodge of Masons in Altamont.

Two Girls Return Home

Baltimore, Nov. 19 (AP)—Two 17-year-old girls who left a fashionable Pennsylvania preparatory school and took jobs jerking sodas in a downtown drug store were back at their respective homes today. Marion Traendly, whose father is a prosperous flower merchant in Rowayton, Conn., and Nancy Steck, whose daddy owns a hotel at Sea Girt, N. J., were found here yesterday. Police said they ran away from Penn Hall Junior College and Prepartory School at Chambersburg, Pa., last Monday rather than face discipline for unauthorized visits to a skating rink.

Kerhonkson

Kerhonkson, Nov. 19—The Kerhonkson Union School football squad closed the season by defeating the Tri-Valley team from Grahamsville by 18.0. Jim Mesceda scored all three touchdowns.

The Kerhonkson basketball club will open its season Nov. 27 by playing Ellenville. Other games scheduled are at Otisville, Dec. 5; at Grahamsville, Dec. 11; here against Marlborough, Dec. 14; Highland, Dec. 18. The season will be resumed after the holidays.

The Kerhonkson VFW has entered the Hudson Valley Bowling League. Last Sunday the VFW defeated Rapp's at Kingston in all three games.

The Mmes. Alfred Feldshuh and Donald A. Downs and their daughters, Lena, Dana and Carol were in Poughkeepsie Monday.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of VFW will make a return trip to the Veteran's Hospital at Castle Point. Such gifts as monopoly sets, cribbage boards, chess sets, puzzles, pocket book editions, cigarettes and candy are sought. Gifts may be brought to the Victory Store or contact John Kilgannon or Mrs. Irving Gilman.

Mrs. Joseph Friedman and Mrs. Anna Poole, leaders of the doll project, held their first meeting at the home of Mrs. Friedman. These dolls will be distributed through a charitable organization at Christmas time.

Mrs. Roland Riegel entertained at bridge Thursday afternoon. Those present besides the hostess were the Mmes. Paul McCabe, Roy Gunther, and Henry Decker.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Bronstein and daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Kline of Poughkeepsie, were entertained Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Decker.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Geary motored to Kingston Friday night when they visited Joseph Doyle at the Golden Hill Sanitarium who was celebrating his birthday.

William Decker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Decker, who is with the Seabees, writes his parents that he is now stationed on the Island of Luzon in the Philippines.

LITTLE, BUT BRAINY — In the hand of engineer John T. Mullin is the "brain or lens" of a new electronic device that permits recording moving pictures on tape in the same way sound is now recorded. Half dollar gives comparison of its size. Developed by Mullin and Wayne R. Johnson at the laboratory of Bing Crosby Enterprises, Los Angeles, Calif., the new picture recorder, when perfected, could eliminate all film from movies and television.

Underwater Television

Washington, Nov. 19 (AP)—The navy has developed an underwater television setup to lesson the hazards and difficulties often encountered by divers working on the bottom of the sea. Wraps were taken off the project Saturday when the navy told of perfection of an underwater T-V camera that has been used at depths as great as 400 feet. Experts had been working on the sea-to-surface setup for three years.

School Head Dies

Weston, Vt., Nov. 19 (AP)—Arthur V. Boothby, 73, superintendent of schools in Mamaroneck, N. Y., for 25 years until his retirement in 1942, died yesterday. Born in Rensselaer, N. Y., he was a graduate of the State Normal College in Albany and Columbia University Teachers College. He was a past master of Noah Lodge of Masons in Altamont.

Two Girls Return Home

Baltimore, Nov. 19 (AP)—Two 17-year-old girls who left a fashionable Pennsylvania preparatory school and took jobs jerking sodas in a downtown drug store were back at their respective homes today. Marion Traendly, whose father is a prosperous flower merchant in Rowayton, Conn., and Nancy Steck, whose daddy owns a hotel at Sea Girt, N. J., were found here yesterday. Police said they ran away from Penn Hall Junior College and Prepartory School at Chambersburg, Pa., last Monday rather than face discipline for unauthorized visits to a skating rink.

Orchestra to Play

Those attending the Senior play last week not only had an opportunity to witness a fine dramatic production but they also enjoyed a varied program of music by the Kingston High School orchestra under the direction of Harry Buchin, instructor. The group played selections before the opening of the curtain and also between each of the acts.

This year the orchestra numbers 58 members and has shown steady improvement during the past three years.

This year members of the orchestra include June Gunther, Michael Muller, Edward Cranberg, Robert McGreevy, Robert Shellenberger, Peter Cohn, George Dahl, Gretchen Dedy, Louis Brown, Mary Fiore, Dave Schwart, Carolyn Bell, Pat Zimmerman.

Other members are Mary Lou Kellerhouse, Barbara Chmura, James Wrinn, De Costa Dawson, Glenda Wentworth, Florence Woerner, Clyde Brodhead, John Schatzel, Judith Strong, Bert Bishop, Audrey Kallert, Richard Lamoreaux, Betty Dabney, Robert Coutant, Louis Perry, Ole Christensen.

Also Theo Marabel, Nancy Bryant, Walter Ellsworth, Robert Luedtke, Etta Brant, Edwin Angell, Harold Carlson, Robert Pomeroy, Martin Kelley, Harry Freer and George Duffner.

Gowned Ushers

Another attraction for those attending the Senior class production of Goodhousekeeping last week was the opportunity to be escorted to their seats by formally gowned ushers.

Retail Classes

The Cooperative Retailing class, periods one and two, completed its displays last week.

The first crew included the following students: Chris Rienzo, Pete Camp and Charles Sangaline. They made a display pertaining to winter clothes for men. The material was loaned through the courtesy of Kaye Sportwair.

The other group consisted of Ida Marchetti, Jacqueline Lake and Lillian Long. Their display pertained to different kinds of hair preparations. Merchandise was loaned through the courtesy of Grant's and Newberry's.

The retail classes of periods three and four also completed two window displays last week.

The first show case displayed women's silver jewelry arranged on light green velvet. Those in charge were Robert Perry, Clarke Ede and Jerome Cashin. Schneider's Jewelry store loaned the articles.

The second display included children's toys, airplanes, trucks, guns and jig-saw puzzles arranged on a white background by Ronald Bruck, Paul Brown and William O'Reilly. Articles were loaned through the courtesy of Kresge's.

Three Babies Suffocate

New York, Nov. 19 (AP)—Three babies died in their sleep last night. They were victims, police said, of steam suffocation and gas poisoning caused by an apparently faulty portable radiator hooked to a gas stave. Police tried for 90 minutes to revive the Negro children—Teddy Williams, 3; his brother Ronnie, 2, and their two-month-old sister, Yvonne. Their mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Williams, was away from home, police said, and a neighbor found the babies unconscious.

Iron-Iodine Starved Blood and Glands Leave Thousands Feeling "Only Half-Alive"

If you have been ill, ailing, out of condition or low-spirited and possibly because you fail to get sufficient Vitamins and Iron from the food you eat, you do not "come back" as quickly as you should—you owe it to yourself to get a bottle of the new Iodine-Iron-Vitamin reconstructive tonic known as FERRIZAN.

Do not confuse Ferrizan with old-fashioned liquid Iron tonics. Ferrizan is more than a tonic, it is a truly modern Dietary Supplement that, because of its Iodine content, does infinitely more than either Iron or Vitamins alone or in combination. Nerves should be steadier—eyes brighter—appetite back—physically and mentally more alert—your outlook on life much more optimistic.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Try to Open Bidding In Part-Score Hand

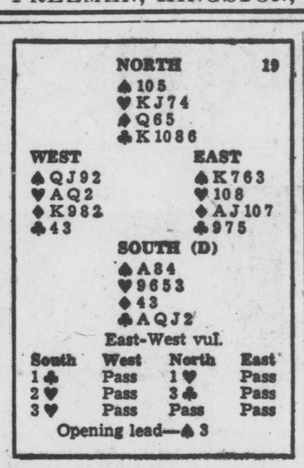
By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

In rubber bridge or in a total-point bridge contest a part-score contract is of only limited importance. You can't afford to bid too vigorously when the strength is evenly divided because it doesn't pay to expose yourself to a possibly severe penalty when all you can gain is a part score.

The safest way to compete in these situations is to open the bidding with even the barest requirements for an opening bid. We can see the advantage of this procedure by examining a hand played in the recent contest for the team championship of the United States.

At one table, as shown in the diagram, South opened the bidding with his "minnie." The opponents just never entered the auction, and it is hard to blame them for staying out. They were vulnerable, and the penalty might be severe if they stepped out of line.

North made three hearts easily enough, for a score of 140 points. He had to lose two diamonds and one spade, and good luck in the trump suit restricted his losses there to one trick.



In the other room, South decided that his hand was not worth an opening bid. Certainly his hand is no rock-crusher, but the point is that if he fails to open the bidding he may never to be able to get back into the auction. This was indeed the case, for the bidding proceeded:

South	West	North	East
Pass	1 Spade	Pass	2 Spades
Pass	Pass	Pass

This time it was West who made nine tricks with ease, for a score of 140 points. He had to lose a spade, a heart, and two clubs, and the overtrick depended only on guessing the location of the queen of diamonds.

The difference between opening the bidding and passing turned out to be 280 points. Quite a few points for a part-score hand.

Share Is Announced

Washington, Nov. 19 (AP)—The state-by-state share of the half billion dollar federal highway aid for fiscal 1952 was announced yesterday by Secretary of Commerce Sawyer. New York gets the most, Vermont the least. Under the Federal Aid Highway Act approved Sept. 7, $225,000,000 was set aside for projects on the federal-aid highway system, $150,000,000 for the secondary road system, and $125,000,000 for urban areas. New York's share amounts to $30,724,302, closely followed by $29,681,979 for Texas. Vermont's share was $1,993,186.

Criticizes New York Mayor

New York, Nov. 19 (AP)—Walter Hoving, chairman of the New York city anti-sales tax committee, criticized Mayor Vincent R. Impellitteri yesterday for announcing Saturday that the city would need $150,000,000 more in taxes to meet municipal operations. Hoving, a Fifth avenue department store executive, said the mayor is "sadly lacking in vigorous leadership" to run New York efficiently and economically.

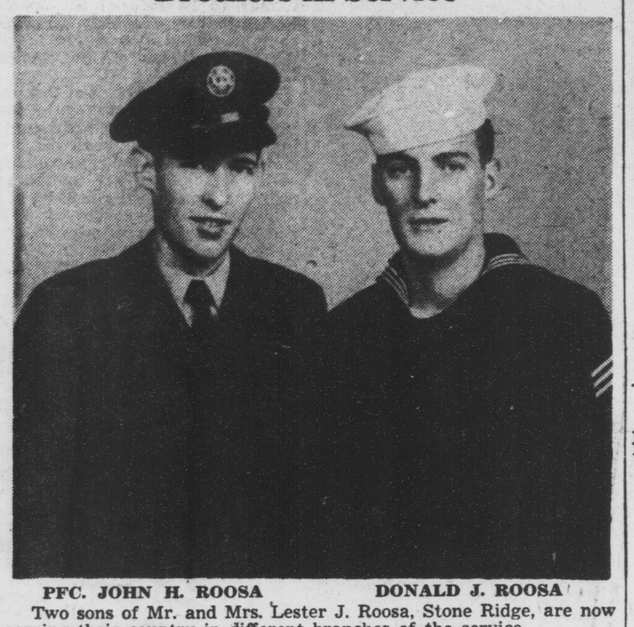
Brothers in Service



PFC. JOHN H. ROOSA DONALD J. ROOSA

Two sons of Mr. and Mrs. Lester J. Roosa, Stone Ridge, are now serving their country in different branches of the service.

Pfc. John H. Roosa, a graduate of Kingston High School in 1949, enlisted in the air force Dec. 29, 1950, and after taking basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, Tex., he was sent to Barksdale Air Force Base, Shreveport, La. He was graduated from machinist school, Chanute Air Force Base, Illinois, Oct. 19, 1951. After spending a 10-day furlough with his parents, he returned to Barksdale for a new assignment.

Donald J. Roosa, FTSN, enlisted in the navy August 15, 1950, and received his boot training at the Great Lakes Naval Training Center, Illinois. He was graduated from the U. S. Naval Technical School, Washington, D. C., Oct. 26, 1951. He was graduated from Kingston High School in June, 1950. After spending a 10-day leave with his parents, he will report to Norfolk, Va. (Pennington Photos)

In Germany

PVT. CHARLES J. STYLES

Pvt. Charles J. Styles, son of Mrs. Charles Styles of 37 Park street and the late Charles Styles, is stationed in Munich, Germany, with the 43rd Infantry Division. Pvt. Styles is a graduate of St. Peter's Parochial School, Kingston High School and Spencer's Business School. He entered service March 19, 1951.

Aboard Destroyer

Vincent J. Nicolosi, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nicolosi of 74 Florence street, who entered the navy on June 25, has completed his basic training at Great Lakes Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill. S/A Nicolosi is now assigned to duty aboard the destroyed USS Liddle off the coast of Virginia.

Serving in Korea

Pfc. J. L. McCUTCHEON

Mr. and Mrs. Peter McCutcheon of Hurley have received word that their son, Pfc. James L. McCutcheon is now serving in Korea with the U. S. Army.

Pfc. McCutcheon graduated from the Port Richmond High School, Staten Island and attended Albany Business College. He enlisted in the army in March of this year and had 14 weeks basic engineer training and eight weeks training in the Leader's school at Fort Belvoir, Va. Following a two weeks' furlough, he flew to Seattle, Washington, on Sept. 17 where he received his Korean assignment.

Scheduled to graduate Nov. 16 from the naval engineman school, Great Lakes, Ill., is Richard White, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. White, Sr., of 44 West O'Reilly street.

THE FIRST THANKSGIVING

Illustrated by Walter Scott

Several days after leaving the Pilgrims, Samoset returned. This time he strode at the head of a large band of warriors.

Uncertain of the Indians' intentions, Standish greeted them with a military guard of honor.

Instinctively, the Indians realized that they were being received with courtesy and respect. They were thoroughly delighted.

Rudy Promoted

Arthur N. Rudy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rudy, 60 Miller's lane, stationed at Tulin Air Base, Vienna, Austria, has been promoted from corporal to sergeant. He enlisted in September 1950 and arrived last January at the air base, the only one maintained by the United States behind the Iron Curtain. He is a Kingston High School graduate and before entering service was employed by Kingston Buick in the parts department.

Democratic Women Make Donation

A contribution of $25 was sent to the Christmas Cheer committee by the Ulster County Women's Democratic Club during a well attended meeting of the organization on Thursday at McCabe's Restaurant.

The members heard a talk given by Thomas Plunket, chairman of the Ulster county Democratic organization.

Plans were made for the annual card party which will take place January 10, at the home of Mrs. Bertha Peckerman, 68 Plymouth avenue. Mrs. Rose Hogan was named general chairman.

Meet Them at Thanksgiving Eve Ball

HARVEY STONE

RICHARD MONTI

Harvey Stone and Richard Monti will be among the featured entertainers at Congregation Ahavath Israel annual Thanksgiving Ball at the municipal auditorium, Wednesday evening, Nov. 21. Stone, the well-known comedian of stage and television fame, has one of the most dynamic personalities in show business. His soldier routine is hilarious. He was mentioned in Ed Sullivan's Daily News column Sunday as being among the top comedians in the show world and who is always on hand as a dependable performer for veterans in overseas stations. Others mentioned by Sullivan were Bob Hope, Danny Kaye and Danny Thomas.

Richard Monti is a good looking young baritone soloist who was featured in the Broadway show A Flag Is Born with Paul Muni. He is a talented young chap who has been lionized at the leading entertainment spots from coast to coast, including the Copacabana.

The doors to the auditorium will open at 7:15 p. m. Wednesday when there will be plenty of room for general admission ticket holders. The overture will begin at 8:30 p. m. and the featured entertainers will be presented at 9 p. m. Xavier Cugat and his nationally famed orchestra will play for the dancing until 1:30 p. m.

Music Appreciation Group Studies Rossini

Mrs. William Petry, addressing the Music Appreciation Group of the YWCA Women's Club gave a summary of the life, style and works of Gioacchino Rossini. The group met at the home of Mrs. William Jackson on Thursday afternoon.

Developing the theme of Rossini's early evidences of genius, Mrs. Petry called attention to his study of voice as well as instruments. The speaker noted the immediate popularity of his compositions and, as the idol of the populace, how he became director of two opera houses in Naples.

His great masterpiece The Barber of Seville the speaker revealed, written in 1816 and founded on the same plot as Mozart's Marriage of Figaro can stand beside that work in its clever characterizations, its patter songs and its sparkling wit.

It was noted by Mrs. Petry that 16 operas were written by Rossini at public demand.

Rossini became known far beyond the borders of Italy, the group was told, and he became the favorite at Vienna. Here he produced Wilhelm Tell in 1829 a work with plenty of musical scene painting and descriptive passages. The dramatic overture remains a favorite number with bands everywhere.

At the height of his career, he suddenly retired and write very little for the balance of his life. The speaker concluded that this provided music researchers with one of the great enigmas of musical history.

The following recordings were played: Barber of Seville overture, NBC orchestra; Cinderella overture, NBC orchestra; "Who Would Not Pity from the Stabat Mater and sung by Alma Gluck, soprano and Louise Homer, contralto; and Inflammatus sung by Lucy Marsh. The selections were in charge of Mrs. Alfred Schmid.

At the tea following the meeting, Mrs. Charles Brandt, Mrs. Franklin Pierce, Mrs. Norman Swibold and Mrs. Helen Ferger poured. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Conrad Heiselman Thursday, Dec. 6.

Practical Nurses Hear About New Drugs, Effects

Dr. Donald Dickson, of Nebraska, a public health physician, who is located temporarily in this city, was the guest speaker before the recent meeting of the Ulster County Division of Practical Nurses.

Dr. Dickson spoke on new drugs and their affects. Another feature of the meeting included the showing of a sound film, Newer Frontiers of Medicine, by Miss Audrey Christie, public health educator of the public health office, John street.

An informal discussion followed on the film and related subjects.

During the business meeting, it was reported the first card party of the group had been a financial success.

The annual dinner of the group will be held Thursday night, Dec. 6, at the Barn. Mrs. Anna Hasselman is chairman with Mrs. Beatrice Cole and Mrs. Inez Schwab of Kerhonkson assisting. Reservations must be made through Mrs. Hasselman, 42 Chapel street, telephone 1269-M.

About one-third of all knitted underwear manufactured in the United States is made at Utica, N. Y.

Management Club Entertains at Barn

The Industrial Management Club of Kingston celebrated its second annual Ladies' Night at The Barn on Thursday when Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk was the guest of honor.

Jack Haulenbeck, president, was master of ceremonies and after introducing Mayor Newkirk to the large assemblage, presented the featured entertainers including Fred Van Deusen, local magician, and the Vassar Nite Owls, a choral group from Vassar College. During the dinner, Margo and Parker, currently at The Barn, entertained with piano and vocal selections.

The Vassar Nite Owls were acclaimed by the members and their guests as an outstanding choral group. Their program included many favorite songs. The chorus led by Dorothy Lamb, president, included Jean Bronson, Ruth Mitchell, Marny Ruhm, Patty Phillips, Courtnay Garland, Nancy Spofford, Joan Carr, Jane Sowell, Ally-Lou Beal and Ariane Yasukovitch.

Clair S. Schaeffer, vice president, made several awards to the ladies. Music for dancing was played by The Four Keys.

HOW FRANK MAY SHE BE?

The following question is a difficult one to answer. A bride-to-be writes: "I am going to be married soon and many people have asked me what I would like for a wedding present. This rather puts me on the spot as I haven't any idea how much people intend to spend; and I am at a loss to know what to tell them. Is there a correct way to handle this embarrassing situation?"

To an intimate friend who would probably want to give you a nice present you could say, "Our silver is the Queen pattern from Bland and Company" and she could give you something toward it. To others you could say: "We have nothing for our house and we would like almost anything."

Wearing a Corsage

Dear Mrs. Post: I'd like to know on which side a woman is supposed to wear a corsage?

Answer: Wherever it looks best. This would depend on the design of the dress she is going to wear and also upon whether she is going to dance. In this latter case she should avoid wearing it on her left side where it is most likely to be crushed against his coat.

Blond by All Means

Dear Mrs. Post: After living with my parents for the past two years my husband and I finally found an apartment. My problem is one of furnishing. We have a lovely mahogany bedroom set that we bought when we were married. We would like to furnish the rest of our apartment wth blond wood but don't know whether it would be in good taste to mix both types of wood. Will you please tell us if this is proper, or should we follow through with mahogany?

Answer: It is correct to furnish each room as a separate unit, and usually more pleasing to have variety, than too much sameness.

Marking Man's Handkerchiefs

Dear Mrs. Post: I would like to give my boy friend some handkerchiefs for his birthday but am not sure how they should be marked. Should they be marked with his first initial or last initial?

Answer: Best with both—otherwise last.

Should engagement announcements be made publicly through the newspaper or by written notes to my friends? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail, but details on the engagement including the announcement will be found in her leaflet E-1, "Engagements." To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to her c/o The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

DOROTHY BOURKE

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur M. Bourke of 4609 Prince avenue, Downers Grove, Ill., announce the engagement of their daughter, Dorothy, to Elmer A. Havens, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer C. Havens, 123 Greenkill avenue, this city. The wedding will take place on Sunday, Dec. 23, in the First Methodist Church of Downers Grove.

Miss Bourke, a graduate of Cornell College, Mount Vernon, Iowa, is teaching Music and English in the Renwick, Iowa, high school. Her finance, also a graduate of Cornell College, is now attending Drew Theological Seminary, Madison, N. J.

Electrol Workers, Management Donate $240 for Children

The first industrial gift, a sizeable $240 from employes and management at Electrol Incorparted, was announced today by the Christmas Cheer Committee.

Publicity chairman, Mrs. Sam N. Mann, said the donation was a welcome one since the treasury of the committee is under a heavier strain than ever.

She said Mrs. G. D. Logan, treasurer, was exceedingly happy over the gift, and hopes that other firms in the area may desire to help swell the fund for the benefit of needly children of the city.

"There are a lot of youngsters whose Christmas will be happier," she said, if we are able to help them."

Mrs. G. W. Moore, general chairman, said she anticipates a heavier demand for presents this year, and feels certain that appeals made by the Cheer Committee will not go unheeded.

Those desiring to make donations of money may send them to the treasurer, Mrs. G. D. Logan, 68 Garden street.

RICHARD MONTI

Harvey Stone and Richard Monti will be among the featured entertainers at Congregation Ahavath Israel annual Thanksgiving Ball at the municipal auditorium, Wednesday evening, Nov. 21. Stone, the well-known comedian of stage and television fame, has one of the most dynamic personalities in show business. His soldier routine is hilarious. He was mentioned in Ed Sullivan's Daily News column Sunday as being among the top comedians in the show world and who is always on hand as a dependable performer for veterans in overseas stations. Others mentioned by Sullivan were Bob Hope, Danny Kaye and Danny Thomas.

Richard Monti is a good looking young baritone soloist who was featured in the Broadway show A Flag Is Born with Paul Muni. He is a talented young chap who has been lionized at the leading entertainment spots from coast to coast, including the Copacabana.

The doors to the auditorium will open at 7:15 p. m. Wednesday when there will be plenty of room for general admission ticket holders. The overture will begin at 8:30 p. m. and the featured entertainers will be presented at 9 p. m. Xavier Cugat and his nationally famed orchestra will play for the dancing until 1:30 p. m.

Music Appreciation Group Studies Rossini

Mrs. William Petry, addressing the Music Appreciation Group of the YWCA Women's Club gave a summary of the life, style and works of Gioacchino Rossini. The group met at the home of Mrs. William Jackson on Thursday afternoon.

Developing the theme of Rossini's early evidences of genius, Mrs. Petry called attention to his study of voice as well as instruments. The speaker noted the immediate popularity of his compositions and, as the idol of the populace, how he became director of two opera houses in Naples.

His great masterpiece The Barber of Seville the speaker revealed, written in 1816 and founded on the same plot as Mozart's Marriage of Figaro can stand beside that work in its clever characterizations, its patter songs and its sparkling wit.

It was noted by Mrs. Petry that 16 operas were written by Rossini at public demand.

Rossini became known far beyond the borders of Italy, the group was told, and he became the favorite at Vienna. Here he produced Wilhelm Tell in 1829 a work with plenty of musical scene painting and descriptive passages. The dramatic overture remains a favorite number with bands everywhere.

At the height of his career, he suddenly retired and write very little for the balance of his life. The speaker concluded that this provided music researchers with one of the great enigmas of musical history.

The following recordings were played: Barber of Seville overture, NBC orchestra; Cinderella overture, NBC orchestra; "Who Would Not Pity from the Stabat Mater and sung by Alma Gluck, soprano and Louise Homer, contralto; and Inflammatus sung by Lucy Marsh. The selections were in charge of Mrs. Alfred Schmid.

At the tea following the meeting, Mrs. Charles Brandt, Mrs. Franklin Pierce, Mrs. Norman Swibold and Mrs. Helen Ferger poured. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Conrad Heiselman Thursday, Dec. 6.

Practical Nurses Hear About New Drugs, Effects

Dr. Donald Dickson, of Nebraska, a public health physician, who is located temporarily in this city, was the guest speaker before the recent meeting of the Ulster County Division of Practical Nurses.

Dr. Dickson spoke on new drugs and their affects. Another feature of the meeting included the showing of a sound film, Newer Frontiers of Medicine, by Miss Audrey Christie, public health educator of the public health office, John street.

An informal discussion followed on the film and related subjects.

During the business meeting, it was reported the first card party of the group had been a financial success.

The annual dinner of the group will be held Thursday night, Dec. 6, at the Barn. Mrs. Anna Hasselman is chairman with Mrs. Beatrice Cole and Mrs. Inez Schwab of Kerhonkson assisting. Reservations must be made through Mrs. Hasselman, 42 Chapel street, telephone 1269-M.

250th Anniversary At Rochester Church Deemed Successful

The two day celebration to mark the 250th anniversary of the founding of the Rochester Reformed Church at Accord was deemed to be a most gratifying success by the Rev. George D. Wood, pastor, who reports the average attendance at three services was 157 persons with the high mark reached on Monday evening, Nov. 12, when more than 200 persons were present.

Former living pastors of the church who could not attend the historic event sent messages which were read to those present. Many former pastors attended the services. Numerous articles of historic importance in the life of the church were on display and attracted much attention.

To conclude the celebration, a social time was had following the Monday night service, and featured a large birthday cake marked with 250. The young woman who served refreshments were most attractive in their costumes of earlier years.

Local Educators Attend Meeting in Rochester

Delegates representing more than 50,000 members of the New York State Teachers' Association gathered at the Hotel Seneca in Rochester today to attend the House of Delegates, the representative assembly of the association.

The delegates representing the teachers of Kingston are Warren Russell, director of Audio-Visual Education; Mrs. Marion Murray, teacher at Kingston High School; Miriam Halloran, teacher at Myron J. Michael School; and Marvin Craft, teacher at the Vocational School.

The main speakers at the convention are Lieutenant Governor Frank C. Moore, John P. Myers, chancellor of the Board of Regents; and Dr. James M. Spinning, superintendent of Rochester schools.

The Alfred E. Smith Award will be presented to the layman who has most advanced the cause of education in New York state.

Ford Assets Reported

Boston, Nov. 19 (AP)—The Ford Motor Co. today reported its assets on Dec. 31, 1950 were $1,469,091,000—up $126,742,000 over the previous year. The company's financial statement was filed with Massachusetts Tax Commissioner Henry F. Long under the state law which requires filing here. The statement signed by Henry Ford II, president, and by the treasurer, L. E. Briggs, and seven directors reports that earnings retained for use in business in 1950 were $623,769,000—a gain of $59,357,000 from the preceding year. The report shows the Ford Motor Co. has authorized 20,000,000 shares of common stock with a par value of $5, but only 3,452,900 shares worth $17,264,500 are outstanding.

250th Anniversary At Rochester Church Deemed Successful

The two day celebration to mark the 250th anniversary of the founding of the Rochester Reformed Church at Accord was deemed to be a most gratifying success by the Rev. George D. Wood, pastor, who reports the average attendance at three services was 157 persons with the high mark reached on Monday evening, Nov. 12, when more than 200 persons were present.

Former living pastors of the church who could not attend the historic event sent messages which were read to those present. Many former pastors attended the services. Numerous articles of historic importance in the life of the church were on display and attracted much attention.

To conclude the celebration, a social time was had following the Monday night service, and featured a large birthday cake marked with 250. The young woman who served refreshments were most attractive in their costumes of earlier years.

Local Educators Attend Meeting in Rochester

Delegates representing more than 50,000 members of the New York State Teachers' Association gathered at the Hotel Seneca in Rochester today to attend the House of Delegates, the representative assembly of the association.

The delegates representing the teachers of Kingston are Warren Russell, director of Audio-Visual Education; Mrs. Marion Murray, teacher at Kingston High School; Miriam Halloran, teacher at Myron J. Michael School; and Marvin Craft, teacher at the Vocational School.

The main speakers at the convention are Lieutenant Governor Frank C. Moore, John P. Myers, chancellor of the Board of Regents; and Dr. James M. Spinning, superintendent of Rochester schools.

The Alfred E. Smith Award will be presented to the layman who has most advanced the cause of education in New York state.

other neighbor, Mrs. George Dvorick.

The house is a two-story frame building, well known in this area as the old Knoll homestead. An entire section in the back of the house from the cellar to the roof was burned and some hacking by the firemen was necessary to bring the blaze under control. The full extent of the damage is not known.

Randala's wife and three year old daughter had left yesterday for a short visit in New York. The Randalas, former residents of New York, had taken possession of their new home just three weeks ago.

Attend Inspection

Mrs. Raymond Trumpait, high priestess of Judea White Shrine and Mrs. Arthur J. Keator, past district deputy, attended the inspection and ceremonial of Lebanon White Shrine, held in the Niagara room, Hotel Statler, Buffalo, on Saturday, Nov. 17, when 26 candidates were initiated.

Meta Pointer, supreme high priestess of Canadian and U. S. Shrines, made her official visit, accompanied by her staff of supreme officers. Visitors were present from Ohio, Michigan and Canada.

Cars Leased by Government

White House automobiles are not the personal property of U. S. Presidents. They are leased by the government from manufacturers, who supply the cars at nominal rates because of the publicity value.

Ford Assets Reported

Boston, Nov. 19 (AP)—The Ford Motor Co. today reported its assets on Dec. 31, 1950 were $1,469,091,000—up $126,742,000 over the previous year. The company's financial statement was filed with Massachusetts Tax Commissioner Henry F. Long under the state law which requires filing here. The statement signed by Henry Ford II, president, and by the treasurer, L. E. Briggs, and seven directors reports that earnings retained for use in business in 1950 were $623,769,000—a gain of $59,357,000 from the preceding year. The report shows the Ford Motor Co. has authorized 20,000,000 shares of common stock with a par value of $5, but only 3,452,900 shares worth $17,264,500 are outstanding.

Boy's Eye Is Injured

Herbert Ostrander, 9, of 35 Murray street, suffered an eye injury Saturday when he was struck by what police described as a "home-made arrow." Police headquarters was notified at 3 p. m., by Mrs. Elmer Ostrander, the boy's mother. The arrow was shot by another young boy, the report said. Young Ostrander was taken to Kingston Hospital for treatment and was later treated by a doctor. The extent to which the boy's vision might have been impaired will not be known for a few days, the report said.

Bull Charges Truck, Killed

Alexandria, Va., Nov. 19 (AP)—A huge black Angus bull bullied Sunday drivers on a heavily traveled highway for 12 hours yesterday until it finally went too far and charged a trailer truck. The impact overturned the truck and killed the bull. Before the wreckage could be cleared another car ploughed into the truck. Driver of the car, Marine Sgt. Shafter Collins, 21, stationed at Quantico, Va., suffered chest injuries and shock. The bull was valued by its owner, Harry E. Alward, Bailey's Crossroads, Va., at $1,800. Damage to the truck was estimated at $2,800.

"Can I afford to heat my home ELECTRICALLY?"

Everybody has dreams of heating an entire house by electricity. Everybody knows that electric heat is CLEAN, SAFE and DEPENDABLE.

But nobody knows whether electric is within reach of the good old average American pocketbook.

Nobody, that is, except the folks who've had a talk with a GLASSHEAT dealer . . or the folks who have already tried GLASSHEAT in their own homes.

The GLASSHEAT DEALER will tell you how much electric heating will cost, based on your electric rate. He will show you what is needed (if anything) to make electric heating of your home an economy . . . and will give you figures to prove that the total cost of installation of a system of GLASSHEAT panels plus what insulation you might need is usually less than a heating system alone.

HIGHLAND NEWS

The Misses Bertha Dean and Anna Lee Rice, Lyonsville, visited the former's mother, Mrs. Edwin Clark Saturday.

Mrs. Peter Burdash and Patricia and David Burdash drove to her home in Johnson City for the weekend and were accompanied by Mrs. Gordon Wilcox and Margaret Wilcox who spent the weekend with the former's daughter and husband, Dr. and Mrs. Theodore Nowicki and son, Binghamton.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Columbe have returned after spending the summer at their former home, Plattsburg.

S. D. Farnham is home after being a patient at Vassar Hospital for a few days for treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip T. Schantz spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hacket, White Plains.

Mrs. Sarah Goerth will entertain the PNG of Vineyard Rebekah Lodge Monday night.

The Rev. Stanley Jones, pastor of the Methodist Church as director of adult work in the sub-district, will attend the Adult Fellowship rally in the Methodist Church, Warwick, Sunday, Nov. 25.

J. W. Alsdorf is spending a two weeks' vacation in Miami, Fla.

Clifford Terpening is a patient in Vassar Hospital.

Mrs. Charles C. Whittaker entertained a foursome of bridge Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Earl Marion substituted Wednesday for Mrs. Shirley Fowler in 2C grade.

School closes Wednesday noon of next week for the Thanksgiving weekend.

The food demonstration scheduled for the Highland Grange has been canceled for the present.

Mrs. Lillian Shultis, county president of the WCTU, was the speaker at the meeting of the local union held Thursday with Mrs. James Swift.

Albert H. Martin appeared before the Town Board at the meeting Thursday suggesting that another light be placed near the parking lot. There had been a request for another light on White street and one on the New Paltz road. This was referred to the committee on lights. Road superintendent Allen Decker was authorized to have signs made and installed at the two entrances to Church street calling attention to free parking space off Church street. The Lloyd Rod and Gun Club was to be asked to post notices for no hunting about the immediate area of the reservoirs. James Casaburo was named dog census enumerator. The board with legal talent will attend the hearing in Poughkeepsie regarding the discontinuance of service on the New York, New Haven Railroad except in carload lots and will go on record as opposed to the closing of the service. Frank Marx, water and sewer superintendent, asked that a number of fire hydrants be moved six inches into the streets and a bulge be placed about them to protect motorists. This will call for approval of county and state highway departments. Mr. Marx was told to give the number and location of the hydrants. He also said the pumping of water up to the reservoirs had been discontinued. During the past season the pump had been in operation 1651 engine hours, pumped 45,000,000 gallons of water at a cost of $50 per million gallons. From 482 to 500 gallons of water are pumper per minute according to the speed of the engine. During the month Town Clerk Callahan had received from water collections, $3,850.93; sewer, $188.75; rent, $10; welfare refund, $50; assessors, $7.32; justices, $90.

Taking part in the Junior play in the school auditorium on the evening of Nov. 30 will be Robert Mayen, Lulu Smalley, Paula Filiberti, Franklin Walsh, Robert Ose, Jean Ann Noe, Gertrude Proctor, Earl Devine, Margaret Gruner, Harold DuBois. The prompters are Jacqueline Hart and Ernest Kreth.

The Student Council of the high school has completed the annual magazine campaign. This covered a period of 10 days and sales amounted to $1,689 of which 30 per cent is retained in the council's treasury. The high salesman was Francis Canino. Student Council committees are: Student business manager, Edward Walsh; assistant, Ann Friedman, chairman of publicity and promotion, Clarence Patrick, Franklin Walsh; record and auditing, Mavis Cook; assembly programs, Doris Mills; assistants of the entire staff, Barbara Harcourt, Robert Simpson; chief faculty advisor, Miss Ann McPhail.

Mrs. William Warren and baby have returned from Vassar Hospital. Mrs. Warren is the former Miss Doris Terpening.

Mrs. Helen Schaeffer, Mrs. Lura Ean, Mrs. Dorothy Temm were initiated into Vineyard Rebekah Lodge at the recent meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius LeFevre are remaining in New York as Mrs. LeFevre met with an accident from which she suffered a broken ankle on the eve of their leaving for Texas.

Kidney Slow-Down May Bring Restless Nights

When kidney function slows down, many folks complain of nagging backache, headaches, dizziness and loss of pep and energy. Don't suffer restless nights with these discomforts if reduced kidney function is getting you down—due to such common causes as stress and strain, over-exertion or exposure to cold. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages.

Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

Boy's Eye Is Injured

Herbert Ostrander, 9, of 35 Murray street, suffered an eye injury Saturday when he was struck by what police described as a "home-made arrow." Police headquarters was notified at 3 p. m., by Mrs. Elmer Ostrander, the boy's mother. The arrow was shot by another young boy, the report said. Young Ostrander was taken to Kingston Hospital for treatment and was later treated by a doctor. The extent to which the boy's vision might have been impaired will not be known for a few days, the report said.

CD Transportation Discussed

Bull Charges Truck, Killed

Alexandria, Va., Nov. 19 (AP)—A huge black Angus bull bullied Sunday drivers on a heavily traveled highway for 12 hours yesterday until it finally went too far and charged a trailer truck. The impact overturned the truck and killed the bull. Before the wreckage could be cleared another car ploughed into the truck. Driver of the car, Marine Sgt. Shafter Collins, 21, stationed at Quantico, Va., suffered chest injuries and shock. The bull was valued by its owner, Harry E. Alward, Bailey's Crossroads, Va., at $1,800. Damage to the truck was estimated at $2,800.

HIGHLAND NEWS

The Misses Bertha Dean and Anna Lee Rice, Lyonsville, visited the former's mother, Mrs. Edwin Clark Saturday.

Mrs. Peter Burdash and Patricia and David Burdash drove to her home in Johnson City for the weekend and were accompanied by Mrs. Gordon Wilcox and Margaret Wilcox who spent the weekend with the former's daughter and husband, Dr. and Mrs. Theodore Nowicki and son, Binghamton.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Columbe have returned after spending the summer at their former home, Plattsburg.

S. D. Farnham is home after being a patient at Vassar Hospital for a few days for treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip T. Schantz spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hacket, White Plains.

Mrs. Sarah Goerth will entertain the PNG of Vineyard Rebekah Lodge Monday night.

The Rev. Stanley Jones, pastor of the Methodist Church as director of adult work in the sub-district, will attend the Adult Fellowship rally in the Methodist Church, Warwick, Sunday, Nov. 25.

J. W. Alsdorf is spending a two weeks' vacation in Miami, Fla.

Clifford Terpening is a patient in Vassar Hospital.

Mrs. Charles C. Whittaker entertained a foursome of bridge Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Earl Marion substituted Wednesday for Mrs. Shirley Fowler in 2C grade.

School closes Wednesday noon of next week for the Thanksgiving weekend.

The food demonstration scheduled for the Highland Grange has been canceled for the present.

Mrs. Lillian Shultis, county president of the WCTU, was the speaker at the meeting of the local union held Thursday with Mrs. James Swift.

Albert H. Martin appeared before the Town Board at the meeting Thursday suggesting that another light be placed near the parking lot. There had been a request for another light on White street and one on the New Paltz road. This was referred to the committee on lights. Road superintendent Allen Decker was authorized to have signs made and installed at the two entrances to Church street calling attention to free parking space off Church street. The Lloyd Rod and Gun Club was to be asked to post notices for no hunting about the immediate area of the reservoirs. James Casaburo was named dog census enumerator. The board with legal talent will attend the hearing in Poughkeepsie regarding the discontinuance of service on the New York, New Haven Railroad except in carload lots and will go on record as opposed to the closing of the service. Frank Marx, water and sewer superintendent, asked that a number of fire hydrants be moved six inches into the streets and a bulge be placed about them to protect motorists. This will call for approval of county and state highway departments. Mr. Marx was told to give the number and location of the hydrants. He also said the pumping of water up to the reservoirs had been discontinued. During the past season the pump had been in operation 1651 engine hours, pumped 45,000,000 gallons of water at a cost of $50 per million gallons. From 482 to 500 gallons of water are pumper per minute according to the speed of the engine. During the month Town Clerk Callahan had received from water collections, $3,850.93; sewer, $188.75; rent, $10; welfare refund, $50; assessors, $7.32; justices, $90.

Taking part in the Junior play in the school auditorium on the evening of Nov. 30 will be Robert Mayen, Lulu Smalley, Paula Filiberti, Franklin Walsh, Robert Ose, Jean Ann Noe, Gertrude Proctor, Earl Devine, Margaret Gruner, Harold DuBois. The prompters are Jacqueline Hart and Ernest Kreth.

The Student Council of the high school has completed the annual magazine campaign. This covered a period of 10 days and sales amounted to $1,689 of which 30 per cent is retained in the council's treasury. The high salesman was Francis Canino. Student Council committees are: Student business manager, Edward Walsh; assistant, Ann Friedman, chairman of publicity and promotion, Clarence Patrick, Franklin Walsh; record and auditing, Mavis Cook; assembly programs, Doris Mills; assistants of the entire staff, Barbara Harcourt, Robert Simpson; chief faculty advisor, Miss Ann McPhail.

Mrs. William Warren and baby have returned from Vassar Hospital. Mrs. Warren is the former Miss Doris Terpening.

Mrs. Helen Schaeffer, Mrs. Lura Ean, Mrs. Dorothy Temm were initiated into Vineyard Rebekah Lodge at the recent meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius LeFevre are remaining in New York as Mrs. LeFevre met with an accident from which she suffered a broken ankle on the eve of their leaving for Texas.

"Can I afford to heat my home ELECTRICALLY?"

Everybody has dreams of heating an entire house by electricity. Everybody knows that electric heat is CLEAN, SAFE and DEPENDABLE.

Nobody, that is, except the folks who've had a talk with a GLASSHEAT dealer . . or the folks who have already tried GLASSHEAT in their own homes.

The GLASSHEAT DEALER will tell you how much electric heating will cost, based on your electric rate. He will show you what is needed (if anything) to make electric heating of your home an economy . . . and will give you figures to prove that the total cost of installation of a system of GLASSHEAT panels plus what insulation you might need is usually less than a heating system alone.

SHOKAN

Shokan, Nov. 19—Fred Swibold was numbered among the Kingstonians calling in the village center Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Palen, former residents of Olive, are spending a part of their vacation at the home of Mr. Palen's sister, Mrs. Justus North. Mrs. Palen has also visited her sisters in Buffalo. Bob who was brought up at Ashokan is employed by the State of California and the couple make their home near Los Angeles. His wife is the former Adelaide Colgate of Boiceville.

Frank Tucek, 5, of near Halcottville, was bitten on both legs by a fox which also chased his sister but did not bite her. The fox, presumably rabid, got away before the men of the household could shoot him. A large gray fox had been seen fighting the dog of Carroll Hinkley, Jr., earlier that day.

Ebba Andre, uptown Kingston resident and frequent visitor to Shokan, has about recovered from the effects of a fall on the sidewalk in which she suffered two broken ribs.

Mary Jackson, formerly of Shokan, was guest Monday of her friend Mary Gulnack of Van-Steenburgh Lane.

Saturday, Nov. 17, marked another birthday for Granville Miller who with his wife, the former Marie Rose of Olive Bridge, resided in the village center for a time. Granville was born at Accord, a son of Warren and Angie Miller. He is a War 2 veteran of three years infantry service.

George Sweet, one of Shandaken's best known citizens, was a caller here Thursday. George currently is employed in getting out hemlock boughs for the Christmas trade. The branches, cut about three feet long, are taken to the city in five-ton loads. Much of the Christmas trees and trim are harvested over in Greene county. The cutting of balsam which reportedly commands a price of $125 a ton, will begin soon.

Elder Amasa Slauson and wife of Kingston were callers in Shokan Thursday. Elder Slauson, a preacher of the local O. S. Church, is a native of Delaware county and his wife, the former Edith Secor, was brought up in the Coons district of Shokan.

Jacoby on Canasta

Freezing Pack Is Best Defense

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

"Please tell me what I should have done," writes a Lynn (Mass.) correspondent. "It was a game of four experienced Canasta players. The opponents needed 120 points for the first meld, and we needed only 90 points.

"With only four cards in the discard pile, the player at my right went down with three aces, three tens and three nines. I made a safe discard, and the player at my left then added two tens and two nines to his partner's melds. My partner drew from the stock pile and discarded a five, which turned out to be safe.

"The opponent at my right then drew from the stock pile and discarded a seven. I held:

K-K Q-Q J-J 10-9 2-2-2.

"I drew a black three from the stock pile. What should I do? Should I meld with the assistance of my deuces? Should I just discard the black three without melding? Or should I just discard a deuce to freeze the pack?"

The likeliest-looking play is to discard a deuce, freezing the pack. It is your best defense, and has the best chance of leading to any kind of offense.

The trouble with melding any of the picture cards is that your partner may have only a mess of eights, sevens, sixes, and fours. If so, you have wasted your deuces on melds that will never amount to much.

The trouble with just discarding the black three is that your partner may have no wild card with which to freeze the pack. You must freeze to make sure that he can safely discard any odd aces, tens, or nines that he holds. He need not worry once the pack is frozen, for he is discarding to a two-card hand.

You have three safe discards left, once you have frozen: the black three, the ten, and the nine. By that time, perhaps, your partner will be able to capture the pile or even meld from his hand. Or perhaps you will capture the pile and meld without wasting more than one deuce.

If the opponents meld out in the meantime, very little has been lost. Your failure to meld will cost you about 200 points, but this is a small price to pay for the chance of making a good score on the hand.

Columbia Studies Oneonta's Health

New York, Nov. 19 (AP)—Columbia University is studying the health of the entire adult population of Oneonta, N. Y., in a survey aimed at helping doctors to better serve the people.

Results of the study, which includes both mental and physical health, will enable the U. S. Public Health Service to determine the approximate effect on a community of such emergencies as epidemics, floods and bombings.

Lorge said the purpose of the study, believed to be the first of its kind, is to measure the health status of adults in a representative American community.

Tells of Plans

Harry L. Rigby, Jr., chairman of the Kingston Tercentenary celebration in 1952, addressed the Temple Emanuel Men's Club on that subject at a meeting on Nov. 15. A question and answer period followed Rigby's talk. Refreshments were served after the meeting. The next meeting for the club has been scheduled for Thursday, Dec. 13.

When Mean Colds Stuff You Up

It's so easy to relieve coughs and stuffiness of colds in a hurry this home-proved way . . . with 2 spoonfuls of Vicks VapoRub in a vaporizer or in a bowl of boiling water as directed in package.

Just breathe in the steam! Every single breath carries VapoRub's soothing medications deep into throat and large bronchial tubes. It medicates irritated membranes, helps restore normal breathing. For coughs or upper bronchial congestion there's nothing like using Vicks VapoRub in steam.

For continued relief always rub it on throat, chest and back. VICKS VAPORUB

Columbia Studies Oneonta's Health

New York, Nov. 19 (AP)—Columbia University is studying the health of the entire adult population of Oneonta, N. Y., in a survey aimed at helping doctors to better serve the people.

Results of the study, which includes both mental and physical health, will enable the U. S. Public Health Service to determine the approximate effect on a community of such emergencies as epidemics, floods and bombings.

Columbia is making the investigation for the Public Health Service. Prof. Irving Lorge, the survey director, disclosed the details of the study in a statement yesterday.

Lorge said the purpose of the study, believed to be the first of its kind, is to measure the health status of adults in a representative American community.

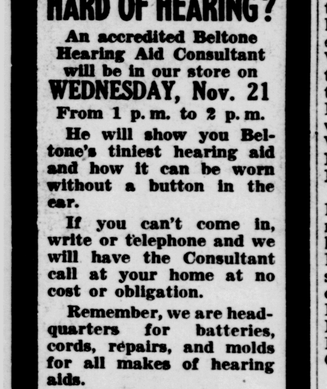
Tells of Plans

Harry L. Rigby, Jr., chairman of the Kingston Tercentenary celebration in 1952, addressed the Temple Emanuel Men's Club on that subject at a meeting on Nov. 15. A question and answer period followed Rigby's talk. Refreshments were served after the meeting. The next meeting for the club has been scheduled for Thursday, Dec. 13.



It's so easy to relieve coughs and stuffiness of colds in a hurry this home-proved way . . . with 2 spoonfuls of Vicks VapoRub in a vaporizer or in a bowl of boiling water as directed in package.

Just breathe in the steam! Every single breath carries VapoRub's soothing medications deep into throat and large bronchial tubes. It medicates irritated membranes, helps restore normal breathing. For coughs or upper bronchial congestion there's nothing like using Vicks VapoRub in steam.

For continued relief always rub it on throat, chest and back. VICKS VAPORUB

Can-Am League Postpones Action on '52 Plans Until Dec. Meeting

Colonials Withdraw; Some Want 8 Teams

The Kingston Colonials were out of the Class C Canadian-American Baseball League today, but the five remaining teams have postponed until Dec. 15 a decision on whether to continue operating.

Kingston Baseball Club, Inc., dropped out at yesterday's meeting in Schenectady.

Some club officials at the annual meeting called for an eight-team league in 1952, but others, however, expressed doubt they could field teams next season.

Want Eight Teams

The Gloversville-Johnstown club said it would stay in the circuit only if it were expanded to eight teams. Pittsfield, Mass., supported the eight-team idea.

The clubs remaining, in addition to Gloversville and Pittsfield, are Amsterdam, Oneonta and Rome.

Yankees Pull Out

County Judge Felix J. Aulisi, president of the Amsterdam club, said it was uncertain whether his club could operate next year, even if it obtained a working agreement with a major league team. He said the New York Yankees were returning the Amsterdam franchise to local interests and would not give them a working agreement.

Watertown and Auburn of the defunct Border League would like to join the Can-Am. Watertown was represented at yesterday's meeting by Ellsworth Haver. League President Albert E. Houghton said he had been approached by Auburn interests.

Dr. J. I. Rochefort of Three Rivers, Que., said that city and Quebec might return to the Can-Am if it were reorganized into a strong league of four Canadian and four American teams.

The Canadian teams bowed out of the Can-Am this year to play in the Provincial League of Canada, but they have the option of returning by Dec. 15, when the Can-Am directors meet in Schenectady.

President Albert E. Houghton was re-elected president.

First vice-president, Paul Tamburello, Pittsfield general manager; second vice-president, Dr. I. I. Kaplan, Rome president; treasurer, Dr. Leroy S. House, Oneonta president; recording secretary and publicity representative, John Halpin of Schenectady.

Baseball

San Francisco—Paul I. Fagan announced he plans to keep the San Francisco franchise in the Pacific Coast Baseball League. He previously has said he would sell the club.

Oneonta, N. Y. — Kingston dropped out of the Class C Canadian-American Baseball League and officials of five remaining clubs postponed until Dec. 15 a decision on whether to continue operation.

Chicago—Ben Hogan, National Open champion, named Golfer of the Year for the third time in the four-year history of the Professional Golfers Association's annual poll.

Johannesburg, South Africa—Vic Toweel of South Africa retained his world bantamweight title by outpointing Luis Romero of Spain.

Gorsline's 579 Leads Mixer

Bob Gorsline's 579, with 187-161-231, led the Ferraro Mixed League keglers last night, while Ed Haines' 178-105-162-445 was top score in the Pin Boy circuit.

John Healy was runnerup in the Ferraro Mixer with 202-543. Adabelle Markle paced the distaff department with 215-164-154-533. Other top scores included Fred Bruno's 200-521; Frank Vault 519; Dick Howard 514; Fred Ferraro 502; Jake Chichelsky and John Covey 205-497.

Second best in the Pin Boy loop was George Haines' 422 and F. Passer rolled 418 for the show spot.

SPORTS

By CHARLES J. TIANO
Freeman Sports Editor

First big smokescreen out of Newburgh on the forthcoming Kingston-Newburgh game was a report by "Bo" Gill that Don Jackson, the sensational Goldback, had been injured in practice and might miss the big one.

The story turned out to be a phony.

The late Carl Husta must have been all of that, according to the testimonials that have come from many quarters since his untimely death.

Marty Barry, a member of the Original Celtics, paid great tribute to Husta as a competitor of such stature in a recent letter to Van Haver, the uptown barrister. Barry is now a practicing attorney.

"Carl was truly a contemporary of mine," Barry wrote, and our basketball careers paralleled quite closely. The year Carl broke in I was playing with Cohoes and it was that year, 1921-22, that I led the scoring during the first half and Benny Borgmann, Carl's teammate, led the scoring in the second.

"Later when I played with Rochester in the old American Basketball League, Carl played with Cleveland and we opposed each other many times, including the World Series championship in 1931, which was won by the Cleveland Rosenblums after a very bitter series.

"Carl's type of play was simplicity itself, which naturally made for perfection," Barry continues. "He was one of the hardest workers the game ever knew and was always in topnotch physical condition. This is probably due to the fact that in the times I knew him, to my knowledge, he never either drank or smoked. This was quite unusual, because most of us old pros, after the game was over, liked a stimulating drink or two before we ate our steak.

"One of the things a fellow remembers about Carl's type is the fact that there was very little squawking or complaining in his makeup. He played hard and expected hard play in return. What I am about to say may seem eulogistic, but I want you to believe it absolutely. In all the days I knew Carl, I never once heard any player or official utter one derogatory word in connection with Carl's conduct on or off the basketball court. And this is so in spite of the fact that I played on teams with men who knew him very well, fellows like George Artus, Nick Harvey, Benny Borgmann, Gaza Chizmadia, Lefty Kintzing, Tiny Hearn, Jimmy Clinton, Joe Lapchick, Johnny Beckman and also worked under his old manager, the late and beloved 'Pop' Morgenweck. . . ."

● Flotsam and Jetsam:

Tim Cohane, sports editor of Look, picks Kentucky as the top team in college basketball during the coming season. Assuming, of course, that Adolph Rupp doesn't take the gas pipe as the result of recent "fix" disclosures involving Alex Groza and Ralph Bearn, two of his all-time greats. Cohane also lists Dick Tyler, former Newburgh Academy ace, and now at North Carolina State, as one of the leading stars that will bear watching. Coach Sam Kalloch has been a bridesmaid in basketball, baseball and football since his return to the DUSO League. He loses 10 of his 11 starters in football in 1952, including those backfield wizards, Muzzy Wright and Leroy "Eggie" Johnson. Coach G. Warren Kias of KHS will campaign for a change in the DUSO basketball schedule. He urges a 14-game slate for conference play instead of the 14-or-15 setup now in use. "A standard 14-game league schedule would enable us to book two outside schools on a home-and-home basis and balance the home schedule," he says.

Aside to K.H.S. footballers: Thursday afternoon you'll get a chance to write your names into KHS football annals, as the greatest "upset" team in Maroon history. Thy to make the best of it.

Browns Set Sights On Seventh Title

Beat Giants, 10-0 Before 52,215 Fans

New York, Nov. 19 (AP) — The main interest in the National Football League today was in the National Conference race because for all intents and purposes the American bunting is all wrapped up by the Cleveland Browns.

For a while, it looked as though the New York Giants, a young and aggressive club, would give the Clevelanders a battle. But the issue was settled yesterday when Cleveland ground out a 10-0 victory over the Giants before a bumper crowd of 52,215 — the largest turnout for a pro football game at the Polo Grounds since 1946.

The Browns now have a 7-1-0 record and the second place Giants 5-2-1. Each has four games left to play, but at the rate the Browns have been going they'll have to collapse completely to lose out.

Jones Runs 68 Yards

The Giants, fighting to avert their first shutout since 1946, were stopped inches from the goal line in the closing seconds of the game.

In other games, the Chicago Cardinals upset the San Francisco 49ers, 27-21; Detroit defeated Philadelphia, 28-10; the Chicago Bears vanquished Green Bay, 24-13; Los Angeles routed the New York Yanks, 48-21, and Washington upended Philadelphia, 22-7.

The victories by the Bears and Rams left them in a tie for the National Conference lead, each with 6-2-0. They're followed closely by Detroit with 5-2-1. The Bears have the toughest proposition this week, facing the Browns. Los Angeles plays at Washington while the Lions entertain Green Bay Thanksgiving Day.

PROUD FATHER AND CHAMP SON

Paul Jones, of Philadelphia, points with pride to a photo of his son, Austin Jones, current light heavyweight boxing champion of western Europe. Jones, a former resident of Kingston, is a frequent visitor to the city. His son, Austin, is touted as one of the finest pugilistic prospects in the armed forces. At present he is serving with Company C, 370th Infantry Battalion, stationed in Munich, Germany. He is the present light heavyweight kingpin of the armed forces in Europe, the 1948 All-Army and Air Force World Wide champion; the current holder of the All-Army light-heavyweight championship and for the past two years holder of the light-heavyweight Britannia Shield championship. Since he started his career six years ago, he scored 154 victories in 159 fights as a welter, middle, and light-heavy. His father, Paul Jones, was an outstanding heavyweight prospect in his day and might have gone on to great heights but for an injury that ended his career. (Freeman Photo)

Princeton Win Over Yale Gives Tiger Fifth Straight 'Big Three' Pennant

New York, Nov. 19 (AP)—Princeton's ferocious Tigers will be on the prowl for their second straight title as the Ivy League season comes to a close on Saturday. All teams will see action.

Charlie Caldwell's Nassau eleven, possessing a 21-game winning streak and standing 5-0 in league competition, plays host to Dartmouth (2-3). The Tigers lead the second-place Columbia Lions by one game and need a triumph over Dartmouth to clinch the championship.

Columbia (4-1) entertains Brown (1-2) and the Lions can still gain a tie for the crown. In order for this to happen Princeton must lose to Dartmouth, while Columbia defeats the Bears.

Cornell (3-2) travels to Penn (2-1) and Harvard (1-4) visits Yale (0-5) in other traditional league finales.

Dick Kazmaier scintillated as usual in sparking Princeton to its fifth consecutive Big Three title as the Tigers clawed Yale, 27-0, Saturday.

Fifth Straight

This was the first time any team has captured the Big Three title five straight years and it also marked Princeton's fifth win in a row over the Bulldogs, another record.

The versatile Kazmaier passed for three touchdowns and scored once in gaining 132 yards rushing and 105 through the air. His total yardage for the season soared to 1,707 yards, a new eastern record. Ted Marchibroda of St. Bonaventure set the previous mark of 1,693 yards last year.

In league games last Saturday Cornell tripped Dartmouth, 21-13, and Harvard chalked up its first league triumph at the expense of Brown, 34-21.

Cornell capitalized on a pair of Dartmouth fumbles in the third period to score twice. Jack Jaeckel's 33-yard scoring pass to Bill Whelan proved to be the clincher for the Big Red.

In non-league contests Columbia bowed to Navy, 21-7, for the Midshipmen's first victory of the campaign, and Penn posted its first success over Army since 1942, shading the Cadets, 7-6.

Eastern League Approves Deals

Elmira, Nov. 19 (AP)—The sale of the Scranton, Pa., baseball franchise by the Boston Red Sox to Lou Baselise of Mt. Vernon has the authorization of the directors of the Eastern League.

The Class A league heads met here last night for the annual fall session.

They also approved the shift of the Wilkes-Barre, Pa., franchise to Reading, Pa. In another action, they voted to open next season's 140-game schedule April 23 and close it Sept. 7.

Rapp's Roll 3106 But Lose One Set

Hammerin' Hank Kemmerer rolled 245-205-628; Ken Williams 203-225-621; Harold Broskie 219-202-611.

George Baird shot 204-247-621 and Ed Rosell 236-207-615 for the visitors.

Can-Am League Postpones Action on '52 Plans Until Dec. Meeting

Colonials Withdraw; Some Want 8 Teams

The Kingston Colonials were out of the Class C Canadian-American Baseball League today, but the five remaining teams have postponed until Dec. 15 a decision on whether to continue operating.

Kingston Baseball Club, Inc., dropped out at yesterday's meeting in Schenectady.

Kingston's delegation was headed by General Manager Addison Jones, who was accompanied by Warren Smith and Herb Myers.

Some club officials at the annual meeting called for an eight-team league in 1952, but others, however, expressed doubt they could field teams next season.

The general impression was that the league is on the verge of breaking up, the Associated Press reported.

Want Eight Teams

The Gloversville-Johnstown club said it would stay in the circuit only if it were expanded to eight teams. Pittsfield, Mass., supported the eight-team idea.

The clubs remaining, in addition to Gloversville and Pittsfield, are Amsterdam, Oneonta and Rome.

Yankees Pull Out

The league was dogged by financial difficulties. All clubs suffered sharp drops in attendance and receipts.

County Judge Felix J. Aulisi, president of the Amsterdam club, said it was uncertain whether his club could operate next year, even if it obtained a working agreement with a major league team. He said the New York Yankees were returning the Amsterdam franchise to local interests and would not give them a working agreement.

Watertown and Auburn of the defunct Border League would like to join the Can-Am. Watertown was represented at yesterday's meeting by Ellsworth Haver. League President Albert E. Houghton said he had been approached by Auburn interests.

The directors, however, took no action.

Dr. J. I. Rochefort of Three Rivers, Que., said that city and Quebec might return to the Can-Am if it were reorganized into a strong league of four Canadian and four American teams.

The Canadian teams bowed out of the Can-Am this year to play in the Provincial League of Canada, but they have the option of returning by Dec. 15, when the Can-Am directors meet in Schenectady.

The league directors went through the motions of re-electing officers for the 1952 season.

President Albert E. Houghton was re-elected president.

Other officers named were:

First vice-president, Paul Tamburello, Pittsfield general manager; second vice-president, Dr. I. I. Kaplan, Rome president; treasurer, Dr. Leroy S. House, Oneonta president; recording secretary and publicity representative, John Halpin of Schenectady.

Baseball

San Francisco—Paul I. Fagan announced he plans to keep the San Francisco franchise in the Pacific Coast Baseball League. He previously has said he would sell the club.

Oneonta, N. Y. — Kingston dropped out of the Class C Canadian-American Baseball League and officials of five remaining clubs postponed until Dec. 15 a decision on whether to continue operation.

Chicago—Ben Hogan, National Open champion, named Golfer of the Year for the third time in the four-year history of the Professional Golfers Association's annual poll.

Johannesburg, South Africa—Vic Toweel of South Africa retained his world bantamweight title by outpointing Luis Romero of Spain.

Gorsline's 579 Leads Mixer

Bob Gorsline's 579, with 187-161-231, led the Ferraro Mixed League keglers last night, while Ed Haines' 178-105-162-445 was top score in the Pin Boy circuit.

John Healy was runnerup in the Ferraro Mixer with 202-543. Adabelle Markle paced the distaff department with 215-164-154-533. Other top scores included Fred Bruno's 200-521; Frank Vault 519; Dick Howard 514; Fred Ferraro 502; Jake Chichelsky and John Covey 205-497.

Second best in the Pin Boy loop was George Haines' 422 and F. Passer rolled 418 for the show spot.

First big smokescreen out of Newburgh on the forthcoming Kingston-Newburgh game was a report by "Bo" Gill that Don Jackson, the sensational Goldback, had been injured in practice and might miss the big one.

The story turned out to be a phony.

Jackson will be here running riot against a Kingston line that "will be reduced to shambles" (Bo Gill version) by the super-super NFA forward wall.

To be recognized as a ball player's ball player is the highest tribute that can be accorded any athlete.

The late Carl Husta must have been all of that, according to the testimonials that have come from many quarters since his untimely death.

Marty Barry, a member of the Original Celtics, paid great tribute to Husta as a competitor of such stature in a recent letter to Van Haver, the uptown barrister. Barry is now a practicing attorney.

"Carl was truly a contemporary of mine," Barry wrote, and our basketball careers paralleled quite closely. The year Carl broke in I was playing with Cohoes and it was that year, 1921-22, that I led the scoring during the first half and Benny Borgmann, Carl's teammate, led the scoring in the second.

"Later when I played with Rochester in the old American Basketball League, Carl played with Cleveland and we opposed each other many times, including the World Series championship in 1931, which was won by the Cleveland Rosenblums after a very bitter series.

"Carl's type of play was simplicity itself, which naturally made for perfection," Barry continues. "He was one of the hardest workers the game ever knew and was always in topnotch physical condition. This is probably due to the fact that in the times I knew him, to my knowledge, he never either drank or smoked. This was quite unusual, because most of us old pros, after the game was over, liked a stimulating drink or two before we ate our steak.

"One of the things a fellow remembers about Carl's type is the fact that there was very little squawking or complaining in his makeup. He played hard and expected hard play in return. What I am about to say may seem eulogistic, but I want you to believe it absolutely. In all the days I knew Carl, I never once heard any player or official utter one derogatory word in connection with Carl's conduct on or off the basketball court. And this is so in spite of the fact that I played on teams with men who knew him very well, fellows like George Artus, Nick Harvey, Benny Borgmann, Gaza Chizmadia, Lefty Kintzing, Tiny Hearn, Jimmy Clinton, Joe Lapchick, Johnny Beckman and also worked under his old manager, the late and beloved 'Pop' Morgenweck. . . ."

● Flotsam and Jetsam:

Tim Cohane, sports editor of Look, picks Kentucky as the top team in college basketball during the coming season. Assuming, of course, that Adolph Rupp doesn't take the gas pipe as the result of recent "fix" disclosures involving Alex Groza and Ralph Bearn, two of his all-time greats. Cohane also lists Dick Tyler, former Newburgh Academy ace, and now at North Carolina State, as one of the leading stars that will bear watching. Coach Sam Kalloch has been a bridesmaid in basketball, baseball and football since his return to the DUSO League. He loses 10 of his 11 starters in football in 1952, including those backfield wizards, Muzzy Wright and Leroy "Eggie" Johnson. Coach G. Warren Kias of KHS will campaign for a change in the DUSO basketball schedule. He urges a 14-game slate for conference play instead of the 14-or-15 setup now in use. "A standard 14-game league schedule would enable us to book two outside schools on a home-and-home basis and balance the home schedule," he says.

Aside to K.H.S. footballers: Thursday afternoon you'll get a chance to write your names into KHS football annals, as the greatest "upset" team in Maroon history. Thy to make the best of it.

Browns Set Sights On Seventh Title

Beat Giants, 10-0 Before 52,215 Fans

New York, Nov. 19 (AP) — The main interest in the National Football League today was in the National Conference race because for all intents and purposes the American bunting is all wrapped up by the Cleveland Browns.

This will come as no surprise, of course, since the Browns have made a habit of winning titles since they've been in professional football.

For a while, it looked as though the New York Giants, a young and aggressive club, would give the Clevelanders a battle. But the issue was settled yesterday when Cleveland ground out a 10-0 victory over the Giants before a bumper crowd of 52,215 — the largest turnout for a pro football game at the Polo Grounds since 1946.

The Browns now have a 7-1-0 record and the second place Giants 5-2-1. Each has four games left to play, but at the rate the Browns have been going they'll have to collapse completely to lose out.

Jones Runs 68 Yards

The Giants, fighting to avert their first shutout since 1946, were stopped inches from the goal line in the closing seconds of the game.

In other games, the Chicago Cardinals upset the San Francisco 49ers, 27-21; Detroit defeated Philadelphia, 28-10; the Chicago Bears vanquished Green Bay, 24-13; Los Angeles routed the New York Yanks, 48-21, and Washington upended Philadelphia, 22-7.

The victories by the Bears and Rams left them in a tie for the National Conference lead, each with 6-2-0. They're followed closely by Detroit with 5-2-1. The Bears have the toughest proposition this week, facing the Browns. Los Angeles plays at Washington while the Lions entertain Green Bay Thanksgiving Day.

The standings:

Bowl Pairings Set as College Teams Face Last Big Weekend

New York, Nov. 19 (AP) — The 1951 college football season heads into its final big week with almost as many major teams already assured of bowl berths as are on the unbeaten and untied list.

And it's highly possible that by sundown Saturday the situation will be reversed, for two of the six remaining with perfect records face really rugged opposition and a third will have its work cut out for it. Also, Saturday's results may give the four assured bowl teams some company.

Oddly enough, the two teams most likely to drop from the unbeaten slate — Tennessee and Stanford—already are assured of action in the Jan. 1 bowl bonanzas. Tennessee, which must meet 1951's comeback champions, the Kentucky Wildcats, is lined up for the Sugar Bowl, and Stanford, which must go against powerful California, clinched a Rose Bowl bid Saturday by whipping Oregon State, 35-14.

Princeton, the third unbeaten-untied team with a tough game Saturday, does not figure in the bowl picture because of an Ivy League agreement. The Tigers, with Saturday's 27-0 trouncing of Yale their 21st straight win, face Dartmouth, which always points for the season's finals for both teams.

Otherwise, the teams with all-winning records should conclude their seasons that way. Maryland, sound for the Sugar Bowl against Tennessee, is heavily favored over West Virginia, Michigan State, No. 1 team in the land, should romp over Colorado, and San Francisco should have no trouble against Loyla of Los Angeles next Sunday. Michigan State also is out of the bowl picture because of big 10 rules, but San Francisco is available.

Illinois In Big 10

Two games which share the limelight with the Tennessee-Kentucky and Stanford-California struggles should give some idea as to the other bowlers.

Illinois could clinch the big 10 title and subsequent Rose Bowl trip by beating — or tieing — Northwestern, and the winner of the Rice-Texas Christian game will take at least a temporary lead in the race for Southwest Conference honors and the role of host in the Cotton Bowl.

But, whoever wins, the Southwest Conference won't be settled —as usual—until the final day of the season, Dec. 1. Rice, now with a 3-1 conference record, plays Baylor (2-1-1) that day and Texas Christian (also 3-1) winds up against Southern Methodist. Baylor plays SMU this week, while Texas (3-2) winds up against Texas A. & M Nov. 29. Texas whipped TCU, 32-21, Saturday.

A somewhat similar condition would come up in the Big 10 if Illinois should lose to Northwestern—and the Illini have lost five straight to Northwestern. Illinois' conference record is 4-0-1 after the disappointing scoreless tie with Ohio State, and Wisconsin (4-1-1) has an easy foe Saturday in Minnesota. Likewise, Purdue (3-1) will be favored over Indiana. Wiscontin trounced Iowa Saturday, 34-7, while Purdue was edging Minnesota, 19-13. Northwestern clipped Michigan, 6-0.

Red Wings Hold Hockey Lead

(By The Associated Press)

The Chicago Black Hawks, who have been playing a game of hide-and-seek with the New York Rangers for the National Hockey League cellar, were back in fifth place today.

It took goalie Harry Lumley's first shutout of the campaign—a 1-0 job at the expense of the Toronto Maple Leafs last night—to turn the trick. Jim McFadden slapped the only goal of the game in the second session of the defensive game.

The victory gave the Black Hawks 12 points to 11 for the Rangers, who dropped a 5-2 decision to the League-leading Detroit Red Wings in New York. Big guns in the Red Wings' attack were Gordie Howe and Red Kelly, each of whom scored two goals.

Wally Hergesheimer and Don Raleigh notched the New York goals in a game that was closer than the score indicates. The winners did not tally their last goal until a few minutes before the end when Paul Pronovost shot an emptly Ranger net, after the New Yorkers had withdrawn Goalie Chuck Rayner.

Boston and Montreal played a 3-3 tie in Boston. The Canadiens had to come from behind twice to gain the deadlock and in the process they prevented Boston from winning its first home game after six tries.

Dunc Fischer scored two of the Bruins' goals and Lorne Ferguson the other. Dick Gamble and Bernard (Boom Boom) Geoffrion tallied the first two Montreal goals. Billy Reay got the other about nine minutes before the end.

Ben Hogan Named Golfer of Year

Chicago, Nov. 19 (AP)—Probably surprising exactly nobody, Ben Hogan, the little guy with the magic fairways touch, again has been named "Golfer of the Year."

The National Open champion got 164 votes, about 85 per cent of those cast, in the Professional Golfers' Association annual poll of sports writers and broadcasters.

It was the third time in the poll's four-year history the award went to Hogan. He was followed by Lloyd Mangrum, Skip Alexander, Cary Middlecoff and Jim Ferrier, in that order.

Hogan previously won the honor in 1948 and 1950, missing in 1949, in all probably, only because of a highway mishap that nearly took his life.

Lawsuit Delays Work on Major Area Ski Slope

A $97,500 lawsuit for damages filed in Ulster county by Harold B. Ring, of New York, internationally known figure, against the New York Central Railroad, is holding up plans for the building of the Onteora international ski hill at Phoenicia, it was learned today.

In his suit against the railroad, Ring charges that the New York Central has stopped him from being able to enter part of his property, which he had intended to use as a parking space for hundreds of automobiles.

Ring, who operates a ski shop in New York city, has been identified with skiing in the area for more than 25 years. He is represented in the litigation by Martin J. Rubin, of Phoenicia.

Plans reached the blueprint stage, Ring asserts, but then it was discovered that the NYCRR, which claimed it had the right to stop Ring from entering his property through a public road for decades, actually did stop Ring.

According to Ring, a large parking space is an absolute necessity for any ski slope that hopes to be host to large scale competitions.

"I have seen it many times—that it is the difference between success and failure to have good parking space for automobiles—and the worst part of it is that it is only a matter of 300 feet. It does not mean a thing to the New York Central Railroad to give me the right to my own property. It is just stubborness on their part," Ring's statement said.

Firemen Douse Lincolns, 57-51

Bruce Wilson and Ronnie Burger furnished a steady flow of baskets as the Esopus Firemen scored a notable 57-51 victory over the Lincoln Center, Saturday night on the Bridge City court.

Ahead 25-23 at halftime, the Firemen managed to stay in front all the way to shatter their Lincoln Center arena jinx.

Wilson topped the Firemen with 20 markers, while Burger accounted for 16. B. Maroney of the Lincolns was the individual scoring leader with 27 points.

Syracuse's Cervi Still Great Star

(By The Associated Press)

To look at Al Cervi you'd never think he made a living playing professional basketball. Thirty-four years old. Average build. A little bald spot in the back of his head.

But ask the players in the National Basketball Association about Cervi. Bald spot or no, they'll tell you he's a hustling, dynamic digger who fights for every point, every rebound.

Comebacking Al, one of the game's greatest all-time players, flipped in 26 points last night to lead Syracuse to a 71 to 68 victory over Baltimore.

It was the Nats' fourth victory in as many nights, and they appeared tired in winning. But Cervi's seven field goals and 12 fouls—the old guy has made 35 straight free tosses—carried his team through.

The win was doubly sweet for Syracuse, as its closest rival, Boston, was beaten by the New York Knickerbockers, 93 to 92. The Knicks blew a nine-point lead in the last minute at Boston but Ernie Vandeweghe's field goal with six seconds left saved the game for the New Yorkers.

Bowl Pairings Set as College Teams Face Last Big Weekend

New York, Nov. 19 (AP) — The 1951 college football season heads into its final big week with almost as many major teams already assured of bowl berths as are on the unbeaten and untied list.

And it's highly possible that by sundown Saturday the situation will be reversed, for two of the six remaining with perfect records face really rugged opposition and a third will have its work cut out for it. Also, Saturday's results may give the four assured bowl teams some company.

Oddly enough, the two teams most likely to drop from the unbeaten slate — Tennessee and Stanford—already are assured of action in the Jan. 1 bowl bonanzas. Tennessee, which must meet 1951's comeback champions, the Kentucky Wildcats, is lined up for the Sugar Bowl, and Stanford, which must go against powerful California, clinched a Rose Bowl bid Saturday by whipping Oregon State, 35-14.

Princeton, the third unbeaten-untied team with a tough game Saturday, does not figure in the bowl picture because of an Ivy League agreement. The Tigers, with Saturday's 27-0 trouncing of Yale their 21st straight win, face Dartmouth, which always points for the season's finals for both teams.

Otherwise, the teams with all-winning records should conclude their seasons that way. Maryland, sound for the Sugar Bowl against Tennessee, is heavily favored over West Virginia, Michigan State, No. 1 team in the land, should romp over Colorado, and San Francisco should have no trouble against Loyla of Los Angeles next Sunday. Michigan State also is out of the bowl picture because of big 10 rules, but San Francisco is available.

Illinois In Big 10

Two games which share the limelight with the Tennessee-Kentucky and Stanford-California struggles should give some idea as to the other bowlers.

Illinois could clinch the big 10 title and subsequent Rose Bowl trip by beating — or tieing — Northwestern, and the winner of the Rice-Texas Christian game will take at least a temporary lead in the race for Southwest Conference honors and the role of host in the Cotton Bowl.

But, whoever wins, the Southwest Conference won't be settled —as usual—until the final day of the season, Dec. 1. Rice, now with a 3-1 conference record, plays Baylor (2-1-1) that day and Texas Christian (also 3-1) winds up against Southern Methodist. Baylor plays SMU this week, while Texas (3-2) winds up against Texas A. & M Nov. 29. Texas whipped TCU, 32-21, Saturday.

A somewhat similar condition would come up in the Big 10 if Illinois should lose to Northwestern—and the Illini have lost five straight to Northwestern. Illinois' conference record is 4-0-1 after the disappointing scoreless tie with Ohio State, and Wisconsin (4-1-1) has an easy foe Saturday in Minnesota. Likewise, Purdue (3-1) will be favored over Indiana. Wiscontin trounced Iowa Saturday, 34-7, while Purdue was edging Minnesota, 19-13. Northwestern clipped Michigan, 6-0.

Red Wings Hold Hockey Lead

(By The Associated Press)

The Chicago Black Hawks, who have been playing a game of hide-and-seek with the New York Rangers for the National Hockey League cellar, were back in fifth place today.

It took goalie Harry Lumley's first shutout of the campaign—a 1-0 job at the expense of the Toronto Maple Leafs last night—to turn the trick. Jim McFadden slapped the only goal of the game in the second session of the defensive game.

The victory gave the Black Hawks 12 points to 11 for the Rangers, who dropped a 5-2 decision to the League-leading Detroit Red Wings in New York. Big guns in the Red Wings' attack were Gordie Howe and Red Kelly, each of whom scored two goals.

Wally Hergesheimer and Don Raleigh notched the New York goals in a game that was closer than the score indicates. The winners did not tally their last goal until a few minutes before the end when Paul Pronovost shot an emptly Ranger net, after the New Yorkers had withdrawn Goalie Chuck Rayner.

Boston and Montreal played a 3-3 tie in Boston. The Canadiens had to come from behind twice to gain the deadlock and in the process they prevented Boston from winning its first home game after six tries.

Dunc Fischer scored two of the Bruins' goals and Lorne Ferguson the other. Dick Gamble and Bernard (Boom Boom) Geoffrrion tallied the first two Montreal goals. Billy Reay got the other about nine minutes before the end.

Ben Hogan Named Golfer of Year

Chicago, Nov. 19 (AP)—Probably surprising exactly nobody, Ben Hogan, the little guy with the magic fairways touch, again has been named "Golfer of the Year."

The National Open champion got 164 votes, about 85 per cent of those cast, in the Professional Golfers' Association annual poll of sports writers and broadcasters.

It was the third time in the poll's four-year history the award went to Hogan. He was followed by Lloyd Mangrum, Skip Alexander, Cary Middlecoff and Jim Ferrier, in that order.

Hogan previously won the honor in 1948 and 1950, missing in 1949, in all probably, only because of a highway mishap that nearly took his life.

Lawsuit Delays Work on Major Area Ski Slope

A $97,500 lawsuit for damages filed in Ulster county by Harold B. Ring, of New York, internationally known figure, against the New York Central Railroad, is holding up plans for the building of the Onteora international ski hill at Phoenicia, it was learned today.

In his suit against the railroad, Ring charges that the New York Central has stopped him from being able to enter part of his property, which he had intended to use as a parking space for hundreds of automobiles.

Ring, who operates a ski shop in New York city, has been identified with skiing in the area for more than 25 years. He is represented in the litigation by Martin J. Rubin, of Phoenicia.

The Norwegian ski expert announced plans for the building of a ski slope capable of entertaining the Olmypic games more than a year ago.

Plans reached the blueprint stage, Ring asserts, but then it was discovered that the NYCRR, which claimed it had the right to stop Ring from entering his property through a public road for decades, actually did stop Ring.

According to Ring, a large parking space is an absolute necessity for any ski slope that hopes to be host to large scale competitions.

"I have seen it many times—that it is the difference between success and failure to have good parking space for automobiles—and the worst part of it is that it is only a matter of 300 feet. It does not mean a thing to the New York Central Railroad to give me the right to my own property. It is just stubborness on their part," Ring's statement said.

Syracuse's Cervi Still Great Star

(By The Associated Press)

To look at Al Cervi you'd never think he made a living playing professional basketball. Thirty-four years old. Average build. A little bald spot in the back of his head.

But ask the players in the National Basketball Association about Cervi. Bald spot or no, they'll tell you he's a hustling, dynamic digger who fights for every point, every rebound.

Cervi is player-coach of Syracuse, and one of the important reasons why the Nationals are pulling away from the field in the Eastern division is Cervi's brilliant play.

Comebacking Al, one of the game's greatest all-time players, flipped in 26 points last night to lead Syracuse to a 71 to 68 victory over Baltimore.

It was the Nats' fourth victory in as many nights, and they appeared tired in winning. But Cervi's seven field goals and 12 fouls—the old guy has made 35 straight free tosses—carried his team through.

The win was doubly sweet for Syracuse, as its closest rival, Boston, was beaten by the New York Knickerbockers, 93 to 92. The Knicks blew a nine-point lead in the last minute at Boston but Ernie Vandeweghe's field goal with six seconds left saved the game for the New Yorkers.

In the lone western division game, Rochester downed Fort Wayne, 76 to 71, in overtime. The win was Rochester's sixth in seven starts.

WANT-AD WONDERS Trade Mark

Want Ad Link In Kidnap Case That "Made The FBI"

By order of his kidnapers, friends of Charles Urschel ran a blind ad in the Oklahoma City Oklahoman Classified section July 27, 1933, as notice they were ready to arrange ransom. The kidnaping, solved by J. Edgar Hoover's then virtually unknown "G-men," has been called "the case that made the FBI."

Want Ad Link In Kidnap Case That "Made The FBI"

By order of his kidnapers, friends of Charles Urschel ran a blind ad in the Oklahoma City Oklahoman Classified section July 27, 1933, as notice they were ready to arrange ransom. The kidnaping, solved by J. Edgar Hoover's then virtually unknown "G-men," has been called "the case that made the FBI."

Section Nine Wins 'B' State Crown; Arlington's George Turner Sets Record

The meet was sponsored by the New York State Public High School Athletic Association.

Kingston High teamed with Newburgh Free Academy and Middletown High to cop the B sectional crown.

Section 8's Long Island schools combined to dethrone their hosts, Section 2 (Mont Pleasant), 124 to 218. Section I—Yonkers, Ossining and New Rochelle—was third at 331.

In winning the school title with 36 points, Mont Pleasant dethroned last year's king, Sewanaka of Long Island, which had 47. Amherst Central placed third with 94.

In the B sectional, Section 9 won with 217 points. Section 4—Binghamton and Norwich — was second with 265 and Seciton 1 third with 293.

Turner Sets Record

Turner eclipsed nearly three seconds of the time set by the A winner—John Cummings of Bayshore High. Cummings' mark was five seconds faster than the old record, giving Turner nearly eight seconds under the existing meet record.

Sewanaka's Bob Creysmuller and Bob Sullivan chased Cummings home, while Bruce Spears of Portsville Central was behind Turner.

Arlington won the B school title with 54 points to Gloversville's 86 and Monticello's 87.

Lake Katrine Man Arrested After Two Collisions

Kenneth Decker, 33, of Lake Katrine, was arrested Saturday on Fair street by Officer Gerald Every on a charge of driving while intoxicated.

The case was put over until Nov. 24 when he appeared today before City Judge Raymond J. Mino.

The police report at 5:30 p. m., Saturday said that the car which Decker was driving was involved in two collisions, one with a car owned by Mark McDonnell, of the Bronx, on North Front street, and the other on Fair street with a car owned by Allan Hughes, 235 Lucas avenue. Bail was fixed at $200.

George Woodworth, 24, of 92 Foxhall avenue, who was arrested Friday night on charges of assault second and third degree, was sentenced to four days in jail on the third degree assault charge, waived examination and was held for the grand jury on the other.

The first charge was preferred by the defendant's wife and the second by Officer Albert Eisele, who, charges that Woodworth inflicted injuries as he was being arrested.

Dewey Strategists

Dewey, defeated for the presidency in 1944 and 1948, and his brain trust apparently are determined to use every maneuver in the political strategists' handbook to line up New York's delegation, largest in the nation, behind Eisenhower.

One Dewey source put it this way recently: "We will control the delegation and don't think we won't."

One Republican state administration figure commented he had found traces of Taft sentiment among laboring people. "It will be a tough job to line up delegates for Eisenhower," he said.

The Republican leader who forecast 15 to 20 New York delegates for Taft remarked "if it were not for the fact that Dewey himself was a candidate for the nomination at the 1948 convention there would have been a good number of Taft delegates from New York."

Peter Wynne of the Bronx was the only member of the 1948 state delegation who did not support Dewey. He voted for Taft.

Two former New York Congressmen W. Kingsland Macy of Suffolk county and Hamilton Fish of Newburgh, have endorsed Taft. Both are bitter political enemies of Dewey.

Macy claimed Saturday there was "an awful lot of rank-and-file sentiment" for Taft in the state. He said it was ridiculous for Dewey to give the nation the "impression" all New York's delegates would vote for Eisenhower.

Harry J. Forhead, Erie (Buffalo) county GOP chairman who is at loggerheads with the Dewey organization, wouldn't comment. He has been mentioned as a possible leader of a Taft movement upstate.

An anti-Dewey Republican who declined to be quoted by name claimed a "terrific amount" of grass-root Republican support for Taft in Erie county. He also said he had heard of pro-Taft sentiment among Chautauqua, Cattaraugus and Niagara county Republicans.

Democrats Ask Resignation of All Leaders in State

The Affiliated Young Democrats of New York say the state organization has been "bankrupt" since 1946, and "is today not representative of our party."

The group's executive committee adopted yesterday a resolution asserting the leadership "has failed to recognize and meet the needs of the people, has been unwilling to develop or sponsor forceful and vigorous spokesmen for our party, has failed to purge the party of corrupt and dishonest elements."

The resolution, acted upon at the closing session of a two-day annual meeting, did not mention any leaders by name.

The Democratic state chairman, Paul E. Fitzpatrick, could not be reached for comment.

In other resolutions, the Young Democrats urged nomination of James A. Farley for U. S. Senator next year; recommended adoption of a code of ethics for public officials; accused the Republican state leadership of trying to "gerrymander" Democratic districts out of congressional representation; advocated "vigorous" measures to eliminate the narcotics traffic, and called upon the U. S. State Department to "spare no effort" to obtain the release of Associated Press Correspondent William Oatis from prison in Communist Czechoslovakia.

Animals Are Destroyed

London, Nov. 19 (AP)—A serious outbreak of foot and mouth disease in eastern England has forced the slaughter of 1,754 farm animals in five days. The movement of livestock has been banned in parts of 13 English counties. Eighteen outbreaks have been reported in the area since Wednesday. Diseased animals killed include 742 cattle, 566 sheep and 446 pigs, the Ministry of Agriculture reported today.

TO THE VOTERS OF THE 6th WARD

DAVID SCHECHTER, alderman

Judge Denounces

trations to take "direct control" of their sports programs, he recommended that the National Collegiate Athletic Association be reorganized.

This should be done, he said, to achieve "a true amateur code" which could be enforced by a "committee on grievances, expulsion and suspension."

It would act independently of the colleges, he said, would "have to impose sanctions, • • • sufficient force to police and investigate the activities of any of its members" and "ample financial provision to carry out the letter and spirit of this true amateur code."

Says Demands Eased

Charging that scholastic demands were eased on athletes, the judge said:

"At Oklahoma, one of the football players in his senior year was taking introduction to geography and loaded his program with theories of basketball, swimming games and volley ball."

He said that Sherman White, a star cager and one of the bribed players at Long Island University, took "music seminar, oil painting, rhythms and dance, public speaking and physical education" during his senior year.

Naming some of the top football powers, he said:

"The University of Texas grants 100 athletic scholarships a year. Texas A. and M. awards 120 athletic scholarships a year, and SMU (Southern Methodist University) awards 154 athletic scholarships."

To back his charge that sports has become big business, he said that football last year showed a $461,000 profit at the University of Pennsylvania, grossed over $1,200,000 at Kentucky, and $1,347,000 at Tennessee.

He said Tennessee spends $250,000 a year on its football program, $100,000 for scholarships, and added: "No big league baseball club has a superior scouting and recruiting system (than Tennessee)."

Alterations Seen

Concerning two City College of New York cage players, Alvin Roth and Herbert Cohen, both of whom have pleaded guilty to conspiracy, the judge said, their transfer records showed evidences of "alterations."

"I suggest," he said, "that in the cases of Roth and Cohen there was deliberate fraud and probable forgery."

He castigated the players as "professionals masquerading as amateurs."

He said that Roth, who helped sparked CCNY cage team to a double national championship in 1949, left high school 638th in a class of 816, with an average grade of 70.43, but a transcript at CCNY showed the average as 75.5 per cent.

The judge criticized the playing of college basketball at Madison Square Garden, the big sports arena where much of the bribery occurred.

Point Spread Shouted

"Gambling was rampant at the garden," he said. "The point spread," the margin by which gamblers wanted a game won or lost, was the factor that was fixed in most of the bribery payoffs.)

The judge said many of the cage players later arrested played summer basketball at mountain resorts, received "wages, huge tips and participated in gambling pools, made contact with gamblers and some earned as much as $1,500 to $2,000 for the summer."

Criticizes Bee

Coach Clair Bee of Long Island University was directly criticized by the judge.

"All of the players entrusted to the care of LIU were openly exploited in behalf of Mr. Bee and the university," the Judge said.

He noted that Bee's salary jumped from $3,000 in 1941 to $12,000 in 1950, and that the coach now holds professional rank and is a vice president of the university.

Topping, Wife Separate

New York, Nov. 19 (AP)—Daniel R. Topping, co-owner of the New York Yankees, and his fourth wife, former film actress Kay Sutton, have separated. J. Arthur Friendlund, general counsel for the baseball club, made the announcement last night. Friedlund said the Toppings have executed a property settlement.

The attorney said Mrs. Topping "undoubtedly" would start divorce proceedings in Palm Beach, Fla., within the next few months.

Section Nine Wins 'B' State Crown; Arlington's George Turner Sets Record

The meet was sponsored by the New York State Public High School Athletic Association.

Kingston High teamed with Newburgh Free Academy and Middletown High to cop the B sectional crown.

Section 8's Long Island schools combined to dethrone their hosts, Section 2 (Mont Pleasant), 124 to 218. Section I—Yonkers, Ossining and New Rochelle—was third at 331.

In winning the school title with 36 points, Mont Pleasant dethroned last year's king, Sewanaka of Long Island, which had 47. Amherst Central placed third with 94.

In the B sectional, Section 9 won with 217 points. Section 4—Binghamton and Norwich — was second with 265 and Seciton 1 third with 293.

Turner Sets Record

George Turner, the sensational Arlington High school runner, set a new meet record with a brilliant 11:11.8 performance in the Class B division.

Turner eclipsed nearly three seconds of the time set by the A winner—John Cummings of Bayshore High. Cummings' mark was five seconds faster than the old record, giving Turner nearly eight seconds under the existing meet record.

Sewanaka's Bob Creysmuller and Bob Sullivan chased Cummings home, while Bruce Spears of Portsville Central was behind Turner.

Arlington won the B school title with 54 points to Gloversville's 86 and Monticello's 87.

Lake Katrine Man Arrested After Two Collisions

Kenneth Decker, 33, of Lake Katrine, was arrested Saturday on Fair street by Officer Gerald Every on a charge of driving while intoxicated.

The case was put over until Nov. 24 when he appeared today before City Judge Raymond J. Mino.

The police report at 5:30 p. m., Saturday said that the car which Decker was driving was involved in two collisions, one with a car owned by Mark McDonnell, of the Bronx, on North Front street, and the other on Fair street with a car owned by Allan Hughes, 235 Lucas avenue. Bail was fixed at $200.

George Woodworth, 24, of 92 Foxhall avenue, who was arrested Friday night on charges of assault second and third degree, was sentenced to four days in jail on the third degree assault charge, waived examination and was held for the grand jury on the other.

The first charge was preferred by the defendant's wife and the second by Officer Albert Eisele, who, charges that Woodworth inflicted injuries as he was being arrested.

Dewey Strategists

Ohio senator's ideas on foreign policy would be dangerous for the country.

Dewey, defeated for the presidency in 1944 and 1948, and his brain trust apparently are determined to use every maneuver in the political strategists' handbook to line up New York's delegation, largest in the nation, behind Eisenhower.

One Dewey source put it this way recently: "We will control the delegation and don't think we won't."

One Republican state administration figure commented he had found traces of Taft sentiment among laboring people. "It will be a tough job to line up delegates for Eisenhower," he said.

The Republican leader who forecast 15 to 20 New York delegates for Taft remarked "if it were not for the fact that Dewey himself was a candidate for the nomination at the 1948 convention there would have been a good number of Taft delegates from New York."

Peter Wynne of the Bronx was the only member of the 1948 state delegation who did not support Dewey. He voted for Taft.

Two former New York Congressmen W. Kingsland Macy of Suffolk county and Hamilton Fish of Newburgh, have endorsed Taft. Both are bitter political enemies of Dewey.

Macy claimed Saturday there was "an awful lot of rank-and-file sentiment" for Taft in the state. He said it was ridiculous for Dewey to give the nation the "impression" all New York's delegates would vote for Eisenhower.

Harry J. Forhead, Erie (Buffalo) county GOP chairman who is at loggerheads with the Dewey organization, wouldn't comment. He has been mentioned as a possible leader of a Taft movement upstate.

An anti-Dewey Republican who declined to be quoted by name claimed a "terrific amount" of grass-root Republican support for Taft in Erie county. He also said he had heard of pro-Taft sentiment among Chautauqua, Cattaraugus and Niagara county Republicans.

Democrats Ask Resignation of All Leaders in State

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 19 (AP)—A group of Young Democrats demands the immediate resignation of the party's state leaders and reorganization of the party before the 1952 election.

The Affiliated Young Democrats of New York say the state organization has been "bankrupt" since 1946, and "is today not representative of our party."

The group's executive committee adopted yesterday a resolution asserting the leadership "has failed to recognize and meet the needs of the people, has been unwilling to develop or sponsor forceful and vigorous spokesmen for our party, has failed to purge the party of corrupt and dishonest elements."

The resolution, acted upon at the closing session of a two-day annual meeting, did not mention any leaders by name.

The Democratic state chairman, Paul E. Fitzpatrick, could not be reached for comment.

In other resolutions, the Young Democrats urged nomination of James A. Farley for U. S. Senator next year; recommended adoption of a code of ethics for public officials; accused the Republican state leadership of trying to "gerrymander" Democratic districts out of congressional representation; advocated "vigorous" measures to eliminate the narcotics traffic, and called upon the U. S. State Department to "spare no effort" to obtain the release of Associated Press Correspondent William Oatis from prison in Communist Czechoslovakia.

'Suggested' Treatment

Dr. Hazenbush testified that he had "suggested" that Kelly seek psychiatric treatment, although he did not use the word psychiatrist and did not press the point.

Before Dr. Hazenbush was called to the stand, a portion of testimony given at the previous trial by Mrs. Nora E. Hackett of Hackett's Sanitarium was read. This testimony indicated that Kelly was admitted to the sanitarium August 26, 1949, and was discharged August 29.

10 Witnesses Called

Kelly's defense called 10 witnesses Saturday morning to testify as to the defendant's actions prior to May 22, 1950, the day Mrs. Eloise McHugh was shot to death on Main street.

Two employes of Burgevin's, Inc., florist, testified that the Burgevin shop usually closed at 5 p. m. each day and that they would ride home, giving Mrs. McHugh a ride to her home at 92 Green street.

Percy M. Krom said he usually drove co-employes Frank VanDerburg and Mrs. McHugh home after work, first letting Mrs. McHugh out of his car, then taking VanDerburg to his home. VanDerburg's testimony followed that of Krom.

Mrs. Percy M. Krom testified that she had received a call from Kelly during which he said he would "blow her husband's brains out" if he didn't stop taking Mrs. McHugh home.

Patrolman Walter Van Steenburgh of the Kingston Police Department testified that on May 2, 1950, he was on duty and was called to Green street, where he found the defendant in a parked automobile, slumped over on the seat.

Van Steenburgh testified that he searched Kelly's automobile, at the "insistence" of Mrs. McHugh and with Kelly's permission. Mrs. McHugh said she believed Kelly had a gun in the car, but the search failed to disclose any such weapon at that time, Van Steenburgh said.

Talked to Self

John F. Mulligan, bartender at 596 Broadway in Kingston, said that Kelly visited his bar often during the three weeks prior to the shooting, and that he would stand with his back to the bar, talking to himself. Mulligan testified that Kelly played the song, "Daddy's Little Girl" over and over on the juke box, and that he made a number of telephone calls, but each time slammed the receiver down right after giving the number.

John H. Clair, vending machine operator, told of meeting Kelly in the Hurley Hotel bar about a month before the shooting and that Kelly at the time did very little talking.

Dr. George D. Pace of Saugerties said he was visited during office hours by Kelly in 1949, and that Kelly told him he wanted to give up drinking.

Prior to a five-minute recess at 11 a. m. Saturday, testimony was received from John E. Kelly, podiatrist, brother of the defendant, relative to dealings between the brothers over a $224 note owed by the defendant. Dr. Samual S. Nussbaum testified he treated Kelly on several occasions between 1945 and 1948, and Mrs. Bessie Otis, a practical nurse, testified Kelly was a patient at Hackett's Sanitarium in August, 1949.

Spectators Are Removed

Dr. Nussbaum's testimony was given in a court room cleared of spectators. The testimony concerned Kelly's complaint to the doctor that he had experienced a loss of sexual power.

The witnesses Saturday morning were called by Defense Attorneys Whitman Knapp and Howard C. St. John to give their reports on the defendant's actions prior to the shooting. The witnesses were asked, after relating their contacts with Kelly, whether they felt his actions impressed them as being "rational or irrational."

John Kelly, Clair and Mulligan all testified that in their opinions the defendant was acting in an "irrational" manner. Van Derburg, Krom and Van Steenburgh, when asked the question by District Attorney Louis G. Bruhn on cross-examination, said that during their contacts with the defendant at the time, he impressed them as being "rational."

The district attorney cross-examined several of the witnesses at length, and in the case of John Kelly the cross-examination led to several fiery exchanges between the attorneys. In an attempt to prove incredulity of the witness, Bruhn read three pages of John Kelly's testimony from the previous trial, over Knapp's repeated objections which were overruled by County Judge John M. Cashin.

Icy Air, Snow

and Oklahoma where temperatures were below 20 yesterday.

The 18-inch snowfall at Kane, Pa., is regular winter fare for the area and residents gave it lighthearted treatment. Not son, however, in Cleveland—or rather part of Cleveland. Three-foot snow drifts piled up in the southeastern section of the city, while on the other side of the town the snow barely topped a man's ankle.

The same heavy and light snow pattern was true in Pennsylvania. Pittsburgh had only a trace of snow, but Meadville, 90 miles to the north, had 15 inches.

Early morning temperatures today showed Eau Claire, Wis., one of the coldest spots with -1. Other readings were Duluth 2, International Falls, Minn., 1; New York 31, Chicago 18, Cincinnati 18, Los Angeles 53, New Orleans 38, Pendleton, Ore., 13, Amarillo, Tex., 30, Seattle 51.

Four Are Injured

Polesworth, England, Nov. 19 (AP)—Seven cars of a Glasgow to London night express train jumped the track here just before dawn today and the engine overturned. Four persons were injured. The derailed cars were held upright against the station platform.

Demands Are Rejected

New York, Nov. 19 (AP)—Two of the city's major private bus companies have formally rejected demands by the CIO Transport Workers Union (TWU) for a 40-hour week. The companies call the demand "a flagrant violation" of contract terms. The rejection was announced yesterday by John E. McCarthy, president of the Fifth Avenue Coach Company and of its affiliate, the New York City Omnibus Corporation. McCarthy said the union's demand for immediate action on a 40-hour week was "morally and legally indefensible" and a "grievous disservice to labor."

New Gold Strike

A new gold strike, assaying $400-$700 a ton, has skyrocketed the little California mining town of Sutter Creek out of its recent $17-a-ton doldrums. The strike was made at the nearby historic Central Eureka mine which began operations in 1869.
